ACT No. XII OF 1859.

An Act to make better provision for the trial of Pilots at the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal for breach of duty.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the law for the trial of persons employed in the Pilot Service of Government, at the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal, when accused of breach of duty, and to extend the same to persons licensed to act as Pilots at the said Presidency ; It is enacted as follows :—

Acts repealed.

I. Act XXIV of 1845 (for establishing a Court for the trial of Officers of the Pilot Service accused of breach of duty) and Act I of 1851 (for the appropriation of fines levied under Act XXIV. of 1845*)* are hereby repealed.

How Pilots accused of breach of duty shall be brought to trial.

II. When any person employed in the Pilot Service of Government at the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal, or licensed to act as a Pilot at the said Presidency, shall be accused of having committed any breach of duty while engaged in such Service, or acting under such license, and it shall appear to the Superintendent of Marine, or to the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal that such person ought to be brought to trial for such breach of duty, such person shall be brought to trial upon a charge or charges framed by the said Superintendent of Marine or such other person as the said Lieutenant-Governor shall direct, before a Court constituted under the provisions of this Act.

V. Every trial under this Act shall be held before the said Judge and a Jury composed of two Merchants of Calcutta, a Master of a Merchant Ship lying in the Port of Calcutta, and a Pilot of not less than twenty years' service.

Lists of Merchants and Pilots liable to serve on the Jury.

VI. The Judge shall cause to be prepared and shall keep two separate lists, one containing the names of Merchants, the other containing the names of Pilots, liable to serve on such Jury. The names in each list shall be arranged in alphabetical order, and the place of abode and quality or business of each person named shall be stated.

Notice to prosecutor and accused of time and place for appointing Jury.

VIII. At the time and place mentioned in the notice, the Judge in the presence of the prosecutor and the person accused shall read over the names which first occur in each of the said lists of those Merchants and Pilots who he has reason to believe are present in Calcutta and capable of attending as Jurors at the trial ; and shall also propose the name of a Master of a Merchant Ship lying in the Port of Calcutta, whom he deems qualified to serve on such Jury. If no objection be made and allowed, the persons so nominated shall be the Jury to serve at the trial. If the prosecutor or the party accused shall object to any of the persons named as Jurors, he shall assign the grounds of his objection and such objection shall forthwith be decided by the Judge. If such consent be not given, the place of the absent Juror shall be supplied by some other person selected by the Judge from the same profession or calling as the person originally summoned and who shall consent to serve, provided no objection to such person be made and allowed in manner aforesaid. If the parties or either of them do not consent that the trial shall be held before the Judge and such Jurors as may be in attendance and the place of the absent Juror cannot be supplied by a person consenting to serve, the trial shall be postponed to another day and the Judge shall either re-summon the same Jury or appoint and summon another Jury in the manner hereinbefore provided.

If workman neglect to perform work, on account of which he has received an advance of money, complaint may be made to the Magistrate.

I. When any Artificer, Workman, or Laborer shall have received from any Master or Employer resident or carrying on business in any Presidency Town, or in any station of the Settlement of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore, and Malacca, or from any person acting on behalf of such Master or Employer, an advance of money on account of any work which he shall have contracted to perform, or to get performed by any other Artificers, Workmen, or Laborers, if such Artificer, Workman, or Laborer shall wilfully and without lawful or reasonable excuse neglect or refuse to perform or get performed such work according to the terms of his contract, such Master or Employer or any such person as aforesaid may complain to a Magistrate of Police, and the Magistrate shall thereupon issue a summons or a warrant, as he shall think proper, for bringing before him such Artificer, Workman, or Laborer, and shall hear and determine the case.

Magistrate may order re-payment of advance or performance of contract.

II. If it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Magistrate that such Artificer, Workman, or Laborer has received money in advance from the complainant on account of any work, and has wilfully and without lawful or reasonable excuse neglected or refused to perform or get performed the same according to the terms of his contract, the Magistrate shall, at the option of the complainant, either order such Artificer, Workman, or Laborer to repay the money advanced, or such part thereof as may seem to the Magistrate just and proper, or order him to perform or get performed, such work according to the terms of his contract; and if such Artificer, Workman, or Laborer shall fail to comply with the said order, the Magistrate may sentence him to be imprisoned with hard labor for a term not exceeding three months, or if the order be for the repayment of a sum of money, for a term not exceeding three months, or until such sum of money shall be sooner repaid; provided that no such order for the repayment of any money shall, while the same remains unsatisfied, deprive the complainant of any Civil remedy by action or otherwise which he might have had but for this Act.

Penalty if workman fail to comply with the order.

Magistrate may require workman to give security for due performance of order.

III. When the Magistrate shall order any Artificer, Workman, or Laborer to perform or get performed any work according to the terms of his contract, he may also at the request of the complainant, require such Artificer, Workman, or Laborer to enter into a recognizance with sufficient security for the due performance of the order; and in default of his entering into such recognizance or furnishing such security to the satisfaction of the Magistrate, may sentence him to be imprisoned with hard labor for a period not exceeding three months.

To what contracts the Act extends.

IV. The word "contract," as used in this Act, shall extend to all contracts and agreements whether by deed, or written or verbal, and whether such contract be for a term certain, or for specified work, or otherwise.

ACT No. XI OF 1859.

An Act to improve the law relating to sales of Land for arrears of Revenue in the Lower Provinces under the Bengal Presidency.

WHEREAS it is expedient to discontinue the practice of obtaining the previous sanction of the Board of Revenue to sales of estates for arrears of revenue, or other demands of Government, in the Province of Cuttack: and whereas it is just that a person having a lien upon an estate, and paying the money necessary to protect it from sale for arrears of revenue, should be reasonably secured: and whereas it is expedient to afford sharers in estates, who duly pay their shares of the Sudder Jumma of their estates, easy means of protecting their shares from sale by reason of the default of their co-sharers: and whereas it is expedient to afford landholders, particularly absentees, facilities in guarding against the accidental sale of their estates for arrears of revenue by reason of the neglect or fraud of their agents: and whereas it is expedient to provide for the voluntary registration of dependent talooks existing at the time of settlement: and

Preamble.

whereas it is expedient to protect the holders of registered under-tenures created since the settlement, and not resumable by the grantors or their representatives, from loss by the avoidance of their tenures on the occasion of a sale of the superior estate for arrears of public revenue, when the arrears can be realized by such sale: and to give absolute security to such tenures by special registry, when shown to be held at rents sufficient for the security of the revenue: and it is therefore proper, for the above and other purposes, to improve the law relating to sales of land for arrears of revenue in the Provinces of Bengal, Behar, and Orissa: It is enacted as follows:—

Laws repealed

I. Regulation X. 1818 (relating to collection of the public revenue from proprietors and farmers of land in the District of Cuttack &c.) is hereby repealed; and from the date of the passing of this law, Act 1 of 1845 (regarding sales of land for arrears of Revenue), except in so far as it repeals other laws, and except in regard to sales made or advertised, to arrears and other demands realizable, and to suits commenced and acts done, under authority thereof—shall cease to have effect in the Lower Provinces of Bengal.

What is an arrear of revenue.

II. If the whole or a portion of a kist or instalment of any month of the era, according to which the settlement and kistbundee of any mehal have been regulated, be unpaid on the first of the following month of such era, the sum so remaining unpaid shall be considered an arrear of revenue.

Latest day of payment.

III. Upon the promulgation of this Act, the Board of Revenue at Calcutta shall determine upon what dates all arrears of revenue and all demands which by the Regulations and Acts in force are directed to be realized in the same manner as arrears of revenue, shall be paid up in each district under their jurisdiction, in default of which payment the estates in arrear in those districts, except as hereinafter provided, shall be sold at public auction to the highest bidder. And the said Board shall give notice of the dates so fixed in the official Gazette, and shall direct corresponding publication to be made as far as regards each district in the language of that district, in the office of the Collector or other officer duly authorized to hold sales under this Act, in the Courts of the Judge, Magistrate, (or Joint Magistrate, as the case may be,) and Moonsiffs, and at every Thannah station of that district; and the dates so fixed shall not be changed except by the said Board by advertisement and notification, in the manner above described, to be issued at least three months before the close of the official year preceding that in which the new date is, or dates are, to take effect.

In Sylhet, personal property liable to distress and sale.

IV. Provided that in the district of Sylhet, the Collector may be authorized by the Board of Revenue to proceed in the first instance by the distress and sale of the personal property of defaulters, instead of by the sale of their estates.

Proviso in the case of certain descriptions of arrear.

V. Provided always that no estate, and no share or interest in any estate, shall be sold for the recovery of arrears or demands of the descriptions mentioned below, otherwise than after a notification in the language of the district, specifying the nature and amount of the arrear or demand, and the latest date on which payment thereof shall be received, shall have been affixed for a period of not less than fifteen clear days preceding the date fixed for payment, according to Section III of this Act, in the office of the Collector or other officer duly authorized to hold sales under this Act, in the Court of the Judge within whose jurisdiction the land advertised lies, and in the Moonsiff's Court and Police Thannah of the division in which the estate or share of an estate to which the notification relates, is situated; or if the estate or share of an estate be situated within the jurisdiction of more than one Moonsiff's Court or Police Thannah, in some one or more of such Courts or Thannahs; and also at the cutcherry of the malgoozar or owner of the estate or share of an estate, or at some conspicuous place upon the estate or share of an estate, the same to be certified by the peon or other person employed for the purpose.

First.—Arrears other than those of the current year, or of the year immediately preceding.

Secondly.—Arrears due on account of estates other than that to be sold.

Thirdly.—Arrears of estates under attachment by order of any judicial authority, or managed by the Collector in accordance with such order.

Fourthly. Arrears due on account of tuccavee, poolbundee, or other demands not being land revenue, but recoverable by the same process as arrears of land revenue.

Notifications of sale to be issued, and no tender after latest day of payment to stop the sale.

VI. The Collector or other officer duly authorized to hold sales under this Act shall, as soon as possible after the latest day of payment fixed in the manner prescribed in Section III of this Act, issue notifications in the language of the district, to be affixed in his own Office and in the Court of the Judge of the district, specifying the estates or shares of estates which will be sold as aforesaid, and the day on which the sale of the same will commence, which day shall not be less than fifteen or more than thirty clear days from the date of affixing the notification in the Office of the Collector or other officer as aforesaid. And if the Government revenue of any estate or share of an estate to be sold, exceed the sum of five hundred Rupees, a notification of the sale of such estate or share of an estate shall be published in the official Gazette. Except as hereinafter provided, all estates or shares of estates so specified shall, on the day notified for sale, or on the day or days following be put up to public auction by and in the presence of the Collector or other officer as aforesaid, and shall be sold to the highest bidder. And no payment, or tender of payment, made after sunset of the said latest day of payment, shall bar or interfere with the sale, either at the time of sale or after its conclusion.

Notice to ryots, &c.

VII. Whenever an estate or share of an estate is notified for sale as provided by Section VI of this Act, the Collector or other officer as aforesaid shall affix a proclamation in the language of the district in his own Office, and as soon thereafter as may be in the Moonsiff's Courts and Police Thannahs within which the estate or share of an estate, or any part of it, is situated, and also at the cutcherry of the malgoozar or the owner of the estate or share of an estate, or at some conspicuous place upon the estate or share of an estate forbidding the ryots and under-tenants to pay to the defaulting proprietor any rent which has fallen due after the day fixed for the last day of payment, on pain of not being entitled to credit in their accounts with the purchaser for any sums so paid.

Claims against Government held by a defaulter not to invalidate a sale.

VIII. No claim to abatement or remission of revenue unless the same shall have been allowed by the authority of Government, and no private demand or cause of action whatever held or supposed to be held by any defaulter against Government, shall bar or render void or voidable a sale under this Act; nor shall the plea that money belonging to the defaulter, and sufficient to pay the arrear of revenue due, was in the Collector's hands, bar or render void or voidable a sale under this Act, unless such money stand in the defaulter's name alone and without dispute, and unless, after application in due time made by the defaulter, or after the written agreement provided for in Section XV of this Act, the Collector shall have neglected, or refused on insufficient grounds, to transfer it on payment of the arrear of revenue due.

Deposits receivable from persons not proprietors.

IX. The Collector or other Officer as aforesaid shall, at any time before sunset of the latest day of payment determined according to Section III of this Act, receive as a deposit from any person not being a proprietor of the estate or share of an estate in arrear, the amount of the arrear of revenue due, to be credited in payment of the arrear at sunset as aforesaid, unless before that time the arrear shall have been paid by a defaulting proprietor of the estate. And in case the person so depositing, whose money shall have been credited in the manner aforesaid, shall be a party in a suit pending before a Court of Justice for the possession of the estate or share from which the arrear is due, or any part thereof, it shall be competent to the said Court to order the said party to be put into temporary possession of the said estate or share, or part thereof, subject to the rules in force for taking security in the cases of parties in Civil suits. And if the person so depositing, whose money shall have been credited as aforesaid, shall prove before a competent Civil Court that the deposit was made in order to protect an interest of the said person, which would have been endangered or damaged by the sale, or which he believed in good faith would have been endangered or damaged by the sale, he shall be entitled to recover the amount of the deposit, with or without interest as the Court may determine, from the defaulting proprietor. And if the party so depositing, whose money shall have been credited as aforesaid, shall prove before such a Court that the deposit was necessary in order to protect any lien he had on the estate, or share, or part thereof, the amount so credited shall be added to the amount of the original lien.

Separation of shares held in common.

X. When a recorded sharer of a joint estate, held in common tenancy, desires to pay his share of the Government revenue separately, he may submit to the Collector a written application to that effect. The application must contain a specification of the share held in the estate by the applicant. The Collector shall then cause to be published in his own Office in the Courts of the Judge, Magistrate (or Joint Magistrate, as the case may be), and Moonsiffs, and in the Police Thannahs in whose jurisdiction the estate or any part thereof is situated, as well as on some conspicuous part of the estate itself, a copy of the application made to him. If within six weeks from the date of the publication of these notices, no objection is made by any other recorded sharer, the Collector shall open a separate account with the applicant, and shall credit separately to his share all payments made by him on account of it. The date on which the Collector records his sanction to the opening of a separate account, shall be held to be that from which the separate liabilities of the share of the applicant commence.

Separation of shares consisting of specific portions of land.

XI. When a recorded sharer of a joint estate, whose share consists of a specific portion of the land of the estate, desires to pay his share of the Government revenue separately, he may submit to the Collector a written application to that effect. The application must contain a specification of the land comprised in his share, and of the boundaries and extent thereof, together with a statement of the amount of sudder jumma heretofore paid on account of it. On the receipt of this application, the Collector shall cause it to be published in the manner prescribed for publication of notice in the last preceding Section. In the event of no objection being urged by any recorded co-sharer within six weeks from the time of publication, the Collector shall open a separate account with the applicant, and shall credit separately to his share all payments made by him on account of it. The date on which the Collector records his sanction to the opening of a separate account, shall be held to be that from which the separate liabilities of the share of the applicant commence.

If objection be made, parties to be referred to the Civil Court.

XII. If any recorded proprietor of the estate, whether the same be held in common tenancy or otherwise, object that the applicant has no right to the share claimed by him, or that his interest in the estate is less or other than that claimed by him, or if the application be in respect of a specific portion of the land of an estate, that the amount of sudder jumma stated by the applicant to have been heretofore paid on account of such portion of land is not the amount which has been recognized by the other sharers as the jumma thereof, the Collector shall refer the parties to the Civil Court, and shall suspend proceedings until the question at issue is judicially determined.

Sale of separate shares.

XIII. Whenever the Collector shall have ordered a separate account or accounts to be kept for one or more shares, if the estate shall become liable to sale for arrears of revenue, the Collector or other officer as aforesaid in the first place shall put up to sale only that share or those shares of the estate from which, according to the separate accounts, an arrear of revenue may be due. In all such cases notice of the intention of excluding the share or shares from which no arrear is due, shall be given in the advertisement of sale prescribed in Section VI of this Act. The share or shares sold, together with the share or shares excluded from the sale, shall continue to constitute one integral estate, the share or shares sold being charged with the separate portion or the aggregate of the several separate portions of jumma assigned thereto.

XIV. If in any case of a sale held according to the provisions of the last preceding Section, the highest offer for the share exposed to sale shall not equal the amount of arrear due thereupon to the date of sale, the Collector or other officer as aforesaid shall stop the sale, and shall declare that the entire estate will be put up to sale for arrears of revenue at a future date, unless the other recorded sharer or sharers, or one or more of them, shall within ten days purchase the share in arrear by paying to Government the whole arrear due from such share. If such purchase be completed, the Collector or other officer as aforesaid shall give such certificate and delivery of possession as are provided for in Sections XXVIII and XXIX of this Act, to the purchaser or purchasers, who shall have the same rights as if the share had been purchased by him or them at the sale. If no such purchase be made within ten days as aforesaid, the entire estate shall be sold, after notification for such period and publication in such manner as is prescribed in Section VI of this Act.

Entire estate may be sold under certain conditions.

XV. If any recorded proprietor or co-partner of an estate shall deposit with the Collector money, or Government securities endorsed and made payable to the order of the Collector, and shall sign an agreement pledging the same to Government by way of security for the jumma of the entire estate, and authorizing the Collector to apply to the payment of any arrear of revenue that may become due from that estate the whole or any portion of the said money or securities that may be necessary for that purpose, then in the case of any arrear of revenue due from the said estate not being paid before sunset of the latest day of payment fixed under Section III of this Act, the Collector shall apply to the payment of such arrear the said money or securities, or such part thereof or of any interest due on the said securities as may be necessary; and for this purpose the Collector shall first apply any money that may be in his hands and any interest that may be due upon such securities, and may then sell and transfer the securities for any balance that may remain. And so long as any money or securities as aforesaid, sufficient to cover any arrear that may fall due, shall remain and be available as aforesaid, the estate for the protection of which the said deposit was made shall be exempted from sale for arrears of revenue. All monies and securities so deposited shall be exempt from attachment, otherwise than in execution of a decree of a Civil Court.

Deposit for the protection of an estate from sale.

XVI. It shall be competent to the person making a deposit under the provision of the last preceding Section, or his representative or assignee, at any time to withdraw the deposit, and to revoke the pledge of the same.

And no estate held under attachment by the revenue authorities otherwise than by order of a judicial authority, shall be liable to sale for arrears accruing whilst it was so held under attachment. And no estate held under attachment or managed by a Revenue Officer, in pursuance of an order of a judicial authority, shall be liable to sale for the recovery of arrears of revenue accruing during the period of such attachment, or management until after the end of the year in which such arrears accrued.

Estates under Court of Wards or attachment.

XVIII. It shall be competent to the Collector, or other Officer as aforesaid, at any time before the sale of an estate or share of an estate shall have commenced, to exempt such estate or share from sale; and in like manner it shall be competent to the Commissioner of Revenue, at any time before the sale of an estate or share of an estate shall have commenced, to exempt such estate or share from sale, by a special order to the Collector or other officer as aforesaid to that effect in each case; and no such sale shall be legal if held after the receipt of such order of exemption. Provided, however, and it is hereby enacted, that the Collector or other officer as aforesaid or the Commissioner shall duly record in a proceeding the reason for granting such exemption; and provided also that an order for exemption so issued by the Commissioner shall not affect the legality of a sale which may have taken place before the receipt by the Collector or other officer as aforesaid of the order of exemption.

Estates may be specially exempted from sale.

Proviso.

XIX. Sales shall ordinarily be made by the Collector or other officer as aforesaid in the land revenue office at the Sudder Station of the District; provided, however, that it shall be competent to the Board of Revenue to prescribe a place for holding sales other than such office, whenever they shall consider it beneficial to the parties concerned.

Sales where to be made.

XX. In case the Collector or other officer as aforesaid shall be unable from sickness, from the occurrence of a holiday, or from any other cause, to commence the sale on the day of sale fixed as aforesaid; or if, having commenced it, he be unable, from any cause, to complete it; he shall be competent to adjourn it to the next day following, not being Sunday or other close holiday, recording his reasons for such adjournment, forwarding a copy of such record to the Commissioner of Revenue, and announcing the adjournment by a written proclamation stuck up in his cutcherry; and so on, from day to day, until he shall be able to commence upon, or to complete the sale; but, with the exception of adjournments so made, recorded, and reported, each sale shall invariably be made on the day of sale fixed in the manner aforesaid.

Adjournment of sales.

XXI. On the day of sale fixed according to Section VI of this Act, sales shall proceed in regular order; the estate to be sold bearing the lowest number on the towjee or register in use in the Collector's office of the district being put up first, and so on, in regular sequence; and it shall not be lawful for the Collector or other officer as aforesaid to put up any estate out of its regular order by number, except where it may be necessary to do so on default of deposit, as provided in Section XXII of this Act.

Order of selling.

Deposit on account of purchase money.

XXII. The party who shall be declared the purchaser of an estate or share of an estate at any such public sale as aforesaid, shall be required to deposit immediately or as soon after the conclusion of the sale of the estate or share as the Collector or other officer as aforesaid may think necessary, either in cash, Bank of Bengal Notes or Post Bills, or Government Securities to be valued at the market rate of the day, duly endorsed, twenty-five per cent. on the amount of his bid; and in default of such deposit, the estate or share shall forthwith be put up again and sold.

Full payment of purchase money.

XXIII. The full amount of purchase money shall be made good by the purchaser before sunset of the thirtieth day from that on which the sale of the estate or share of an estate bought by him took place, reckoning that day as one of the thirty; or if the thirtieth day be a Sunday or other close holiday, then on the first office day after the thirtieth: and in default of payment within the prescribed period as aforesaid, the deposit shall be forfeited to Government, the estate or share shall be resold, and the defaulting purchaser shall forfeit all claim to the estate or share, or to any part of the sum for which it may subsequently be sold. And in the event of the proceeds of the sale which may be eventually consummated being less than the price bid by the defaulting bidder aforesaid, the difference shall be leviable from him by any process authorized for realizing an arrear of public revenue, and such difference shall be taken and considered to be a part of the purchase money and shall be dealt with in the manner hereinafter prescribed for the disposal thereof.

Re-sale.

XXIV. When default is made in the payment of purchase money a notification of the intended re-sale shall be published for the period and in the manner prescribed in Section VI of this Act, but such notification shall not be published until the expiration of three clear days after the day on which the default shall have occurred and if the payment or tender of payment of the arrear on account of which the estate or share was first sold, and of any arrear which may have subsequently become due shall be made by or on behalf of the proprietor of the estate or share before sunset of the third day, the issue of the notification of re-sale shall be stayed. The rules contained in the last preceding Section shall be applicable to every such re-sale. Provided that, if default of payment of purchase money shall occur more than once, the amount to be recovered from the defaulting bidders shall be the difference between the highest bid and the proceeds of the sale eventually consummated, which amount may be levied in manner aforesaid from any of the defaulting bidders to the extent of the amount by which his bid exceeds the amount realized.

Appeals.

XXV. It shall be lawful for the Commissioner of Revenue to receive an appeal against any sale made under this Act, if preferred to him on or before the fifteenth day from the date of sale, reckoning as in Section XXIII, or if preferred to the Collector or other Officer as aforesaid for transmission to the Commissioner, on or before the tenth day from the day of sale, and not otherwise; and the Commissioner shall be competent in every case of appeal so preferred to annul any sale of an estate or share of an estate made under this Act, which shall appear to him not to have been conducted according to the provisions of this Act, awarding at the same time to the purchaser a payment from the proprietor of any moderate compensation for his loss, if the sale shall have been occasioned by neglect of the proprietor, such compensation not to exceed the interest, at the highest rate of the current Government Securities, on the amount of deposit or balance of purchase money during the period of its being retained in the Collector's office; and the order of the Commissioner shall in such cases be final.

Annulment of sale in special cases.

XXVI. It shall be competent to the Commissioner of Revenue, on the ground of hardship or injustice, to suspend the passing of final orders in any case of appeal from a sale, and to represent the case to the Board of Revenue, who, if they see cause, may recommend to the local Government to annul the sale; and the local Government in any such case may annul the sale and cause the estate or share of an estate to be restored to the proprietor on such conditions as may appear equitable and proper

XXVII. All sales of which the purchase money has been paid up as prescribed in Section XXIII of this Act, and against which no appeal shall have been preferred, shall be final and conclusive at noon of the thirtieth day from the day of sale, reckoning the said day of sale as the first of the said thirty days. And sales against which an appeal may have been preferred, and dismissed by the Commissioner, shall be final and conclusive from the date of such dismissal, if more than thirty days from the day of sale, or if less, then at noon of the thirtieth day as above provided.

Certificate of sales.

XXVIII. Immediately upon a sale becoming final and conclusive, the Collector or other Officer as aforesaid shall give to the purchaser a certificate of title in the form prescribed in Schedule A annexed to this Act. And the said certificate shall be deemed in any Court of Justice sufficient evidence of the title to the estate or share of an estate sold being vested in the person or persons named from the date specified; and the Collector shall also notify such transfer by written proclamation in his own office, and in the Courts of the Moonsiffs and Police Thannahs within whose jurisdictions any part of the estate or share sold shall be situated.

Delivery of possession.

XXIX. The Collector or other officer as aforesaid shall order delivery of possession of the estate or share purchased to be made by removing any person who may refuse to vacate the same, and by proclamation to the occupants of the property by beat of drum or in such other mode as may be customary, at some convenient place or places; and by affixing a copy of the certificate at the Mal cutchery or in some conspicuous place of the estate or share of an estate purchased.

Application of purchase money.

XXXI. The Collector shall apply the purchase money first to the liquidation of all arrears due upon the latest day of payment from the estate or share of an estate sold; and secondly to the liquidation of all outstanding demands debited to the estate or share of an estate in the public accounts of the District; holding the residue, if any, in deposit on account of the late recorded proprietor or proprietors of the estate or share of an estate sold or their heirs or representatives to be paid to his or their receipt on demand in the manner following: to wit, in shares proportioned to their recorded interest in the estate or share of an estate sold, if such distinction of shares were recorded, or if not, then as an aggregate sum to the whole body of proprietors upon their joint receipt. And if before payment to the late proprietor or proprietors of any surplus that may remain of the purchase money, the same be claimed by any creditor in satisfaction of a debt, such surplus shall not be payable to such claimant, nor shall it be withheld from the proprietor, except under precept of a Civil Court.

Notification of annulment of sale.

XXXII. The annulment by a Commissioner or by Government of a sale made under this Act shall be publicly notified by the Collector or other officer as aforesaid, in the same manner as the becoming final and conclusive of sales is required to be notified by Section XXVII of this Act; and the amount of deposit and balance of purchase money shall be forthwith returned to the purchaser with interest thereon at the highest rates of the current public securities; which shall be paid by the Government, unless the proprietor shall have become liable for the same under the provisions of Section XXV or Section XXVI of this Act.

Jurisdiction of Civil Courts in suits to annul sales.

XXXIII. No sale for arrears of revenue or other demands realizable in the same manner as arrears of revenue are realizable, made after the passing of this Act, shall be annulled by a Court of Justice, except upon the ground of its having been made contrary to the provisions of this Act, and then only on proof that the plaintiff has sustained substantial injury by reason of the irregularity complained of: and no such sale shall be annulled upon such ground, unless such ground shall have been declared and specified in an appeal made to the Commissioner under Section XXV of this Act: and no suit to annul a sale made under this Act shall be received by any Court of Justice unless it shall be instituted within one year from the date of the sale becoming final and conclusive as provided in Section XXVII of this Act: and no person shall be entitled to contest the legality of a sale, after having received any portion of the purchase money.

Proviso.

Provided, however, that nothing in this Act contained shall be construed to debar any person considering himself wronged by any act or omission connected with a sale under this Act, from his remedy in a personal action for damages against the person by whose act or omission he considers himself to have been wronged.

Effects of annulment by decree of Court of sales under this Act.

XXXIV. If a sale made under this Act be annulled by a final decree of a Civil Court, application for the execution of such decree shall be made within six months after the date thereof; otherwise the party in whose favor such decree was passed shall lose all benefit therefrom. And no order for restoring such decreeholder to possession shall be passed until any amount of surplus purchase money that may have been paid away by order of a Civil Court be repaid by him, with interest at the highest rate of the current Government Securities. And if such party shall neglect to pay any amount so recoverable, within six months from the date of such final decree, he shall lose all benefit therefrom.

If sale annulled, purchase money to be refunded.

XXXV. In the event of a sale being annulled by a final decree of a Court of Justice, and the former proprietor being restored to possession, the purchase money shall be refunded to the purchaser by Government, together with interest at the highest rate of the current public securities.

No suits on the ground of benamee purchase.

XXXVI. Any suit brought to oust the certified purchaser as aforesaid, on the ground that the purchase was made on behalf of another person not the certified purchaser, or on behalf partly of himself and partly of another person, though by agreement the name of the certified purchaser was used, shall be dismissed with costs.

Rights of a purchaser of a permanently settled estate sold for its own arrears.

XXXVII. The purchaser of an entire estate in the permanently settled Districts of Bengal, Behar, and Orissa, sold under this Act for the recovery of arrears due on account of the same shall acquire the estate free from all encumbrances which may have been imposed upon it after the time of settlement; and shall be entitled to avoid and annul all under-tenures and forthwith to eject all under-tenants, with the following exceptions:

First. Istemraree or mokurreree tenures which have been held at a fixed rent from the time of the permanent settlement.

Secondly. Tenures existing at the time of settlement, which have not been held at a fixed rent. Provided always that the rents of such tenures shall be liable to enhancement under any law for the time being in force for the enhancement of the rent of such tenures.

Thirdly. Talookdaree and other similar tenures created since the time of settlement, and held immediately of the proprietors of estates; and farms for terms of years so held, when such tenures and farms have been duly registered under the provisions of this Act.

Fourthly. Leases of lands whereon dwelling houses, manufactories, or other permanent buildings have been erected, or whereon gardens, plantations, tanks, wells, canals, places of worship, or burning or burying grounds have been made, or wherein mines have been sunk.

And such a purchaser as is aforesaid shall be entitled to proceed in the manner prescribed by any law for the time being in force for the enhancement of the rent of any land coming within the fourth class of exceptions above made, if he can prove the same to have been held at what was originally an unfair rent, and if the same shall not have been held at a fixed rent, equal to the rent of good arable land, for a term exceeding twelve years; but not otherwise.

Proviso.

Provided always, that nothing in this Section contained shall be construed to entitle any such purchaser as aforesaid to eject any ryot, having a right of occupancy at a fixed rent or at a rent assessable according to fixed rules under the laws in force, or to enhance the rent of any such ryot otherwise than in the manner prescribed by such laws, or otherwise than the former proprietor, irrespectively of all engagements made since the time of settlement, may have been entitled to do.

Registration of talookdaree tenures created after settlement and held for terms of years.

XXXVIII. The following rules for the registration of talookdaree and other similar tenures created since the time of settlement, and held immediately of the proprietors of estates and of farms for terms of years so held, shall be observed.

7. The name of the proprietor who created the tenure.
8. The name of the original holder of the tenure.
9. The name of the present possessor, and if he be not the original holder, the mode in which he succeeded to the tenure, whether by inheritance, gift, purchase, or otherwise, and whether he holds jointly or solely.

Holders of such farms as are described in the said Section may apply in like manner for registry of the same. The application shall contain such of the foregoing particulars as are applicable to farms.

Procedure on application for common registry.

XLI. When the application is for common registry, the Collector shall serve a notice on the recorded proprietor or proprietors of the estate in which the tenure or farm is situated, or the authorized agent of such proprietor or proprietors, with a copy of the application annexed; and shall cause a notice, with a copy of the application annexed, to be affixed in his office, and at the mal-cutcherry of the estate in which the tenure or farm is situated, or in such other place or places as in the opinion of the Collector may be best suited to give publicity to the application, requiring the proprietor or any party interested, within thirty days from the issue of the said notice, to file any objections he may have to the registry of the tenure or farm, or to any statement contained in the application. If within the limited time no objection is made, the Collector shall register the tenure or farm. If within the limited time an objection is made by any recorded proprietor, or by any party interested not being a proprietor, the Collector shall examine the person so objecting or his authorized agent, and if it shall appear to him that such person has probable ground of objection, the Collector shall suspend proceedings, and shall refer the parties to the Civil Court, otherwise he shall grant the application. If the decision of the Civil Court be in favor of the applicant, the Collector, on the presentation of a copy of the final decree, shall register the tenure or farm.

Procedure on application for special registry.

XLII. When the application is for special registry, the Collector shall serve and issue the notices prescribed in the last preceding Section. If within the limited time no objection is made, the Collector shall cause any enquiry that he may deem necessary for the security of the Government revenue, to be made; and if he is satisfied that the Government revenue of the parent estate is sufficiently secured so far as it may be affected by the tenure or farm in question, he shall report the case to the Commissioner, who, if also satisfied on that point, shall direct the tenure or farm to be registered according to the application. Otherwise the application shall be rejected. If within the limited time any recorded proprietor or any party interested not being a proprietor object to the registry, the Collector shall examine the person so objecting or his authorized agent, and if it shall appear to him that such person has probable ground of objection, shall suspend proceedings, and shall refer the parties to the Civil Court, otherwise he shall proceed as if no objection had been made. If the decision of the Civil Court be in favor of the applicant, the Collector, on the presentation of a copy of the final decree, shall proceed as above provided for cases in which no objection is made within the limited time.

XLIII. Leases of lands of the description specified in the fourth exceptional class in Section XXXVII, may be registered, at the option of the holders, in the manner and under the rules hereinbefore provided for the registry of Talookdaree and other similar tenures.

If within the limited time no objection is made by any recorded proprietor or by any party interested not being a proprietor, the Collector shall make such inquiries as may be necessary to satisfy him as to the validity of the tenure; and if the result be to satisfy him that the tenure is valid, he shall report the case to the Commissioner, who, if also satisfied that the tenure is valid, shall direct it to be entered in the special register. Otherwise the application for registry shall be rejected. If within the limited time any recorded proprietor or other party as aforesaid object to the registry of the tenure, the Collector shall examine the person so objecting or his authorized agent, and if it shall appear to him that such person has probable ground of objection, shall suspend proceedings, and refer the parties to the Civil Court, otherwise he shall proceed as if no objection had been made. If the decision of the Civil Court be in favor of the applicant, the Collector, on the presentation of a copy of the final decree, shall proceed as above provided for cases in which no objection is made within the limited time. Provided always that nothing contained in this Section shall be understood as rendering registration necessary for the protection of bonâ fide tenures of the description herein referred to.

The order of a Commissioner for the special registry of a tenure under the provisions of this Act, shall be open at any time within one year from the date of registry to revision by the Board of Revenue, or the local Government, on the ground of the Government Revenue not having been sufficiently secured or of the invalidity of the tenure, as the case may be.

Proceedings of Revenue Authorities in the registration of tenures, &c.

L. Entry in the special register shall be an effectual protection of the tenure or farm so registered, unless in a suit instituted by Government in a Civil Court within the period allowed for suits for the recovery of the public revenue a decree be passed pronouncing the registration to have been obtained by fraud, to the injury of the Government revenue. Provided that a tenure or farm in the hands of a bonâ fide purchaser for value shall not be avoided by reason of such fraud. But the tenure or farm shall be liable to such amount of rent as would have been fair and equitable at the time of the special registry thereof, such amount to be fixed by the Collector.

Effect of entry in the special register.

LI. Tenures and farms of the third exceptional class described in Section XXXVII of this Act, for the special registration of which application shall be made within the prescribed time, and in respect of which the Collector shall have commenced the enquiry prescribed in Section XLII, shall, in case of the sale of the parent estate for arrears of revenue, be protected pending the duration of such enquiry, and shall be protected eventually by registration, if the final award of the Revenue Authorities, upon such application, be in favor of the claimant.

Provided that nothing contained in this Section shall be construed to entitle any purchaser of land at a public sale for arrears of revenue to demand a higher rate of rent from any persons whose tenure or agreement may be annulled as aforesaid, than was demandable by the former proprietor, except in cases in which such persons may have held their lands under engagements, stipulating for a lower

Fees and charges demandable by Collector.

LIX. The Collector on the part of the Government shall be entitled to demand from applicants under Sections X and XI, Sections XV and XVI, and Sections XL, XLIII, and XLIV of this Act, fees not exceeding the rates specified in Schedule B to this Act annexed, which Schedule shall be taken as part of this Act; and applications under the said Sections shall not be received unless the said fees are tendered therewith.

A Bill to provide for the more speedy disposal of Appeals in cases appealable to the Sudder Court and of applications for Special Appeals.

Preamble.

WHEREAS by reason of the large number of regular appeals preferred in the Sudder Courts of the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal, much delay occurs in the hearing and determination of such Appeals; and it is expedient that measures should be provided for the more speedy disposal of the same: and whereas it is also expedient that in cases of application for special appeal any order passed by a single Judge of either of the said Courts for the admission or the rejection of any such appeal should be final; It is enacted as follows:—

Appeals, in suits decided by Principal Sudder Ameens below Rupees 10,000, to lie to Zillah Judge.

I. In suits decided by Principal Sudder Ameens in any part of the said Presidency where the amount or value of the suit shall be less than ten thousand Rupees, the appeal shall lie to the Zillah Judge, and shall not lie to the Sudder Court, any thing in Section IV Act XXV of 1837 to the contrary notwithstanding.

Applications for special appeals to be heard by a single Judge of the Sudder Court.

II. All applications for special appeal, which are now pending in either of the said Sudder Courts, or which have been presented in any subordinate Court for transmission to the Sudder Court, and all such applications which may be hereafter presented under the provisions of Act XVI of 1853, may be heard, and on hearing may be either admitted or rejected by a single Judge of the Sudder Court, and the order passed by such Judge either for the admission or the rejection of the appeal shall be final, any thing in Clause 4 Section VIII of Act XVI of 1853 to the contrary notwithstanding. Provided always that, except under the circumstances and for the purpose described in Clause 1 of the said Section, no case shall be remanded to the Court which passed the decree by the order of a single Judge; but when such Judge shall make an order for remand, the case shall be dealt with in the manner provided in Clauses 4 and 5 of the said Section.

DELHI,
The 8th April 1859.

No. 107 of 1859.

FROM COLONEL F. JENKINS,
Agent, Gover.-Genl. & Comdg. N. E. Frontier,

TO MAJOR ROSS,
Assistant Adjutant General of the Army,
Head-Quarters, Barrackpore.
Dated Gowhatty, the 11th March 1859.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to submit for transmission to the Right Hon'ble the Commander-in-Chief, in original, a letter No. 41, of the 28th ultimo, from Lieutenant-Colonel Hannay, accompanied by a Sketch Map and six enclosures, reporting the complete success of the Detachment under his Command in carrying by assault on the 27th ultimo the strong stockaded position of the confederated Meyong Clans of Abors and the destruction of two of their villages.

2. I have pleasure in drawing notice to the high satisfaction expressed by Colonel Hannay at the conduct of the whole of the Troops under his Command, and particularly with the gallant manner in which the attack was led by the Naval Brigade, under the Command of Lieutenant Lewis, of the Indian Navy.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) F. JENKINS, Colonel,
Agent, Governor General and Commanding N. E. Frontier.

Forwarded to the Adjutant General of the Army, for submission to the Right Hon'ble the Commander-in-Chief by His Excellency's obedient servant,

J. B. HEARSEY, Major General,
Commanding Presidency Division.

BARRACKPORE,
The 22nd March 1859.

No. 41.

FROM LIEUTENANT-COLONEL S. F. HANNAY,
Commanding 1st Assam Light Infantry
Battalion, and Expedition to Abor Hills,

TO COLONEL F. JENKINS,
Agent, Governor General and Commanding
Troops Assam, Gowhatty.
Passee Ghat,
Monday, 28th February 1859.

SIR,

IN continuation of my letter No. 40, of the 19th instant, I have the honor to acquaint you, that the expedition under my Command reached the vicinity of Passee Ghat on Saturday, the 26th instant, and on Sunday morning, the 27th instant, I proceeded from that point, with a party as per margin, to the attack of Passee and the adjoining Meyong Abor Village of Rong Khong, which was effectually carried out, and those two positions taken and completely destroyed by 4 P. M., when I returned to the Camp established at Passee Ghat.

Assam Local Artillery.
35 Men.
1 European Officer.
2-12 pounder Howitzers.
2 Mortars.
1*st Assam L. I. Battalion.*
160 Rank and File.
1 European Officer.
1 European Non-Comd. Officer.
Khamptees, Singphoos & Doomeas.

2. I beg to state that the resistance made by the Abors to our advance was most obstinate and determined which they were enabled to do, from their thorough knowledge of the ground, their peculiar skill as marksmen and their formidable barricades and stockades, eleven in number, from the river bank, nine of which the enemy defended, and in three instances it was necessary to use a 12-pounder Howitzer Gun, to open a way for the assault.

3. The enclosed list of Killed and Wounded (Europeans and Natives) will show that we had to contend against a formidable enemy, armed with a powerful weapon in skilful hands; the strong nature of the defences keeping the attacking party unavoidably exposed, not only to the fire from the front but from both flanks, and from trees and heights occupied by the enemy. However all went down before the gallantry of the Troops. The village of Rong Khong and three strong positions were carried at the point of the bayonet by our gallant band of Europeans, Indian Navy, and the Advanced Guard under Lieutenants Lewis and Davies, with Mr. Midshipman Mayo. The position of Passee was taken by Major Reid and myself, the main body of Native Troops, with the Local Artillery and a 12-pounder Howitzer Gun.

4. In such jungle positions and with the prevailing practice of carrying off their wounded, the loss of the enemy cannot be ascertained, but they must have suffered considerably, particularly in the defences of Rong Khong where the conflict was hand to hand One body was found at Rong Khong and the traces of blood from the different positions they held, to the villages, afforded proofs of their having suffered.

5. I beg leave to express my utmost satisfaction with the conduct of the Troops engaged, European and Native. I would especially notice for your information, and that of the Right Hon'ble the Commander-in-Chief, the very gallant conduct of the Indian Naval Brigade, under Lieutenant Lewis, Indian Navy, with Lieutenant Davies and Mr. Midshipman Mayo, Indian Navy. Lieutenant Lewis had a narrow escape; an arrow fired at a very short distance lodging in his cap pocket. Lieutenant Davies, who gallantly led the Advance Guard throughout the whole of the operations of the day, was, I am sorry to say, severely hit in the left breast and left arm. Mr. Midshipman Mayo also, a gallant young lad, who was prominently forward on all occasions, was slightly wounded in the finger. I beg to report that the conduct of these Officers was most gallant and exemplary, and I have to add also the highly meritorious conduct of Mr. Assistant Surgeon White, whose devotion and attention to the wounded, in positions of great risk, was beyond all praise.

6. I have now to bring to your notice the great assistance which has been afforded, throughout the expedition, by Major Reid and his small party of Artillerymen, being an eye-witness to their gallant conduct in serving the guns amidst showers of arrows from all directions, and seeing many of the men hit, their continued exertions to dislodge the enemy evinced a very Soldier-like spirit.

7. My Serjeant Major was present, and he behaved with his usual Soldier-like steadiness.

8. In conclusion, I beg to state that I have received the greatest assistance from Captain Bivar, your Principal Assistant, with me. His personal exertions, in regard to the requisite supplies, carriage and boats, and on bringing the large fleet with us up stream, have been most praiseworthy. I shall await his wishes for a few days at this place, to enable him to make his arrangements with the different Tribes.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) S. F. Hannay, Lieutenant-Colonel, Commanding 1st Assam Light Infantry Battalion, and Expedition to Abor Hills.

P. S.—Annexed is a rough Sketch of the line of operations.

From Assistant Surgeon John Berry White,
In Medical charge of Abor Expeditionary Force,
To Lieutenant-Colonel S. F. Hannay,
Commanding 1st Assam Light Infantry Battalion and Expeditionary Force to Abor Hills.

Camp Pashee Ghat, 28th February 1859.

Sir,

I have the honor to forward you a List of Casualties of the engagement of yesterday of Expeditionary Force to Abor Hills under your Command.

At the same time I think it right to inform you, that in each case the arrow was poisoned with extract of a species of aconite.

I am happy to say that in consequence of the measures which I adopted on the Field, viz., cupping, suction, and ligatures above the wound, very little ill results ensued from the poison, and those have succumbed to the ordinary treatment for narcotico-acrid poisoning.

I have, &c.,

Ryot entitled to a pottah.

II. Every ryot is entitled to receive from the person to whom the rent of the land held or cultivated by him is payable, a pottah containing the following particulars:

The quantity of land; and where fields have been numbered in a Government survey, the number of each field.

The amount of annual rent.

The instalments in which the same is to be paid.

And any special conditions of the lease.

If the rent is payable in kind, the proportion of produce to be delivered, and the time and manner of delivery.

Ryots holding land at fixed rates to receive pottahs.

III. Ryots who, in the Provinces of Bengal, Behar, Orissa, and Benares, hold lands at fixed rates of rent, which have not been changed from the time of the permanent settlement, are entitled to receive pottahs at those rates.

If rent of land be not changed for 20 years.

IV. Whenever, in any suit under this Act, it shall be proved that the rent at which land is held by a ryot in the said Provinces, has not been changed for a period of twenty years before the commencement of the suit, it shall be presumed that the land has been held at that rent from the time of the permanent settlement, unless the contrary be shown, or unless it be proved that such rent was fixed at some later period.

Ryots having right of occupancy but not holding at fixed rates, to receive pottahs.

V. Ryots having rights of occupancy, but not holding at fixed rates, as described in the two preceding Sections, are entitled to receive pottahs at fair and equitable rates. In case of dispute, the rate previously paid by the ryot shall be deemed to be fair and equitable, unless the contrary be shown in a suit by either party under the provisions of this Act.

Right of occupancy of ryot cultivating or holding land for 12 years.

VI. Every ryot who has cultivated or held land for a period of twelve years has a right of occupancy in the land so cultivated or held by him, whether it be held under pottah or not, so long as he pays the rent payable on account of the same; but this rule does not apply to khomar, neejjote, or seer land belonging to the proprietor of the estate or tenure and let by him on lease for a term or year by year, nor (as respects the actual cultivator) to lands sublet for a term or year by year by a ryot having a right of occupancy. The holding of the father, or other person from whom a ryot inherits, shall be deemed to be the holding of the ryot within the meaning of this Section.

Saving of terms of written contracts.

VII. Nothing contained in the last preceding Section shall be held to affect the terms of any written contract for the cultivation of land entered into between a landholder and a ryot when it contains any express stipulation contrary thereto.

Pottahs to which ryots not having rights of occupancy are entitled.

VIII. Ryots not having rights of occupancy are entitled to pottahs only at such rates as may be agreed on between them and the persons to whom the rent is payable.

Person granting pottah entitled to a counterpart engagement.

IX. Every person who grants a pottah is entitled to receive from the person to whom the pottah is granted a kubooliyet or counterpart engagement in conformity with the terms of the pottah. The tender to any ryot of a pottah such as the ryot is entitled to receive shall be held to entitle the person to whom the rent is payable to receive a kubooliyet from such ryot.

Exactions in excess of rent or receipt withheld.

X. Every under-tenant or ryot, from whom any sum is exacted in excess of the rent specified in his pottah, or payable under the provisions of this Act, whether as abwab or under any other pretext, and every under-tenant, ryot, or cultivator from whom a receipt is withheld for any sum of money paid by him as rent, shall be entitled to recover from the person receiving such rent damages not exceeding double the amount so exacted or paid.

Form of receipt.

Receipts for rent shall specify the year or years on account of which the rent is acknowledged to have been paid; and any refusal to make such specification shall be held to be a withholding of a receipt.

Landholder not to compel the attendance of tenant for adjustment of rent or for any other purpose.

XI. The power heretofore vested in Zemindars and other landholders of compelling the attendance of their tenants for the adjustment of their rents or for any other purpose is withdrawn, and all such persons are prohibited from adopting any means of compulsion for enforcing payment of the rents due to them other than are authorized by the provisions of this Act.

Payment of rent to be enforced only under this Act.

Damages for extorting payment of rent by duress.

XII. If payment of rent, whether the same be legally due or not, is extorted from any under-tenant or ryot by illegal confinement or other duress, such under-tenant or ryot shall be entitled to recover such damages, not exceeding in any case the sum of two hundred Rupees, as may be deemed a reasonable compensation for the injury done him by such extortion. An award of compensation under this Section shall not bar or affect any penalty or punishment to which the person practising such extortion may be subject by law.

Enhancement of rent of ryot holding without, or after expiry &c. of written engagement.

XIII. No under-tenant or ryot, who holds or cultivates land without a written engagement not specifying the period of such engagement, or whose engagement has expired, or has become cancelled in consequence of the sale for arrears of rent or revenue of the tenure or estate in which the land held cultivated by him is situate, and has not been renewed, shall be liable to pay any higher rent for such land than the rent payable for the previous year, unless a written notice shall have been served on such under-tenant or ryot, in or before the month of Cheit, specifying the rent to which he will be subject for the ensuing year, and the ground on which an enhancement of rent is claimed. Such notice shall be served by order of the Collector on the application (which may be on plain paper) of the person to whom the rent is payable, and shall, if practicable, be served personally on the under-tenant or ryot. If for any reason the notice cannot be served personally upon the under-tenant or ryot, it shall be affixed at his usual place of residence, or if he have no such place of residence in the District in which the land is situate, the mode of service of such notice shall be by affixing it at the Mal cutcherry of such land or other conspicuous place thereon, or at the village Chowree or Chowpal or at some other conspicuous place in the village in which the land is situate.

Mode of contesting enhancement of rent.

XIV. Any under-tenant or ryot, on whom such notice as aforesaid has been served, may contest his liability to pay the enhanced rent demanded of him, either by complaint of excessive demand of rent as hereinafter provided, or in answer to any suit preferred against him for recovery of arrears of the enhanced rent.

Dependent talookdar &c. holding land at fixed rent without change since permanent settlement not liable to enhancement of rent.

XV. No dependent talookdar or other person possessing a permanent transferable interest in land, intermediate between the proprietor of an estate and the ryots, who, in the Provinces of Bengal, Behar, Orissa, and Benares, holds his talook or tenure (otherwise than under a terminable lease) at a fixed rent, which has not been changed from the time of the permanent settlement, shall be liable to any enhancement of such rent, anything in Section LI Regulation VIII. 1793, or in any other law, to the contrary notwithstanding.

Rent of talookdar &c., not changed for twenty years to be prima facie evidence of occupancy at that rent since permanent settlement.

XVI. Whenever, in any suit under this Act, it shall be proved that the rent at which a talook or other tenure is held in the said Provinces has not been changed for a period of twenty years before the commencement of the suit, it shall be presumed that such talook or tenure has been held at that rent from the time of the permanent settlement, unless the contrary be shown, or it be proved that such rent was fixed at some later period.

XVII. No ryot having a right of occupancy shall be liable to an enhancement of the rent previously paid by him except on some one of the following grounds, namely :—

That the rate paid by him is below that prevailing in adjacent places.

That the rate of rent paid by such ryot is below the prevailing rate payable by the same class of ryots for land of a similar description and with similar advantages in the places adjacent.

That the value of the land &c. has increased independently of the ryot.

That the value of the produce or the productive powers of the land have been increased otherwise than by the agency or at the expense of the ryot.

That the quantity of land held by the ryot is greater than he has paid rent for.

That the quantity of land held by the ryot has been proved by measurement to be greater than the quantity for which rent has been previously paid by him.

When ryot may claim abatement of rent.

XVIII. Every ryot having a right of occupancy shall be entitled to claim an abatement of the rent previously paid by him, if the area of the land has been diminished by diluvion or otherwise, or if the value of the produce or the productive powers of the land have been decreased by any cause beyond the power of the ryot, or if the quantity of land held by the ryot has been proved by measurement to be less than the quantity for which rent has been previously paid by him.

Relinquishment of land by ryot after notice given.

XIX. Any ryot who desires to relinquish the land held or cultivated by him, shall be at liberty to do so, provided he gives notice of his intention in writing to the person entitled to the rent of the land or his authorized agent in or before the month of Cheit of the year preceding that in which the relinquishment is to have effect. If he fail to give such notice, and the land is not let to any other person, he shall continue liable for the rent of the land. If the person entitled to the rent of the land or his agent refuse to receive any such notice and to sign a receipt for the same, the ryot may make an application on plain paper to the Collector who shall thereupon cause the notice to be served on such person or his agent in the manner provided in Section XIII.

What to be deemed an arrear of rent under this Act.

XX. Any instalment of rent which is not paid on or before the day when the same is payable according to the pottah or engagement, or, if there be no written specification of the time of payment, at or before the time when such instalment is payable according to established usage, shall be held to be an arrear of rent under this Act, and unless otherwise provided by written agreement, shall be liable to interest at twelve per centum per annum.

Liability of ryot to be ejected for arrear due.

XXI. When an arrear of rent remains due from any ryot at the end of the Bengal year or at the end of the month of Jeth of the Fusly or Willayutee year as the case may be, such ryot shall be liable to be ejected from the land in respect of which the arrear is due.

Proviso. Provided that no ryot, having a right of occupancy or holding under a pottah the term of which has not expired, shall be ejected otherwise than in execution of a decree or order under the provisions of this Act.

When an arrear of rent shall be adjudged to be due from any farmer or other lease-holder not having a permanent or transferable interest in the land, the lease of such lease-holder shall be liable to be cancelled, and the lease-holder to be ejected. If the demand of the distrainer be not satisfied until the day fixed for the sale, the charge for expenses shall be paid by the owner of the property and may be recovered by the sale of such portion thereof as may be necessary. When any such suit is instituted the property may be released upon security being given for the value of the same. If the claim is dismissed the Collector shall make an order for the sale of the property or the recovery of the value thereof, as the case may be, for the benefit of the distrainer. If the claim is upheld, the Collector shall decree the release of the distrained property with costs, and such damages (if any) as the circumstances of the case may seem to require. Provided always that no claim to any produce of land, liable to distraint under this Act, which at the time of the distress may have been found in the possession of a defaulting cultivator, whether such claim be in respect of a previous sale, mortgage, or otherwise, shall bar the prior claim of the person entitled to the rent of the land, nor shall any attachment in execution of a judgment of any Civil Court prevail against such prior claim.

CXL. If in any case in which property has been distrained for an arrear of rent and a suit has been instituted to contest the demand, the right to distrain for such arrear is claimed by or on behalf of any person other than the distrainer on the ground of such other person being actually and in good faith in the receipt and enjoyment of the rent of the land, such other person shall be made a party to the suit, and the question of the actual receipt and enjoyment of the rent by such other person before and up to the time of the commencement of the suit shall be enquired into, and the suit shall be decided according to the result of such enquiry. Provided always that the decision of the Collector shall not affect the right of either party who may have a legal title to the rent of the land, to establish his title by suit in the Civil Court if instituted within one year from the date of the decision.

CXLI. If any person, whose property has been distrained for the recovery of a demand not justly due, or of a demand due or alleged to be due from some other person, is prevented by any sufficient cause from bringing suit to contest the demand or to try the right to the property as the case may be within the period allowed by Sections CXXIV and CXXXIX and his property is in consequence brought to sale, he may nevertheless institute a suit under this Act to recover damages for the illegal distress and sale of his property.

THE following Act, passed by the Legislative Council of India, received the assent of the Right Honorable the Governor General on the 4th May 1859, and is hereby promulgated for general information:—

ACT No. XI OF 1859.

An Act to improve the law relating to sales of Land for arrears of Revenue in the Lower Provinces under the Bengal Presidency.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to discontinue the practice of obtaining the previous sanction of the Board of Revenue to sales of estates for arrears of revenue, or other demands of Government, in the Province of Cuttack: and whereas it is just that a person having a lien upon an estate, and paying the money necessary to protect it from sale for arrears of revenue, should be reasonably secured: and whereas it is expedient to afford sharers in estates, who duly pay their shares of the Sudder Jumma of their estates, easy means of protecting their shares from sale by reason of the default of their co-sharers: and whereas it is expedient to afford landholders, particularly absentees, facilities in guarding against the accidental sale of their estates for arrears of revenue by reason of the neglect or fraud of their agents: and whereas it is expedient to provide for the voluntary registration of dependent talooks existing at the time of settlement: and whereas it is expedient to protect the holders of registered under-tenures created since the settlement, and not resumable by the grantors or their representatives, from loss by the avoidance of their tenures on the occasion of a sale of the superior estate for arrears of public revenue, when the arrears can be realized by such sale: and to give absolute security to such tenures by special registry, when shown to be held at rents sufficient for the security of the revenue: and it is therefore proper, for the above and other purposes, to improve the law relating to sales of land for arrears of revenue in the Provinces of Bengal, Behar, and Orissa: It is enacted as follows:—

Laws repealed

I. Regulation X. 1818 (relating to collection of the public revenue from proprietors and farmers of land in the District of Cuttack &c.) [is hereby repealed; and from the date of the passing of this law, Act I of 1845 (regarding sales of land for arrears of Revenue), except in so far as it repeals other laws, and except in regard to sales made or advertised, to arrears and other demands realizable, and to suits commenced and acts done, under authority thereof—shall cease to have effect in the Lower Provinces of Bengal.

What is an arrear of revenue.

II. If the whole or a portion of a kist or instalment of any month of the era, according to which the settlement and kistbundee of any mehal have been regulated, be unpaid on the first of the following month of such era, the sum so remaining unpaid shall be considered an arrear of revenue.

Latest day of payment.

III. Upon the promulgation of this Act, the Board of Revenue at Calcutta shall determine upon what dates all arrears of revenue and all demands which by the Regulations and Acts in force are directed to be realized in the same manner as arrears of revenue, shall be paid up in each district under their jurisdiction, in default of which payment the estates in arrear in those districts, except as hereinafter provided, shall be sold at public auction to the highest bidder. And the said Board shall give notice of the dates so fixed in the official Gazette and shall direct corresponding publication to be made as far as regards each district in the language of that district, in the office of the Collector or other officer duly authorized to hold sales under this Act, in the Courts of the Judge, Magistrate, (or Joint Magistrate, as the case may be,) and Moonsiffs, and at every Thannah station of that district; and the dates so fixed shall not be changed except by the said Board by advertisement and notification, in the manner above described, to be issued at least three months before the close of the official year preceding that in which the new date is, or dates are, to take effect.

In Sylhet, personal property liable to distress and sale.

IV. Provided that in the district of Sylhet, the Collector may be authorized by the Board of Revenue to proceed in the first instance by the distress and sale of the personal property of defaulters, instead of by the sale of their estates.

Proviso in the case of certain descriptions of arrear.

V. Provided always that no estate, and no share or interest in any estate, shall be sold for the recovery of arrears or demands of the descriptions mentioned below, otherwise than after a notification in the language of the district, specifying the nature and amount of the arrear or demand, and the latest date on which payment thereof shall be received, shall have been affixed for a period of not less than fifteen clear days preceding the date fixed for payment, according to Section III of this Act, in the office of the Collector or other officer duly authorized to hold sales under this Act, in the Court of the Judge within whose jurisdiction the land advertised lies, and in the Moonsiff's Court and Police Thannah of the division in which the estate or share of an estate to which the notification relates, is situated; or if the estate or share of an estate be situated within the jurisdiction of more than one Moonsiff's Court or Police Thannah, in some one or more of such Courts or Thannahs; and also at the cutcherry of the malgoozar or owner of the estate or share of an estate, or at some conspicuous place upon the estate or share of an estate, the same to be certified by the peon or other person employed for the purpose.

First.—Arrears other than those of the current year, or of the year immediately preceding.

Secondly.—Arrears due on account of estates other than that to be sold.

Thirdly.—Arrears of estates under attachment by order of any judicial authority, or managed by the Collector in accordance with such order.

Fourthly.—Arrears due on account of tuccavee, poolbundee, or other demands not being land revenue, but recoverable by the same process as arrears of land revenue.

Notifications of sale to be issued, and no tender after latest day of payment to stop the sale.

VI. The Collector or other officer duly authorized to hold sales under this Act shall, as soon as possible after the latest day of payment fixed in the manner prescribed in Section III of this Act, issue notifications in the language of the district, to be affixed in his own Office and in the Court of the Judge of the district, specifying the estates or shares of estates which will be sold as aforesaid, and the day on which the sale of the same will commence, which day shall not be less than fifteen or more than thirty clear days from the date of affixing the notification in the Office of the Collector or other officer as aforesaid. And if the Government revenue of any estate or share of an estate to be sold, exceed the sum of five hundred Rupees, a notification of the sale of such estate or share of an estate shall be published in the official Gazette. Except as hereinafter provided, all estates or shares of estates so specified shall, on the day notified for sale, or on the day or days following be put up to public auction by and in the presence of the Collector or other officer as aforesaid, and shall be sold to the highest bidder. And no payment, or tender of payment, made after sunset of the said latest day of payment, shall bar or interfere with the sale, either at the time of sale or after its conclusion.

Notice to ryots, &c.

VII. Whenever an estate or share of an estate is notified for sale as provided by Section VI of this Act, the Collector or other officer as aforesaid shall affix a proclamation in the language of the district in his own Office, and as soon thereafter as may be in the Moonsiff's Courts and Police Thannahs within which the estate or share of an estate, or any part of it, is situated, and also at the cutcherry of the malgoozar or the owner of the estate or share of an estate, or at some conspicuous place upon the estate or share of an estate forbidding the ryots and undertenants to pay to the defaulting proprietor any rent which has fallen due after the day fixed for the last day of payment, on pain of not being entitled to credit in their accounts with the purchaser for any sums so paid.

Claims against Government held by a defaulter not to invalidate a sale.

VIII. No claim to abatement or remission of revenue unless the same shall have been allowed by the authority of Government, and no private demand or cause of action whatever held or supposed to be held by any defaulter against Government, shall bar or render void or voidable a sale under this Act; nor shall the plea that money belonging to the defaulter, and sufficient to pay the arrear of revenue due, was in the Collector's hands, bar or render void or voidable a sale under this Act, unless such money stand in the defaulter's name alone and without dispute, and unless, after application in due time made by the defaulter, or after the written agreement provided for in Section XV of this Act, the Collector shall have neglected, or refused on insufficient grounds, to transfer it, on payment of the arrear of revenue due.

Deposits receivable from persons not proprietors.

IX. The Collector or other Officer as aforesaid shall, at any time before sunset of the latest day of payment determined according to Section III of this Act, receive as a deposit from any person not being a proprietor of the estate or share of an estate in arrear, the amount of the arrear of revenue due, to be credited in payment of the arrear at sunset as aforesaid, unless before that time the arrear shall have been paid by a defaulting proprietor of the estate. And in case the person so depositing, whose money shall have been credited in the manner aforesaid, shall be a party in a suit pending before a Court of Justice for the possession of the estate or share from which the arrear is due, or any part thereof, it shall be competent to the said Court to order the said party to be put into temporary possession of the said estate or share, or part thereof, subject to the rules in force for taking security in the cases of parties in Civil suits. And if the person so depositing, whose money shall have been credited as aforesaid, shall prove before a competent Civil Court that the deposit was made in order to protect an interest of the said person, which would have been endangered or damaged by the sale, or which he believed in good faith would have been endangered or damaged by the sale, he shall be entitled to recover the amount of the deposit, with or without interest as the Court may determine, from the defaulting proprietor. And if the party so depositing, whose money shall have been credited as aforesaid, shall prove before such a Court that the deposit was necessary in order to protect any lien he had on the estate, or share, or part thereof, the amount so credited shall be added to the amount of the original lien.

Separation of shares held in common.

X. When a recorded sharer of a joint estate, held in common tenancy, desires to pay his share of the Government revenue separately, he may submit to the Collector a written application to that effect. The application must contain a specification of the share held in the estate by the applicant. The Collector shall then cause to be published in his own Office in the Courts of the Judge, Magistrate (or Joint Magistrate, as the case may be), and Moonsiffs, and in the Police Thannahs in whose jurisdiction the estate or any part thereof is situated, as well as on some conspicuous part of the estate itself, a copy of the application made to him. If within six weeks from the date of the publication of these notices, no objection is made by any other recorded sharer, the Collector shall open a separate account with the applicant, and shall credit separately to his share all payments made by him on account of it. The date on which the Collector records his sanction to the opening of a separate account, shall be held to be that from which the separate liabilities of the share of the applicant commence.

Separation of shares consisting of specific portions of land.

XI. When a recorded sharer of a joint estate, whose share consists of a specific portion of the land of the estate, desires to pay his share of the Government revenue separately, he may submit to the Collector a written application to that effect. The application must contain a specification of the land comprised in his share, and of the boundaries and extent thereof, together with a statement of the amount of sudder jumma heretofore paid on account of it. On the receipt of this application, the Collector shall cause it to be published in the manner prescribed for publication of notice in the last preceding Section. In the event of no objection being urged by any recorded co-sharer within six weeks from the time of publication, the Collector shall open a separate account with the applicant, and shall credit separately to his share all payments made by him on account of it. The date on which the Collector records his sanction to the opening of a separate account, shall be held to be that from which the separate liabilities of the share of the applicant commence.

If objection be made, parties to be referred to the Civil Court.

XII. If any recorded proprietor of the estate, whether the same be held in common tenancy or otherwise, object that the applicant has no right to the share claimed by him, or that his interest in the estate is less or other than that claimed by him, or if the application be in respect of a specific portion of the land of an estate, that the amount of sudder jumma stated by the applicant to have been heretofore paid on account of such portion of land is not the amount which has been recognized by the other sharers as the jumma thereof, the Collector shall refer the parties to the Civil Court, and shall suspend proceedings until the question at issue is judicially determined.

Sale of separate shares.

XIII. Whenever the Collector shall have ordered a separate account or accounts to be kept for one or more shares, if the estate shall become liable to sale for arrears of revenue, the Collector or other officer as aforesaid in the first place shall put up to sale only that share or those shares of the estate from which, according to the separate accounts, an arrear of revenue may be due. In all such cases notice of the intention of excluding the share or shares from which no arrear is due, shall be given in the advertisement of sale prescribed in Section VI of this Act. The share or shares sold, together with the share or shares excluded from the sale, shall continue to constitute one integral estate, the share or shares sold being charged with the separate portion or the aggregate of the several separate portions of jumma assigned thereto.

Entire estate may be sold under certain conditions.

XIV. If in any case of a sale held according to the provisions of the last preceding Section, the highest offer for the share exposed to sale shall not equal the amount of arrear due thereupon to the date of sale, the Collector or other officer as aforesaid shall stop the sale, and shall declare that the entire estate will be put up to sale for arrears of revenue at a future date, unless the other recorded sharer or sharers, or one or more of them, shall within ten days purchase the share in arrear by paying to Government the whole arrear due from such share. If such purchase be completed, the Collector or other officer as aforesaid shall give such certificate and delivery of possession as are provided for in Sections XXVIII and XXIX of this Act, to the purchaser or purchasers, who shall have the same rights as if the share had been purchased by him or them at the sale. If no such purchase be made within ten days as aforesaid, the entire estate shall be sold, after notification for such period and publication in such manner as is prescribed in Section VI of this Act.

Deposit for the protection of an estate from sale.

XV. If any recorded proprietor or co-partner of an estate shall deposit with the Collector money, or Government securities endorsed and made payable to the order of the Collector, and shall sign an agreement pledging the same to Government by way of security for the jumma of the entire estate, and authorizing the Collector to apply to the payment of any arrear of revenue that may become due from that estate the whole or any portion of the said money or securities that may be necessary for that purpose, then in the case of any arrear of revenue due from the said estate not being paid before sunset of the latest day of payment fixed under Section III of this Act, the Collector shall apply to the payment of such arrear the said money or securities, or such part thereof or of any interest due on the said securities as may be necessary; and for this purpose the Collector shall first apply any money that may be in his hands and any interest that may be due upon such securities, and may then sell and transfer the securities for any balance that may remain. And so long as any money or securities as aforesaid, sufficient to cover any arrear that may fall due, shall remain and be available as aforesaid, the estate for the protection of which the said deposit was made shall be exempted from sale for arrears of revenue. All monies and securities so deposited shall be exempt from attachment, otherwise than in execution of a decree of a Civil Court.

Withdrawal of the deposit.

XVI. It shall be competent to the person making a deposit under the provision of the last preceding Section, or his representative or assignee, at any time to withdraw the deposit, and to revoke the pledge of the same.

Estates under Court of Wards or attachment.

XVII. No estate shall be liable to sale for the recovery of arrears which have accrued during the period of its being under the management of the Court of Wards; and no estate the sole property of a minor or minors, and descended to him or them by the regular course of inheritance duly notified to the Collector for the information of the Court of Wards, but of which the Court of Wards has not assumed the management under Regulation VI. 1822, shall be sold for arrears of revenue accruing subsequently to his or their succession to the same, until the minor or minors, or one of them, shall have attained the full age of eighteen years. And no estate held under attachment by the revenue authorities otherwise than by order of a judicial authority, shall be liable to sale for arrears accruing whilst it was so held under attachment. And no estate, held under attachment or managed by a Revenue Officer, in pursuance of an order of a judicial authority, shall be liable to sale for the recovery of arrears of revenue accruing during the period of such attachment, or management until after the end of the year in which such arrears accrued.

Estates may be specially exempted from sale.

XVIII. It shall be competent to the Collector, or other Officer as aforesaid, at any time before the sale of an estate or share of an estate shall have commenced, to exempt such estate or share from sale; and in like manner it shall be competent to the Commissioner of Revenue, at any time before the sale of an estate or share of an estate shall have commenced, to exempt such estate or share from sale, by a special order to the Collector or other officer as aforesaid to that effect in each case; and no such sale shall be legal if held after the receipt of such order of exemption. Provided, however, and it is hereby enacted, that the Collector or other officer as aforesaid or the Commissioner shall duly record in a proceeding the reason for granting such exemption; and provided also that an order for exemption so issued by the Commissioner shall not affect the legality of a sale which may have taken place before the receipt by the Collector or other officer as aforesaid of the order of exemption.

Proviso.

Sales where to be made.

XIX. Sales shall ordinarily be made by the Collector or other officer as aforesaid in the land revenue office at the Sudder Station of the District: provided, however, that it shall be competent to the Board of Revenue to prescribe a place for holding sales other than such office, whenever they shall consider it beneficial to the parties concerned.

Adjournment of sales.

XX. In case the Collector or other officer as aforesaid shall be unable from sickness, from the occurrence of a holiday, or from any other cause, to commence the sale on the day of sale fixed as aforesaid; or if, having commenced it, he be unable, from any cause, to complete it; he shall be competent to adjourn it to the next day following, not being Sunday or other close holiday, recording his reasons for such adjournment, forwarding a copy of such record to the Commissioner of Revenue, and announcing the adjournment by a written proclamation stuck up in his cutcherry; and so on, from day to day, until he shall be able to commence upon, or to complete the sale; but, with the exception of adjournments so made, recorded, and reported, each sale shall invariably be made on the day of sale fixed in the manner aforesaid.

Order of selling.

XXI. On the day of sale fixed according to Section VI of this Act, sales shall proceed in regular order; the estate to be sold bearing the lowest number on the towjee or register in use in the Collector's office of the district being put up first, and so on, in regular sequence; and it shall not be lawful for the Collector or other officer as aforesaid to put up any estate out of its regular order by number, except where it may be necessary to do so on default of deposit, as provided in Section XXII of this Act.

Deposit on account of purchase money.

XXII. The party who shall be declared the purchaser of an estate or share of an estate at any such public sale as aforesaid, shall be required to deposit immediately or as soon after the conclusion of the sale of the estate or share as the Collector or other officer as aforesaid may think necessary, either in cash, Bank of Bengal Notes or Post Bills, or Government Securities to be valued at the market rate of the day, duly endorsed, twenty-five per cent. on the amount of his bid; and in default of such deposit, the estate or share shall forthwith be put up again and sold.

Full payment of purchase money.

XXIII. The full amount of purchase money shall be made good by the purchaser before sunset of the thirtieth day from that on which the sale of the estate or share of an estate bought by him took place, reckoning that day as one of the thirty; or if the thirtieth day be a Sunday or other close holiday, then on the first office day after the thirtieth: and in default of payment within the prescribed period as aforesaid, the deposit shall be forfeited to Government, the estate or share shall be resold, and the defaulting purchaser shall forfeit all claim to the estate or share, or to any part of the sum for which it may subsequently be sold. And in the event of the proceeds of the sale which may be eventually consummated being less than the price bid by the defaulting bidder aforesaid, the difference shall be leviable from him by any process authorized for realizing an arrear of public revenue, and such difference shall be taken and considered to be a part of the purchase money and shall be dealt with in the manner hereinafter prescribed for the disposal thereof.

Re-sale.

XXIV. When default is made in the payment of purchase money a notification of the intended re-sale shall be published for the period and in the manner prescribed in Section VI of this Act, but such notification shall not be published until the expiration of three clear days after the day on which the default shall have occurred and if the payment or tender of payment of the arrear on account of which the estate or share was first sold, and of any arrear which may have subsequently become due shall be made by or on behalf of the proprietor of the estate or share before sunset of the third day, the issue of the notification of re-sale shall be stayed. The rules contained in the last preceding Section shall be applicable to every such re-sale. Provided that, if default of payment of purchase money shall occur more than once, the amount to be recovered from the defaulting bidders shall be the difference between the highest bid and the proceeds of the sale eventually consummated, which amount may be levied in manner aforesaid from any of the defaulting bidders to the extent of the amount by which his bid exceeds the amount realized.

Appeals.

XXV. It shall be lawful for the Commissioner of Revenue to receive an appeal against any sale made under this Act, if preferred to him on or before the fifteenth day from the date of sale, reckoning as in Section XXIII, or if preferred to the Collector or other Officer as aforesaid for transmission to the Commissioner, on or before the tenth day from the day of sale, and not otherwise ; and the Commissioner shall be competent in every case of appeal so preferred, to annul any sale of an estate or share of an estate made under this Act, which shall appear to him not to have been conducted according to the provisions of this Act, awarding at the same time to the purchaser a payment from the proprietor of any moderate compensation for his loss, if the sale shall have been occasioned by neglect of the proprietor, such compensation not to exceed the interest, at the highest rate of the current Government Securities, on the amount of deposit or balance of purchase money during the period of its being retained in the Collector's office ; and the order of the Commissioner shall in such cases be final.

Annulment of sale in special cases.

XXVI. It shall be competent to the Commissioner of Revenue, on the ground of hardship or injustice, to suspend the passing of final orders in any case of appeal from a sale, and to represent the case to the Board of Revenue, who, if they see cause, may recommend to the local Government to annul the sale ; and the local Government in any such case may annul the sale and cause the estate or share of an estate to be restored to the proprietor on such conditions as may appear equitable and proper

Sales when final.

XXVII. All sales of which the purchase money has been paid up as prescribed in Section XXIII of this Act, and against which no appeal shall have been preferred, shall be final and conclusive at noon of the thirtieth day from the day of sale, reckoning the said day of sale as the first of the said thirty days. And sales against which an appeal may have been preferred, and dismissed by the Commissioner, shall be final and conclusive from the date of such dismissal, if more than thirty days from the day of sale, or if less, then at noon of the thirtieth day as above provided.

Certificate of sales.

XXVIII. Immediately upon a sale becoming final and conclusive, the Collector or other Officer as aforesaid shall give to the purchaser a certificate of title in the form prescribed in Schedule A annexed to this Act. And the said certificate shall be deemed in any Court of Justice sufficient evidence of the title to the estate or share of an estate sold being vested in the person or persons named from the date specified ; and the Collector shall also notify such transfer by written proclamation in his own office, and in the Courts of the Moonsiffs and Police Thannahs within whose jurisdictions any part of the estate or share sold shall be situated.

Delivery of possession.

Liability of purchasor.

XXX. The party certified as the proprietor of an estate or share of an estate by purchase under this Act, shall be answerable for all instalments of the revenue of Government which may fall due after the latest day of payment aforesaid.

Application of purchase money.

XXXI. The Collector shall apply the purchase money first to the liquidation of all arrears due upon the latest day of payment from the estate or share of an estate sold ; and secondly to the liquidation of all outstanding demands debited to the estate or share of an estate in the public accounts of the District ; holding the residue, if any, in deposit on account of the late recorded proprietor or proprietors of the estate or share of an estate sold or their heirs or representatives to be paid to his or their receipt on demand in the manner following : to wit, in shares proportioned to their recorded interest in the estate or share of an estate sold, if such distinction of shares were recorded, or if not, then as an aggregate sum to the whole body of proprietors upon their joint receipt. And if before payment to the late proprietor or proprietors of any surplus that may remain of the purchase money, the same be claimed by any creditor in satisfaction of a debt, such surplus shall not be payable to such claimant, nor shall it be withheld from the proprietor, except under precept of a Civil Court.

Notification of annulment of sale.

XXXII. The annulment by a Commissioner or by Government of a sale made under this Act shall be publicly notified by the Collector or other officer as aforesaid, in the same manner as the becoming final and conclusive of sales is required to be notified by Section XXVIII of this Act ; and the amount of deposit and balance of purchase money shall be forthwith returned to the purchaser with interest thereon at the highest rates of the current public securities ; which shall be paid by the Government, unless the proprietor shall have become liable for the same under the provisions of Section XXV or Section XXVI of this Act.

Jurisdiction of Civil Courts in suits to amend sales.

XXXIII. No sale for arrears of revenue or other demands realizable in the same manner as arrears of revenue are realizable, made after the passing of this Act, shall be annulled by a Court of Justice, except upon the ground of its having been made contrary to the provisions of this Act, and then only on proof that the plaintiff has sustained substantial injury by reason of the irregularity complained of : and no such sale shall be annulled upon such ground, unless such ground shall have been declared and specified in an appeal made to the Commissioner under Section XXV of this Act : and no suit to annul a sale made under this Act shall be received by any Court of Justice unless it shall be instituted within one year from the date of the sale becoming final and conclusive as provided in Section XXVII of this Act : and no person shall be entitled to contest the legality of a sale, after having received any portion of the purchase money. Provided, however, that nothing in this Act contained shall be construed to debar any person considering himself wronged by any act or omission connected with a sale under this Act, from his remedy in a personal action for damages against the person by whose act or omission he considers himself to have been wronged.

Proviso.

XXXIV. If a sale made under this Act be annulled by a final decree of a Civil Court, application for the execution of such decree shall be made within six months after the date thereof; otherwise the party in whose favor such decree was passed shall lose all benefit therefrom. Provided that a tenure or farm in the hands of a bonâ fide purchaser for value shall not be avoided by reason of such fraud. ACT No. XII OF 1859.

An Act to make better provision for the trial of Pilots at the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal for breach of duty.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the law for the trial of persons employed in the Pilot Service of Government, at the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal, when accused of breach of duty, and to extend the same to persons licensed to act as Pilots at the said Presidency; It is enacted as follows:—

Acts repealed.

I. Act XXIV of 1845 (for establishing a Court for the trial of Officers of the Pilot Service accused of breach of duty) and Act I of 1851 (for the appropriation of fines levied under Act XXIV. of 1845) are hereby repealed.

How Pilots accused of breach of duty shall be brought to trial.

II. When any person employed in the Pilot Service of Government at the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal, or licensed to act as a Pilot at the said Presidency, shall be accused of having committed any breach of duty while engaged in such Service, or acting under such license, and it shall appear to the Superintendent of Marine, or to the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal that such person ought to be brought to trial for such breach of duty, such person shall be brought to trial upon a charge or charges framed by the said Superintendent of Marine or such other person as the said Lieutenant-Governor shall direct, before a Court constituted under the provisions of this Act.

Appointment of Judge.

III. The Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal shall appoint a fit person to be Judge of the said Court.

Appointment of Prosecutor.

IV. The Lieutenant-Governor shall appoint such person as he may think proper to conduct the proceedings before the Court as Prosecutor on the part of Government.

Trial to be held before the Judge and Jury.

V. Every trial under this Act shall be held before the said Judge and a Jury composed of two Merchants of Calcutta, a Master of a Merchant Ship lying in the Port of Calcutta, and a Pilot of not less than twenty years' service.

Lists of Merchants and Pilots liable to serve on the Jury.

VI. The Judge shall cause to be prepared and shall keep two separate lists, one containing the names of Merchants, the other containing the names of Pilots, liable to serve on such Jury. The names in each list shall be arranged in alphabetical order, and the place of abode and quality or business of each person named shall be stated.

Notice to prosecutor and accused of time and place for appointing Jury.

VII. When the Judge shall be about to hold a trial under this Act, he shall give notice to the prosecutor and to the party accused of a time and place to be fixed by the Judge for appointing a Jury to serve at such trial.

Appointment of Jury.

VIII. At the time and place mentioned in the notice, the Judge in the presence of the prosecutor and the person accused shall read over the names which first occur in each of the said lists of those Merchants and Pilots who he has reason to believe are present in Calcutta and capable of attending as Jurors at the trial; and shall also propose the name of a Master of a Merchant Ship lying in the Port of Calcutta, whom he deems qualified to serve on such Jury. If no objection be made and allowed, the persons so nominated shall be the Jury to serve at the trial. If the prosecutor or the party accused shall object to any of the persons named as Jurors, he shall assign the grounds of his objection and such objection shall forthwith be decided by the Judge. If the objection be allowed, the Judge shall read from the said lists or propose (as the case may be) another name in the place of the one objected to, and the person so nominated shall serve on the Jury provided no objection to such person be made and allowed as aforesaid.

Day of trial to be fixed and summons to issue to Jurors.

Such warrant may be transmitted by the Judge to any Magistrate of Police for the town of Calcutta, and thereupon such Magistrate shall endorse the same and shall cause it to be executed in the same manner as if the warrant had been issued by such Magistrate.

Penalty for non-attendance.

Trial how to proceed if any of the Jurors do not attend.

X. If for any cause any of the persons summoned to attend as Jurors shall not be in attendance at the time fixed for the commencement of the trial, the trial may with the consent of the prosecutor and the party accused be held before the Judge and such Jurors as shall be in attendance. If such consent be not given, the place of the absent Juror shall be supplied by some other person selected by the Judge from the same profession or calling as the person originally summoned and who shall consent to serve, provided no objection to such person be made and allowed in manner aforesaid. If the parties or either of them do not consent that the trial shall be held before the Judge and such Jurors as may be in attendance and the place of the absent Juror cannot be supplied by a person consenting to serve, the trial shall be postponed to another day and the Judge shall either re-summon the same Jury or appoint and summon another Jury in the manner hereinbefore provided.

Register of Jurors who have served.

XI. The Judge shall register in a book the names of all Jurors mentioned in either of the said two lists who have attended and served on a trial held under this Act. A Juror who has served shall not be required again to serve and his name shall be excluded in reading over the Jury lists until all the persons named in the said lists who are present in Calcutta and capable of attending as Jurors shall have served.

If the Jurors are equally divided, the Judge shall declare his opinion, and the verdict shall be according to the opinion of the Judge and the Jurors with whom he concurs.

Sentence of Court if the accused be found guilty.

XVII. If by such verdict the accused person is found guilty of the charge or of any one or more of the charges preferred against him, the Judge of the Court shall sentence him to be dismissed from the said Pilot Service, or to have his license withdrawn, or shall award such other punishment, by loss of rank or pay, or by change of a license from a higher to a lower grade, or suspension from employment for a specified period, as to the Judge shall appear fit. The Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, with the sanction of the Governor General in Council, may prepare a Schedule of offences and punishments (such punishments being of the same nature as those hereinbefore mentioned) for the guidance of the said Court; and if such Schedule be prepared and sanctioned, and the charge proved before the said Court is an offence specified in such Schedule, the Judge of the said Court shall award such punishment as is prescribed for such offence in the said Schedule, and no other. If by such verdict as aforesaid the accused person is found not guilty of the charge or charges preferred against him, the Judge shall declare him acquitted of the same.

XVIII. The proceedings of the Court shall be sent by the Judge to the Superintendent of Marine for submission to the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal; and no sentence of punishment pronounced by the Judge of the said Court shall be final until it has been approved of by the said Lieutenant-Governor.

Government may remit sentence or mitigate punishment.

The said Lieutenant-Governor may remit the whole or any part of such sentence, or may direct the substitution of any mitigated punishment in lieu of the punishment awarded by the said Court, as he shall think fit.

If verdict of Jurors be manifestly contrary to evidence, or trial be otherwise insufficient.

XIX. If it shall appear to the Judge of the said Court that the verdict of the Jurors is manifestly contrary to the evidence, or that the trial is otherwise insufficient, the Judge, instead of passing sentence on the accused person, or declaring him acquitted, as the case may be, may certify the same to the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, and the said Lieutenant-Governor may either order a new trial before another Jury, or acquit the accused person, as he shall think fit.

Power of Government to make rules of practice.

XX. It shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal to make such rules as he shall think proper, not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, for conducting the proceedings and regulating the practice of the said Court.

Act not to restrict Marine Authorities or Government from passing orders upon a charge of breach of duty where a trial is not deemed necessary.

Nothing contained in this Act shall be held to restrict the Marine Authorities or the Government from passing such orders as may be deemed proper upon any charge of breach of duty preferred against any person employed in the said Pilot Service, when it shall not be deemed necessary that such person should be brought to trial for such breach of duty under the provisions of this Act.

Withdrawal of license from licensed Pilot.

XXII. If any person licensed to act as a Pilot when duly charged with breach of duty as aforesaid, shall refuse to submit himself to trial under the provisions of this Act, the license of such person shall be withdrawn, and he shall be incapable of being again licensed to act as a Pilot at the said Presidency.

No. 2639.

Fort William, the 10th May 1859.

His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General in Council has had under his consideration the Proceedings of the Special Commission assembled at Furruckabad for the trial of Tufuzzul Hosein, formerly Nawab of Furruckabad.

The charges against the prisoner were as follows :—

"1*st Count.*—That he, Tufuzzul Hosein Khan, being a person owing allegiance to the British Government, did rebel and wage war against the said British Government from the month of June to the end of December 1857, and acted as a leader and instigator in revolt in the Furruckabad District, one of the centres of rebellion, during the above period.

"2*nd Count.*—That he, Tufuzzul Hosein Khan, was a principal and accessary before and after the fact to the murder of many British subjects in the aforesaid District of Furruckabad and its neighbourhood, between the months of June and December 1857, in the following instances :—

1*st.*—To the murder of forty Europeans, more or less, on the Maunpoor Kutree or sand-bank, in the month of July 1857.

2nd.—To the murder of European ladies and children, with Eufasians and Native Christians, about twenty-two in all, on the Futtehghur Parade Ground, in the month of July 1857.

3rd.—To the murder of Kallay Khan, a loyal Sepoy of the 10th Native Infantry, in the month of July or August 1857.

4th.—To the murder of two loyal Seikhs, names unknown, who were killed with Kallay Khan Sepoy, in the month of July or August 1857."

After a patient, careful, and impartial trial, the Court pronounced the following verdict and sentence:—

"The Court unanimously convict the prisoner Tufuzzul Hosein Khan, Ex-Nawab Raees of Furruckabad, as follows:—

1*st Count.*—Guilty.—That is to say that he, being a person owing allegiance to the British Government, did rebel and wage war against the said British Government, from the month of June to the end of December 1857, and was a principal leader and instigator in revolt in the Furruckabad District, one of the centres of rebellion, during the above period.

2*nd Count.*—In the first instance, guilty of being an accessary after the fact to the murder of forty Europeans or thereabouts on the Maunpoor Kutree, or sand-bank, in the River Ganges, on or about the 4th of July 1857.

In the second instance, guilty of being accessary before and after the fact to the murder of twenty-two persons or thereabouts, being European, East Indian and Native Christians, men, women, and children, on the Futtehghur Parade Ground, on or about the 23rd July 1857.

In the third instance, guilty of being accessary before and after the fact to the murder of Kallay Khan, a loyal Sepoy of the 10th Regiment Native Infantry, at Furruckabad, on or about the 29th July 1857.

In the fourth instance, guilty of being accessary before and after the fact to the murder of two loyal Seikhs, names unknown, at Furruckabad, on or about the 29th July 1857.

This Court having found the prisoner guilty as above, do sentence him, Tufuzzul Hosein Khan, to be hanged by the neck till he be dead; and do further adjudge that all his property of whatever description be confiscated, but in obedience to the orders of Government appointing this Commission, the execution of this sentence is suspended until receipt of further orders."

The Governor General in Council entirely approves and confirms the verdict and sentence of the Court. The former is fully borne out by the evidence adduced on the trial, and the latter is the only sentence which could properly be passed on the criminal.

But it came out on the trial, and was pleaded by the prisoner as a bar to the execution of the sentence, that before his surrender a letter had been written to him by Major Barrow, the Special Commissioner with the Camp of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, in which he was invited to surrender, and that in this letter he was told that pardon had been extended to all who had not personally committed the murder of British subjects, and that if he had not personally committed the murder of British subjects, he might surrender without apprehension.

Whatever may have been the meaning of Major Barrow in addressing this letter to Tufuzzul Hosein, and whatever may have been the prisoner's understanding of it at the time, it is certain that on the receipt of it he immediately surrendered. He now claims the fulfilment of the promise of pardon made by Major Barrow, being found guilty, not of having personally committed the murder of English subjects, but of having been an accessary before the fact.

The Governor General in Council entirely condemns and disavows the act of Major Barrow, in making a promise contrary to the Royal Proclamation, and contrary to the express order of the Government excepting the prisoner from all benefit of pardon: But His Excellency in Council will not suffer it to be said, that the prisoner having been induced to surrender on the promise of a British Officer in Major Barrow's position, has in consequence of that surrender been put to death for a crime of less degree than that which was designated by the Officer as alone rendering him liable to punishment.

The Governor General in Council has, therefore, resolved to forbear from carrying out the sentence of the Court on Tufuzzul Hosein, on the condition that he shall immediately quit the British Territory for ever. If he accept this condition, he will be conveyed to the Frontier as a convict under a Military guard, and there set at liberty. If he refuse the condition, or if having accepted it, he shall break it, or attempt to break it, now, or at any future time, the capital sentence pronounced upon him will be carried out.

Legislative Council of India.

THE following Act, passed by the Legislative Council of India, received the assent of the Right Honorable the Governor General on the 4th May 1859, and is hereby promulgated for general information:—

ACT No. XI OF 1859.

An Act to improve the law relating to sales of Land for arrears of Revenue in the Lower Provinces under the Bengal Presidency.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to discontinue the practice of obtaining the previous sanction of the Board of Revenue to sales of estates for arrears of revenue, or other demands of Government, in the Province of Cuttack: and whereas it is just that a person having a lien upon an estate, and paying the money necessary to protect it from sale for arrears of revenue, should be reasonably secured: and whereas it is expedient to afford sharers in estates, who duly pay their shares of the Sudder Jumma of their estates, easy means of protecting their shares from sale by reason of the default of their co-sharers: and whereas it is expedient to afford land-holders, particularly absentees, facilities in guarding against the accidental sale of their estates for arrears of revenue by reason of the neglect or fraud of their agents: and whereas it is expedient to provide for the voluntary registration of dependent talooks existing at the time of settlement: and whereas it is expedient to protect the holders of registered under-tenures created since the settlement, and not resumable by the grantors or their representatives, from loss by the avoidance of their tenures on the occasion of a sale of the superior estate for arrears of public revenue, when the arrears can be realized by such sale: and to give absolute security to such tenures by special registry, when shown to be held at rents sufficient for the security of the revenue: and it is therefore proper, for the above and other purposes, to improve the law relating to sales of land for arrears of revenue in the Provinces of Bengal, Behar, and Orissa: It is enacted as follows:—

Laws repealed.

I. Regulation X. 1818 (relating to collection of the public revenue from proprietors and farmers of land in the District of Cuttack &c.) is hereby repealed; and from the date of the passing of this law, Act I of 1845 (regarding sales of land for arrears of Revenue), except in so far as it repeals other laws, and except in regard to sales made or advertised, to arrears and other demands realizable, and to suits commenced and acts done, under authority thereof—shall cease to have effect in the Lower Provinces of Bengal.

What is an arrear of revenue.

II. If the whole or a portion of a kist or instalment of any month of the era, according to which the settlement and kistbundee of any mehal have been regulated, be unpaid on the first of the following month of such era, the sum so remaining unpaid shall be considered an arrear of revenue.

Latest day of payment.

III. Upon the promulgation of this Act, the Board of Revenue at Calcutta shall determine upon what dates all arrears of revenue and all demands which by the Regulations and Acts in force are directed to be realized in the same manner as arrears of revenue, shall be paid up in each district under their jurisdiction, in default of which payment the estates in arrear in those districts, except as hereinafter provided, shall be sold at public auction to the highest bidder. And the said Board shall give notice of the dates so fixed in the official Gazette, and shall direct corresponding publication to be made as far as regards each district in the language of that district, in the office of the Collector or other officer duly authorized to hold sales under this Act, in the Courts of the Judge, Magistrate, (or Joint Magistrate, as the case may be,) and Moonsiffs, and at every Thannah station of that district; and the dates so fixed shall not be changed except by the said Board by advertisement and notification, in the manner above described, to be issued at least three months before the close of the official year preceding that in which the new date is, or dates are, to take effect.

In Sylhet, personal property liable to distress and sale.

IV. Provided that in the district of Sylhet, the Collector may be authorized by the Board of Revenue to proceed in the first instance by the distress and sale of the personal property of defaulters, instead of by the sale of their estates.

Proviso in the case of certain descriptions of arrear.

V. Provided always that no estate, and no share or interest in any estate, shall be sold for the recovery of arrears or demands of the descriptions mentioned below, otherwise than after a notification in the language of the district, specifying the nature and amount of the arrear or demand, and the latest date on which payment thereof shall be received, shall have been affixed for a period of not less than fifteen clear days preceding the date fixed for payment, according to Section III of this Act, in the office of the Collector or other officer duly authorized to hold sales under this Act, in the Court of the Judge within whose jurisdiction the land advertised lies, and in the Moonsiff's Court and Police Thannah of the division in which the estate or share of an estate to which the notification relates, is situated; or if the estate or share of an estate be situated within the jurisdiction of more than one Moonsiff's Court or Police Thannah, in some one or more of such Courts or Thannahs; and also at the cutcherry of the malgoozar or owner of the estate or share of an estate, or at some conspicuous place upon the estate or share of an estate, the same to be certified by the peon or other person employed for the purpose.

First.—Arrears other than those of the current year, or of the year immediately preceding.

Secondly.—Arrears due on account of estates other than that to be sold.

Thirdly.—Arrears of estates under attachment by order of any judicial authority, or managed by the Collector in accordance with such order.

Fourthly.—Arrears due on account of tuccavee, poolbundee, or other demands not being land revenue, but recoverable by the same process as arrears of land revenue.

Notifications of sale to be issued, and no tender after latest day of payment to stop the sale.

VI. The Collector or other officer duly authorized to hold sales under this Act shall, as soon as possible after the latest day of payment fixed in the manner prescribed in Section III of this Act, issue notifications in the language of the district, to be affixed in his own Office and in the Court of the Judge of the district, specifying the estates or shares of estates which will be sold as aforesaid, and the day on which the sale of the same will commence, which day shall not be less than fifteen or more than thirty clear days from the date of affixing the notification in the Office of the Collector or other officer as aforesaid. And if the Government revenue of any estate or share of an estate to be sold, exceed the sum of five hundred Rupees, a notification of the sale of such estate or share of an estate shall be published in the official Gazette. Except as hereinafter provided, all estates or shares of estates so specified shall, on the day notified for sale, or on the day or days following be put up to public auction by and in the presence of the Collector or other officer as aforesaid, and shall be sold to the highest bidder. And no payment, or tender of payment, made after sunset of the said latest day of payment, shall bar or interfere with the sale, either at the time of sale or after its conclusion.

Notice to ryots, &c.

VII. Whenever an estate or share of an estate is notified for sale as provided by Section VI of this Act, the Collector or other officer as aforesaid shall affix a proclamation in the language of the district in his own Office, and as soon thereafter as may be in the Moonsiff's Courts and Police Thannahs within which the estate or share of an estate, or any part of it, is situated, and also at the cutcherry of the malgoozar or the owner of the estate or share of an estate, or at some conspicuous place upon the estate or share of an estate forbidding the ryots and undertenants to pay to the defaulting proprietor any rent which has fallen due after the day fixed for the last day of payment, on pain of not being entitled to credit in their accounts with the purchaser for any sums so paid.

Claims against Government held by a defaulter not to invalidate a sale.

VIII. No claim to abatement or remission of revenue unless the same shall have been allowed by the authority of Government, and no private demand or cause of action whatever held or supposed to be held by any defaulter against Government, shall bar or render void or voidable a sale under this Act; nor shall the plea that money belonging to the defaulter, and sufficient to pay the arrear of revenue due, was in the Collector's hands, bar or render void or voidable a sale under this Act, unless such money stand in the defaulter's name alone and without dispute, and unless, after application in due time made by the defaulter, or after the written agreement provided for in Section XV of this Act, the Collector shall have neglected, or refused on insufficient grounds, to transfer it on payment of the arrear of revenue due.

Deposits receivable from persons not proprietors.

IX. The Collector or other Officer as aforesaid shall, at any time before sunset of the latest day of payment determined according to Section III of this Act; receive as a deposit from any person not being a proprietor of the estate or share of an estate in arrear, the amount of the arrear of revenue due, to be credited in payment of the arrear at sunset as aforesaid, unless before that time the arrear shall have been paid by a defaulting proprietor of the estate. And in case the person so depositing, whose money shall have been credited in the manner aforesaid, shall be a party in a suit pending before a Court of Justice for the possession of the estate or share from which the arrear is due, or any part thereof, it shall be competent to the said Court to order the said party to be put into temporary possession of the said estate or share, or part thereof, subject to the rules in force for taking security in the cases of parties in Civil suits. And if the person so depositing, whose money shall have been credited as aforesaid, shall prove before a competent Civil Court that the deposit was made in order to protect an interest of the said person, which would have been endangered or damaged by the sale, or which he believed in good faith would have been endangered or damaged by the sale, he shall be entitled to recover the amount of the deposit, with or without interest as the Court may determine, from the defaulting proprietor. And if the party so depositing, whose money shall have been credited as aforesaid, shall prove before such a Court that the deposit was necessary in order to protect any lien he had on the estate, or share, or part thereof, the amount so credited shall be added to the amount of the original lien.

Separation of shares held in common.

X. When a recorded sharer of a joint estate, held in common tenancy, desires to pay his share of the Government revenue separately, he may submit to the Collector a written application to that effect. The application must contain a specification of the share held in the estate by the applicant. The Collector shall then cause to be published in his own Office in the Courts of the Judge, Magistrate (or Joint Magistrate, as the case may be), and Moonsiffs, and in the Police Thannahs in whose jurisdiction the estate or any part thereof is situated, as well as on some conspicuous part of the estate itself, a copy of the application made to him. If within six weeks from the date of the publication of these notices, no objection is made by any other recorded sharer, the Collector shall open a separate account with the applicant, and shall credit separately to his share all payments made by him on account of it. The date on which the Collector records his sanction to the opening of a separate account, shall be held to be that from which the separate liabilities of the share of the applicant commence.

Separation of shares consisting of specific portions of land.

XI. When a recorded sharer of a joint estate, whose share consists of a specific portion of the land of the estate, desires to pay his share of the Government revenue separately, he may submit to the Collector a written application to that effect. The application must contain a specification of the land comprised in his share, and of the boundaries and extent thereof, together with a statement of the amount of sudder jumma heretofore paid on account of it. On the receipt of this application, the Collector shall cause it to be published in the manner prescribed for publication of notice in the last preceding Section. In the event of no objection being urged by any recorded co-sharer within six weeks from the time of publication, the Collector shall open a separate account with the applicant, and shall credit separately to his share all payments made by him on account of it. The date on which the Collector records his sanction to the opening of a separate account, shall be held to be that from which the separate liabilities of the share of the applicant commence.

If objection be made, parties to be referred to the Civil Court.

XII. If any recorded proprietor of the estate, whether the same be held in common tenancy or otherwise, object that the applicant has no right to the share claimed by him, or that his interest in the estate is less or other than that claimed by him, or if the application be in respect of a specific portion of the land of an estate, that the amount of sudder jumma stated by the applicant to have been heretofore paid on account of such portion of land is not the amount which has been recognized by the other sharers as the jumma thereof, the Collector shall refer the parties to the Civil Court, and shall suspend proceedings until the question at issue is judicially determined.

Sale of separate shares.

XIII. Whenever the Collector shall have ordered a separate account or accounts to be kept for one or more shares, if the estate shall become liable to sale for arrears of revenue, the Collector or other officer as aforesaid in the first place shall put up to sale only that share or those shares of the estate from which, according to the separate accounts, an arrear of revenue may be due. In all such cases notice of the intention of excluding the share or shares from which no arrear is due, shall be given in the advertisement of sale prescribed in Section VI of this Act. The share or shares sold, together with the share or shares excluded from the sale, shall continue to constitute one integral estate, the share or shares sold being charged with the separate portion or the aggregate of the several separate portions of jumma assigned thereto.

Entire estate may be sold under certain conditions.

XIV. If in any case of a sale held according to the provisions of the last preceding Section, the highest offer for the share exposed to sale shall not equal the amount of arrear due thereupon to the date of sale, the Collector or other officer as aforesaid shall stop the sale, and shall declare that the entire estate will be put up to sale for arrears of revenue at a future date, unless the other recorded sharer or sharers, or one or more of them, shall within ten days purchase the share in arrear by paying to Government the whole arrear due from such share. If such purchase be completed, the Collector or other officer as aforesaid shall give such certificate and delivery of possession as are provided for in Sections XXVIII and XXIX of this Act, to the purchaser or purchasers, who shall have the same rights as if the share had been purchased by him or them at the sale. If no such purchase be made within ten days as aforesaid, the entire estate shall be sold, after notification for such period and publication in such manner as is prescribed in Section VI of this Act.

Deposit for the protection of an estate from sale.

XV. If any recorded proprietor or co-partner of an estate shall deposit with the Collector money, or Government securities endorsed and made payable to the order of the Collector, and shall sign an agreement pledging the same to Government by way of security for the jumma of the entire estate, and authorizing the Collector to apply to the payment of any arrear of revenue that may become due from that estate the whole or any portion of the said money or securities that may be necessary for that purpose, then in the case of any arrear of revenue due from the said estate not being paid before sunset of the latest day of payment fixed under Section III of this Act, the Collector shall apply to the payment of such arrear the said money or securities, or such part thereof or of any interest due on the said securities as may be necessary; and for this purpose the Collector shall first apply any money that may be in his hands and any interest that may be due upon such securities, and may then sell and transfer the securities for any balance that may remain. And so long as any money or securities as aforesaid, sufficient to cover any arrear that may fall due, shall remain and be available as aforesaid, the estate for the protection of which the said deposit was made shall be exempted from sale for arrears of revenue. All monies and securities so deposited shall be exempt from attachment, otherwise than in execution of a decree of a Civil Court.

Withdrawal of the deposit.

XVI. It shall be competent to the person making a deposit under the provision of the last preceding Section, or his representative or assignee, at any time to withdraw the deposit, and to revoke the pledge of the same.

Estates under Court of Wards or attachment.

XVII. No estate shall be liable to sale for the recovery of arrears which have accrued during the period of its being under the management of the Court of Wards; and no estate the sole property of a minor or minors, and descended to him or them by the regular course of inheritance duly notified to the Collector for the information of the Court of Wards, but of which the Court of Wards has not assumed the management under Regulation VI. 1822, shall be sold for arrears of revenue accruing subsequently to his or their succession to the same, until the minor or minors, or one of them, shall have attained the full age of eighteen years. And no estate held under attachment by the revenue authorities otherwise than by order of a judicial authority, shall be liable to sale for arrears accruing whilst it was so held under attachment. And no estate held under attachment or managed by a Revenue Officer, in pursuance of an order of a judicial authority, shall be liable to sale for the recovery of arrears of revenue accruing during the period of such attachment, or management until after the end of the year in which such arrears accrued.

Estates may be specially exempted from sale.

XVIII. It shall be competent to the Collector, or other Officer as aforesaid, at any time before the sale of an estate or share of an estate shall have commenced, to exempt such estate or share from sale; and in like manner it shall be competent to the Commissioner of Revenue, at any time before the sale of an estate or share of an estate shall have commenced, to exempt such estate or share from sale, by a special order to the Collector or other officer as aforesaid to that effect in each case; and no such sale shall be legal if held after the receipt of such order of exemption. Provided, however, and it is hereby enacted, that the Collector or other officer as aforesaid or the Commissioner shall duly record in a proceeding the reason for granting such exemption; and provided also that an order for exemption so issued by the Commissioner shall not affect the legality of a sale which may have taken place before the receipt by the Collector or other officer as aforesaid of the order of exemption.

Proviso.

Sales where to be made.

XIX. Sales shall ordinarily be made by the Collector or other officer as aforesaid in the land revenue office at the Sudder Station of the District: provided, however, that it shall be competent to the Board of Revenue to prescribe a place for holding sales other than such office, whenever they shall consider it beneficial to the parties concerned.

Adjournment of sales.

XX. In case the Collector or other officer as aforesaid shall be unable from sickness, from the occurrence of a holiday, or from any other cause, to commence the sale on the day of sale fixed as aforesaid; or if, having commenced it, he be unable, from any cause, to complete it; he shall be competent to adjourn it to the next day following, not being Sunday or other close holiday, recording his reasons for such adjournment, forwarding a copy of such record to the Commissioner of Revenue, and announcing the adjournment by a written proclamation stuck up in his cutcherry; and so on, from day to day, until he shall be able to commence upon, or to complete the sale; but, with the exception of adjournments so made, recorded, and reported, each sale shall invariably be made on the day of sale fixed in the manner aforesaid.

Order of selling.

XXI. On the day of sale fixed according to Section VI of this Act, sales shall proceed in regular order; the estate to be sold bearing the lowest number on the towjee or register in use in the Collector's office of the district being put up first, and so on, in regular sequence; and it shall not be lawful for the Collector or other officer as aforesaid to put up any estate out of its regular order by number, except where it may be necessary to do so on default of deposit, as provided in Section XXII of this Act.

Deposit on account of purchase money.

XXII. The party who shall be declared the purchaser of an estate or share of an estate at any such public sale as aforesaid, shall be required to deposit immediately or as soon after the conclusion of the sale of the estate or share as the Collector or other officer as aforesaid may think necessary, either in cash, Bank of Bengal Notes or Post Bills, or Government Securities to be valued at the market rate of the day, duly endorsed, twenty-five per cent. on the amount of his bid; and in default of such deposit, the estate or share shall forthwith be put up again and sold.

Full payment of purchase money.

XXIII. The full amount of purchase money shall be made good by the purchaser before sunset of the thirtieth day from that on which the sale of the estate or share of an estate bought by him took place, reckoning that day as one of the thirty; or if the thirtieth day be a Sunday or other close holiday, then on the first office day after the thirtieth: and in default of payment within the prescribed period as aforesaid, the deposit shall be forfeited to Government, the estate or share shall be resold, and the defaulting purchaser shall forfeit all claim to the estate or share, or to any part of the sum for which it may subsequently be sold. And in the event of the proceeds of the sale which may be eventually consummated being less than the price bid by the defaulting bidder aforesaid, the difference shall be leviable from him by any process authorized for realizing an arrear of public revenue, and such difference shall be taken and considered to be a part of the purchase money and shall be dealt with in the manner hereinafter prescribed for the disposal thereof.

Re-sale.

XXIV. When default is made in the payment of purchase money a notification of the intended re-sale shall be published for the period and in the manner prescribed in Section VI of this Act, but such notification shall not be published until the expiration of three clear days after the day on which the default shall have occurred and if the payment or tender of payment of the arrear on account of which the estate or share was first sold, and of any arrear which may have subsequently become due shall be made by or on behalf of the proprietor of the estate or share before sunset of the third day, the issue of the notification of re-sale shall be stayed. The rules contained in the last preceding Section shall be applicable to every such re-sale. Provided that, if default of payment of purchase money shall occur more than once, the amount to be recovered from the defaulting bidders shall be the difference between the highest bid and the proceeds of the sale eventually consummated, which amount may be levied in manner aforesaid from any of the defaulting bidders to the extent of the amount by which his bid exceeds the amount realized.

Appeals.

XXV. It shall be lawful for the Commissioner of Revenue to receive an appeal against any sale made under this Act, if preferred to him on or before the fifteenth day from the date of sale, reckoning as in Section XXIII, or if preferred to the Collector or other Officer as aforesaid for transmission to the Commissioner, on or before the tenth day from the day of sale, and not otherwise; and the Commissioner shall be competent in every case of appeal so preferred, to annul any sale of an estate or share of an estate made under this Act, which shall appear to him not to have been conducted according to the provisions of this Act, awarding at the same time to the purchaser a payment from the proprietor of any moderate compensation for his loss, if the sale shall have been occasioned by neglect of the proprietor, such compensation not to exceed the interest, at the highest rate of the current Government Securities, on the amount of deposit or balance of purchase money during the period of its being retained in the Collector's office; and the order of the Commissioner shall in such cases be final.

Annulment of sale in special cases.

XXVI. It shall be competent to the Commissioner of Revenue, on the ground of hardship or injustice, to suspend the passing of final orders in any case of appeal from a sale, and to represent the case to the Board of Revenue, who, if they see cause, may recommend to the local Government to annul the sale; and the local Government in any such case may annul the sale and cause the estate or share of an estate to be restored to the proprietor on such conditions as may appear equitable and proper.

Sales when final.

XXVII. All sales of which the purchase money has been paid up as prescribed in Section XXIII of this Act, and against which no appeal shall have been preferred, shall be final and conclusive at noon of the thirtieth day from the day of sale, reckoning the said day of sale as the first of the said thirty days. And sales against which an appeal may have been preferred, and dismissed by the Commissioner, shall be final and conclusive from the date of such dismissal, if more than thirty days from the day of sale, or if less, then at noon of the thirtieth day as above provided.

Certificate of sales.

XXVIII. Immediately upon a sale becoming final and conclusive, the Collector or other Officer as aforesaid shall give to the purchaser a certificate of title in the form prescribed in Schedule A annexed to this Act. And the said certificate shall be deemed in any Court of Justice sufficient evidence of the title to the estate or share of an estate sold being vested in the person or persons named from the date specified; and the Collector shall also notify such transfer by written proclamation in his own office, and in the Courts of the Moonsiffs and Police Thannahs within whose jurisdictions any part of the estate or share sold shall be situated.

Delivery of possession.

XXIX. The Collector or other officer as aforesaid shall order delivery of possession of the estate or share purchased to be made by removing any person who may refuse to vacate the same, and by proclamation to the occupants of the property by beat of drum or in such other mode as may be customary, at some convenient place or places; and by affixing a copy of the certificate at the Mal cutchery or in some conspicuous place of the estate or share of an estate purchased.

Application of purchase money.

XXXI. The Collector shall apply the purchase money first to the liquidation of all arrears due upon the latest day of payment from the estate or share of an estate sold; and secondly to the liquidation of all outstanding demands debited to the estate or share of an estate in the public accounts of the District; holding the residue, if any, in deposit on account of the late recorded proprietor or proprietors of the estate or share of an estate sold or their heirs or representatives to be paid to his or their receipt on demand in the manner following: to wit, in shares proportioned to their recorded interest in the estate or share of an estate sold; if such distinction of shares were recorded, or if not, then as an aggregate sum to the whole body of proprietors upon their joint receipt. And if before payment to the late proprietor or proprietors of any surplus that may remain of the purchase money, the same be claimed by any creditor in satisfaction of a debt, such surplus shall not be payable to such claimant, nor shall it be withheld from the proprietor, except under precept of a Civil Court.

Notification of annulment of sale.

XXXII. The annulment by a Commissioner or by Government of a sale made under this Act shall be publicly notified by the Collector or other officer as aforesaid, in the same manner as the becoming final and conclusive of sales is required to be notified by Section XXVIII of this Act; and the amount of deposit and balance of purchase money shall be forthwith returned to the purchaser with interest thereon at the highest rates of the current public securities; which shall be paid by the Government, unless the proprietor shall have become liable for the same under the provisions of Section XXV or Section XXVI of this Act.

Jurisdiction of Civil Courts in suits to amend sales.

XXXIII. No sale for arrears of revenue or other demands realizable in the same manner as arrears of revenue are realizable, made after the passing of this Act, shall be annulled by a Court of Justice, except upon the ground of its having been made contrary to the provisions of this Act, and then only on proof that the plaintiff has sustained substantial injury by reason of the irregularity complained of: and no such sale shall be annulled upon such ground, unless such ground shall have been declared and specified in an appeal made to the Commissioner under Section XXV of this Act: and no suit to annul a sale made under this Act shall be received by any Court of Justice unless it shall be instituted within one year from the date of the sale becoming final and conclusive as provided in Section XXVII of this Act: and no person shall be entitled to contest the legality of a sale, after having received any portion of the purchase money. Provided, however, that nothing in this Act contained shall be construed to debar any person considering himself wronged by any act or omission connected with a sale under this Act, from his remedy in a personal action for damages against the person by whose act or omission he considers himself to have been wronged.

Proviso.

Effects of annulment by decree of Court of sales under this Act.

XXXIV. If a sale made under this Act be annulled by a final decree of a Civil Court, application for the execution of such decree shall be made within six months after the date thereof; otherwise the party in whose favor such decree was passed shall lose all benefit therefrom. And no order for restoring such decreeholder to possession shall be passed until any amount of surplus purchase money that may have been paid away by order of a Civil Court be repaid by him, with interest at the highest rate of the current Government Securities. And if such party shall neglect to pay any amount so recoverable, within six months from the date of such final decree, he shall lose all benefit therefrom.

If sale annulled, purchase money to be refunded.

XXXV. In the event of a sale being annulled by a final decree of a Court of Justice, and the former proprietor being restored to possession, the purchase money shall be refunded to the purchaser by Government, together with interest at the highest rate of the current public securities.

No suits on the ground of benamee purchase.

XXXVI. Any suit brought to oust the certified purchaser as aforesaid, on the ground that the purchase was made on behalf of another person not the certified purchaser, or on behalf partly of himself and partly of another person, though by agreement the name of the certified purchaser was used, shall be dismissed with costs.

Rights of a purchaser of a permanently settled estate sold for its own arrears.

XXXVII. The purchaser of an entire estate in the permanently settled Districts of Bengal, Behar, and Orissa, sold under this Act for the recovery of arrears due on account of the same shall acquire the estate free from all encumbrances which may have been imposed upon it after the time of settlement; and shall be entitled to avoid and annul all under-tenures and forthwith to eject all under-tenants, with the following exceptions:—

And such a purchaser as is aforesaid shall be entitled to proceed in the manner prescribed by any law for the time being in force for the enhancement of the rent of any land coming within the fourth class of exceptions above made, if he can prove the same to have been held at what was originally an unfair rent, and if the same shall not have been held at a fixed rent, equal to the rent of good arable land, for a term exceeding twelve years; but not otherwise.

Proviso.

Provided always, that nothing in this Section contained shall be construed to entitle any such purchaser as aforesaid to eject any ryot, having a right of occupancy at a fixed rent or at a rent assessable according to fixed rules under the laws in force, or to enhance the rent of any such ryot otherwise than in the manner prescribed by such laws, or otherwise than the former proprietor, irrespectively of all engagements made since the time of settlement, may have been entitled to do.

XLI. When the application is for common registry, the Collector shall serve a notice on the recorded proprietor or proprietors of the estate in which the tenure or farm is situated, or the authorized agent of such proprietor or proprietors, with a copy of the application annexed; and shall cause a notice, with a copy of the application annexed, to be affixed in his office, and at the mal-cutcherry of the estate in which the tenure or farm is situated, or in such other place or places as in the opinion of the Collector may be best suited to give publicity to the application, requiring the proprietor or any party interested, within thirty days from the issue of the said notice, to file any objections he may have to the registry of the tenure or farm, or to any statement contained in the application. Otherwise the application shall be rejected. If within the limited time any recorded proprietor or any party interested not being a proprietor object to the registry, the Collector shall examine the person so objecting or his authorized agent, and if it shall appear to him that such person has probable ground of objection, shall suspend proceedings, and shall refer the parties to the Civil Court, otherwise he shall proceed as if no objection had been made. If the decision of the Civil Court be in favor of the applicant, the Collector, on the presentation of a copy of the final decree, shall proceed as above provided for cases in which no objection is made within the limited time.

L. Entry in the special register shall be an effectual protection of the tenure or farm so registered, unless in a suit instituted by Government in a Civil Court within the period allowed for suits for the recovery of the public revenue a decree be passed pronouncing the registration to have been obtained by fraud, to the injury of the Government revenue. Provided that a tenure or farm in the hands of a bonâ fide purchaser for value shall not be avoided by reason of such fraud. But the tenure or farm shall be liable to such amount of rent as would have been fair and equitable at the time of the special registry thereof, such amount to be fixed by the Collector.

ACT No. XII OF 1859.

An Act to make better provision for the trial of Pilots at the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal for breach of duty.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the law for the trial of persons employed in the Pilot Service of Government, at the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal, when accused of breach of duty, and to extend the same to persons licensed to act as Pilots at the said Presidency ; It is enacted as follows :—

Acts repealed.

I. Act XXIV of 1845 (for establishing a Court for the trial of Officers of the Pilot Service accused of breach of duty) and Act I of 1851 (for the appropriation of fines levied under Act XXIV. of 1845*)* are hereby repealed.

How Pilots accused of breach of duty shall be brought to trial.

II. When any person employed in the Pilot Service of Government at the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal, or licensed to act as a Pilot at the said Presidency, shall be accused of having committed any breach of duty while engaged in such Service, or acting under such license, and it shall appear to the Superintendent of Marine, or to the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal that such person ought to be brought to trial for such breach of duty, such person shall be brought to trial upon a charge or charges framed by the said Superintendent of Marine or such other person as the said Lieutenant-Governor shall direct, before a Court constituted under the provisions of this Act.

Appointment of Judge.

III. The Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal shall appoint a fit person to be Judge of the said Court.

V. Every trial under this Act shall be held before the said Judge and a Jury composed of two Merchants of Calcutta, a Master of a Merchant Ship lying in the Port of Calcutta, and a Pilot of not less than twenty years' service.

Lists of Merchants and Pilots liable to serve on the Jury.

VI. The Judge shall cause to be prepared and shall keep two separate lists, one containing the names of Merchants, the other containing the names of Pilots, liable to serve on such Jury. The names in each list shall be arranged in alphabetical order, and the place of abode and quality or business of each person named shall be stated.

Notice to prosecutor and accused of time and place for appointing Jury.

VII. When the Judge shall be about to hold a trial under this Act, he shall give notice to the prosecutor and to the party accused of a time and place to be fixed by the Judge for appointing a Jury to serve at such trial.

VIII. At the time and place mentioned in the notice, the Judge in the presence of the prosecutor and the person accused shall read over the names which first occur in each of the said lists of those Merchants and Pilots who he has reason to believe are present in Calcutta and capable of attending as Jurors at the trial ; and shall also propose the name of a Master of a Merchant Ship lying in the Port of Calcutta, whom he deems qualified to serve on such Jury. If no objection be made and allowed, the persons so nominated shall be the Jury to serve at the trial. If the prosecutor or the party accused shall object to any of the persons named as Jurors, he shall assign the grounds of his objection and such objection shall forthwith be decided by the Judge. Trial how to proceed if any of the Jurors do not attend.

X. If for any cause any of the persons summoned to attend as Jurors shall not be in attendance at the time fixed for the commencement of the trial, the trial may with the consent of the prosecutor and the party accused be held before the Judge and such Jurors as shall be in attendance. If such consent be not given, the place of the absent Juror shall be supplied by some other person selected by the Judge from the same profession or calling as the person originally summoned and who shall consent to serve, provided no objection to such person be made and allowed in manner aforesaid. If the parties or either of them do not consent that the trial shall be held before the Judge and such Jurors as may be in attendance and the place of the absent Juror cannot be supplied by a person consenting to serve, the trial shall be postponed to another day and the Judge shall either re-summon the same Jury or appoint and summon another Jury in the manner hereinbefore provided.

Fines &c. how to be levied.

XI. The following Order of the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty in Council, dated the 3rd March 1859, is published for general information:—

Whereas Her Majesty was pleased, by an Order in Council, passed on the twenty-fourth day of February, one thousand eight hundred and forty-three, in pursuance of the powers vested in Her Majesty by an Act passed in the session of Parliament holden in the third and fourth years of the reign of His late Majesty King William the Fourth intituled "An Act to regulate the Trade to China and India," to prohibit Her Majesty's subjects from resorting, for the purposes of trade and commerce, to any other ports in the dominions of the Emperor of China than those of Canton, Amoy, Foo-chow-foo, Ningpo, and Shanghae, or than might be in the occupation of Her Majesty's forces; and that any of Her Majesty's subjects committing a breach or violation of the said direction should, upon conviction thereof as therein mentioned, be liable to the penalty therein mentioned:

And whereas Her Majesty was also pleased, by another Order in Council, passed on the thirteenth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, (amongst other things,) to order and declare that all trade whatsoever of Her Majesty's subjects in, to, or from any part of the coast of China to the northward of the thirty-second degree of north latitude, should be unlawful, and that every party engaged in such trade as principal, agent, shipowner, ship-master or supercargo, should be liable to be apprehended, conveyed in custody, tried, and punished as therein mentioned; and further, that it should be lawful for any of the Commanders of Her Majesty's ships, or any other Officer duly authorized in that behalf, to seize any ship or vessel under the British flag which might reasonably be suspected of having been engaged, or being engaged, in trade declared to be unlawful as aforesaid, and to bring such ship or vessel, and the master, officer, supercargo, and crew thereof, to the Colony of Hong Hong, or to any other place where the Chief Superintendent of British Trade in China might, for the time being, be resident, or direct the same to be brought; and there to detain such ship or vessel, and the masters, officers, supercargo, and crew thereof until the said Chief Superintendent should have tried and determined the charges which might be brought against them, or any of them, of having been engaged in such unlawful trade as aforesaid:

And whereas, by a Treaty agreed upon and concluded between Her Majesty and the Emperor of China, and signed in the English and Chinese languages, at Tien-tsin, on the twenty-sixth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, it is amongst other things stipulated and agreed, that British subjects may travel for their pleasure, or for purposes of trade, to all parts of the interior of China, under passports which will be issued by their Consuls, and countersigned by the local authorities, and that British merchant-ships shall have authority to trade upon the great River (Yang-tze), but that the Upper and Lower Valley of the said river being disturbed by outlaws, no port shall be for the present open to trade, with the exception of Chin-kiang, which shall be opened in a year from the date of the signing of the said Treaty, and that so soon as peace shall have been restored, British subjects shall also be admitted to trade at such ports as far as Han-kow, not exceeding three in number as the Britsh Minister, after consultation with the Chinese Secretary of State, may determine shall be ports of entry and discharge. And in and by the said Treaty it is further stipulated and agreed, that in addition to the cities and towns of Canton, Amoy, Fuchow (or Foo-chow-foo), Ningpo, and Shanghae, opened by the Treaty of Nankin, British subjects may frequent the cities and ports of New-Chwang, Tang-Chow, Tai-Wan (Formosa), Chau-Chow (Shawtow), and Kiung-Chow (Hainan); that they shall be permitted to carry on trade with whomsoever they please, and to proceed to and fro at pleasure with their vessels and marchandise; and that they shall enjoy the same privileges, advantages, immunities, at the said towns and ports as as they enjoy at the ports already opened to trade, including the right of residence, of buying or renting houses, of leasing land therein, and of building churches, hospitals, and cemeteries:

And whereas it is in and by the said Treaty further stipulated and agreed, that the ratifications of the said Treaty under the hands of Her Majesty and of His Majesty the Emperor of China respectively, shall be exchanged at Pekin within a year from the day of the signature of the said Treaty:

And whereas by reason of the aforesaid stipulations of the said treaty, it is necessary to revoke the prohibitions on the trade of Her Mejesty's subjects in China, contained in the said Orders in Council of the twenty-fourth day of February, one thousand eight hundred and forty-three, and the thirteenth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, respectively:

I. Now, therefore, in pursuance of the said Act of the third and fourth years of the reign of His late Majesty King William the Fourth, and in pursuance of an Act passed in the Session of Parliament holden in the sixth and seventh years of Her Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act for the better government of Her Majesty subjects resorting to China," and in execution of the powers thereby or otherwise howsoever in Her Majesty in Council vested, Her Majesty is pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to order, and doth hereby order, that the said several recited clauses and provisions of and in the said Orders in Council of the twenty-fourth day of February, one thousand eight hundred and forty-three, and the thirteenth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, respectively, and all and every other clause and provision of and in any Order in Council or Ordinance whatsoever, whereby any prohibition, restriction, punishment, penalty, or forfeiture, hath been or is imposed upon the trade of Her Majesty's subjects in China, or upon Her Majesty's subjects in respect thereof, shall be and the same are hereby repealed.

II. And it is further ordered that this Order shall commence and take effect on and from the day of the exchange of the ratifications of the said Treaty of the twenty-sixth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight.

And the Right Honorable the Earl of Malmesbury, and the Right Honorable Sir Edward Bulwer Lytton, Baronet, two of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, and the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, are to give the necessary directions herein as to them may respectively appertain.

6 and 7 Vic Cap. 94.

Treaty with Japan, signed August 26, 1858.

And whereas a Treaty of Peace, Friendship, and Commerce hath been agreed upon and concluded between Her Majesty and His Majesty the Tycoon of Japan, which was signed by the respective Plenipotentiaries of their said Majesties on the twenty-sixth day of August last: And whereas, immediately upon and from the exchange of the ratifications of the said Treaty, Her Majesty will have power and jurisdiction in the dominions of the Tycoon of Japan:

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the said Act, Her Majesty is pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to order, and it is hereby ordered, as follows:

Commencement of this Order.

I. This Order shall commence and take effect immediately upon and from the day of exchange of the ratifications of the said Treaty between Her Majesty and His Majesty the Tycoon of Japan.

Interpretation of terms.

II. And it is further ordered, that, in the construction of this Order, the word "Consul" shall be construed to include all and every Officer in Her Majesty's service, whether Consul-General, Consul, Vice-Consul, or Consular Agent, or person duly authorized to act in any of the aforesaid capacities in the dominions of the Tycoon of Japan, and engaged in carrying into execution the provisions of this Order; and that the terms "British ship," or "vessel," or "ship or vessel under the British flag," shall be construed to include any ship or vessel British-registered and navigated according to law; and any ship or vessel owned, or partly owned, by a person entitled by law to be an owner of a British-registered vessel; that the term "crew" shall be construed to include all persons employed in navigating any such ship or vessel; and that, wherever in this Order any word or words is or are used importing the singular number or the masculine gender only, such word or words shall, nevertheless, be construed to include several persons as well as one person, and females as well as males, unless it be otherwise specially provided, or there be something in the subject or context repugnant to such construction.

Power to Consuls to enforce Treaties, and to establish Rules and Regulations.

III. And it is further ordered, that the Consul in the port, place, or district in which he may reside, shall have full power and authority to carry into effect and to enforce by fine or imprisonment, as hereinafter provided, the observance of the stipulations of the said Treaty, or of the Articles for the regulation of trade appended thereto, or of any other Treaty of Treaties which may be made between Her Majesty, her heirs and successors, and the Tycoon of Japan, his heirs and successors, or of any Articles or Regulations appended thereto, and to make and enforce by fine or imprisonment, rules and regulations for the observance of the stipulations of any such Treaty, and for the peace, order, and good government of Her Majesty's subjects being within the dominions of the Tycoon of Japan.

Rules and Regulations to be exhibited in the Consular Office.

IV. And it is further ordered, that all rules and regulations made by the Consul as aforesaid shall forthwith be printed, and a copy of the same shall be affixed, and kept affixed and exhibited, in some conspicuous place in the public office of the said Consul; and printed copies of the said rules and regulations shall be provided by the Consul, and sold at a price not exceeding one dollar for each copy; and for the purpose of convicting any person offending against the said rules and regulations, and for all other purposes of law whatsoever, a printed copy of the said rules and regulations, certified under the hand of the said Consul to be a true copy thereof, shall be taken as conclusive evidence of such rules and regulations; and no penalty shall be incurred, or shall be enforced, for the breach of any such rules or regulations, until the same shall have been so affixed and exhibited for one calendar month in the public office of the Consular district within which the breach of such rules or regulations shall be alleged to have been committed: Provided always, that no rule or regulation to be hereafter made by any of Her Majesty's Consuls, and to be enforced by a penalty, shall take effect until it has been submitted and approved of by the Consul-General, and has thereupon been printed, and a copy of the same has been affixed and exhibited as aforesaid for one calendar month, in the public office of the Consular district.

Proceedings for enforcement of Treaties, and of Rules and Regulations for the observance thereof.

V. And it is further ordered, that it shall be lawful for the Consul, upon information or upon the complaint of any party, that a British subject has violated any of the stipulations of any Treaty between Her Majesty and the Tycoon of Japan, or has disregarded or infringed any of the rules and regulations for the observance of the stipulations of any such Treaty, affixed and exhibited according to the provisions of the next preceding Article of this Order, to summon before him the accused party, and to receive evidence and examine witnesses as to the guilt or innocence of such party, in regard to the offence laid to his charge, and to award such penalty of fine or imprisonment to any party convicted of any offence against any such Treaty, or against any such rules and regulations which may be specified in any such Treaty, or in any such rules and regulations; and any charge against a British subject for a breach of any Treaty, or for a breach of the rules and regulations for the observance of any such Treaty, shall be heard and determined by the Consul without assessors: Provided always, that in no case shall the penalty to be attached to a breach of any such rules and regulations exceed five hundred dollars, or three months' imprisonment.

Proceedings for enforcement of Rules and Regulations other than those for the observance thereof.

VI. And it is further ordered, that any charge against a British subject for a breach of any rules and regulations other than those relating to the observance of Treatics, shall in like manner be heard and determined by the Consul, and in all cases in which the penalty shall not exceed two hundred dollars, or one month's imprisonment, the Consul shall hear and determine the charge summarily without the aid of assessors; but where the penalty attached to a breach of any rules and regulations other than those relating to the observance of Treatics, shall amount to more than two hundred dollars, or to imprisonment for more than one month, it shall be obligatory upon the Consul, before he shall proceed to hear the charge, to summon two British subjects of good repute, residing within his district, to sit with him as assessors, which assessors shall, however, have no authority to decide on the innocence or guilt of the party accused, or on the amount of fine or imprisonment to be awarded to him on conviction, but it shall rest with the Consul to decide on the guilt or innocence of the party accused, and on the amount of fine or imprisonment to be awarded to him: Provided always, that in no case shall the penalty to be attached to a breach of rules and regulations other than those for the observance of Treaties, exceed five hundred dollars, or three months' imprisonement; and provided further, that in the event of the said assessors, or either of them, dissenting from the conviction of the party accused, or from the penalty of fine or imprisonment awarded to him by the Consul, the Consul shall take a note of such dissent, with the grounds thereof, and shall require good and sufficient security for the appearance of the party convicted, at a future time, in order to undergo his sentence or receive his discharge; and the Consul shall, within twenty days, report his decision, with all the particulars of the case, together with the dissent of the assessors or either of them, and the grounds thereof, to Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs; and Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs shall have authority to confirm or vary, or reverse, the decision of the Consul, as to him may seem fit: Provided always, that if an appeal shall be entered against the decision of the Consul, no such report shall be made to Her Majesty's Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs on the ground of the dissent of the assessors, or either of them, but the appeal shall be prosecuted in the manner hereinafter ordered.

Revision of Decisions of subordinate Consular Officers.

VII. And it is further ordered, that in any question relating to the observance of Treaties, or of the rules and regulations for the observance of Treaties, or of rules and regulations other than those for the observance of Treaties, a report of any and every decision made by a subordinate Consular Officer, with or without the aid of assessors, shall be sent in to the superior Consular Officer of the district, and that on the receipt of such report, the superior Consular Officer of such district shall proceed, without assessors, to revise such decision as to him may seem fit, and such revision shall have for the purposes of this Order, the same effect as if the case had been originally heard and determined by such superior Consular Officer, with or without the aid of assessors: Provided always, that in any case in which the assessors or either of them shall dissent from a decision of a subordinate Consular Officer, such decision shall not be subject to revision by the superior Consular Officer, but in the event of no appeal being entered as aforesaid, shall be submitted to Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs for revision, in the same manner as if such decision had been originally made by the superior Consular Officer.

Appeal against convictions for breach of Treaties or of Rules and Regulations.

VIII. And it is further ordered, that any party tried and convicted before a Consul for a breach of any Treaty between Her Majesty and the Tycoon of Japan, or for a breach of rules and regulations for the observance of any such Treaty, or for a breach of rules and regulations other than those relating to the observance of Treaties, may appeal, after sentence given by such Consul, to the Consul-General, who shall have power to confirm or vary, or reverse, such sentence, as to the Consul-General may seem fit, and to adjudge the expenses of such appeal, and from whose decision there shall be no further appeal; and upon notice given of such appeal, which notice must be given to the Consul in writing, signed by the party appealing within fifteen days after the conviction, the Consul shall be entitled to require reasonable security from the party so appealing, which security shall, in part, consist of one or two sufficient sureties to be approved by the Consul, to the intent that, if the Consul-General should confirm or vary the sentence passed by the Consul, the appellant shall submit to such sentence and likewise pay what shall be adjudged by the Consul-General for expenses: Provided always, that the Consul shall forthwith report such appeal, and transmit a copy of the proceedings of such trial to the Consul-General; and the party appealing against the sentence of the Consul shall be required to prosecute his appeal before the Consul-General within such time as shall be, by the Consul, with the approval of the Consul-General, assigned for the prosecution of such appeal; and if the party appealing shall not duly prosecute his appeal within such time as aforesaid, it shall be lawful for the Consul to enforce his sentence in the same manner as if such appeal had not been interposed.

Proceedings against offenders escaping from one Consular district to another.

IX. And it is further ordered, that if any party charged with an offence committed against such Treaties, or such rules and regulations as aforesaid, shall escape or remove from the Consular district within which his offence was committed, and shall be found within another Consular district, it shall be lawful for the Consul within whose district such party shall be found, to proceed against him in the same manner as if the offence had been committed within such last-mentioned district.

X. And it is further ordered, that it shall be lawful for the Consul of the district within which the party sued shall be found, to hear and determine any suit of a civil nature against a British subject, arising within any part of the dominions of the Tycoon of Japan, whether such suit be instituted by a subject of the Tycoon of Japan, or by a subject or citizen or a foreign State in amity with Her Majesty; and if any party in such suit shall be dissatisfied with the decision given by such Consul, it shall be lawful for such party, within fifteen days after such decision, to give to the Consul notice of appeal to the Consul-General; whereupon the Consul shall, with as little delay as possible, transmit all the documents which were produced before him, and none other, together with a statement of the grounds on which he has formed his decision, to the Consul-General, and shall forthwith notify to the several parties the transmission thereof; and, saving the provision contained in Article XV of this Order, the Consul-General shall decide on such documents and on such statement, and shall communicate his decision to the Consul, who shall forthwith proceed to carry the same into execution, and against such decision of the Consul-General there shall be no appeal: Provided always, that it shall be lawful for the Consul to require from any party appealing to the Consul-General reasonable security, which shall consist in part of one or two sufficient sureties to be approved by the Consul, that such party shall abide by the decision to be given by the said Consul-General.

Consuls empowered, subject to appeal, to hear civil suits, in which British subjects are defendants and Japanese, or subjects of other Powers, plaintiffs.

XI. And it is further ordered, that it shall be lawful for the Consul of the district within which the party sued shall be found, in like manner to hear and determine any suit of a Civil nature arising within any part of the dominions of the Tycoon of Japan, instituted by a British subject against a subject of the Tycoon of Japan, or against a subject or citizen of a foreign State in amity with Her Majesty, provided the defendant in such suit shall consent to submit to his jurisdiction, and give sufficient security that he will abide by the decision of the Consul, or, in case of appeal, by that of the Consul-General, and will pay such expenses as the Consul or Consul-General shall adjudge; and if any party in such suit shall be dissatisfied with the decision given by such Consul, it shall be lawful for such party, within fifteen days after such decision, to give to the Consul notice of appeal to the Consul-General, and the proceedings in every such suit or in any appeal arising therefrom, shall be conformable to and under the same conditions as the proceedings in a suit or in an appeal arising therefrom, in which a British subject is defendant, and a subject of the Tycoon of Japan, or a subject or citizen of a foreign State in amity with Her Majesty, is plaintiff.

Consuls empowered, subject to appeal, to hear civil suits in which British subjects are plaintiffs and Japanese, or subjects of other Powers, defendants.

XII. And it is further ordered, that in the event of any suit of a Civil nature arising between British subjects within the dominions of the Tycoon of Japan, it shall be lawful, upon the application of any party to such suit, for the Consul of the district within which the party sued shall be found, to hear and determine such suit, subject to an appeal to the Supreme Court of the Colony of Hong Kong; and every such appeal shall be made and conducted in the same manner and form, and under the same conditions, as in cases in which the defendant only is a British subject.

Consuls empowered, subject to appeal, in certain cases, to hear civil suits between British subjects.

XIII. And it is further ordered, that it shall be lawful for any of Her Majesty's Consuls before whom any suit whatever of a Civil nature is brought for decision, to summon two, and not more than four, British subjects, of good repute, residing within his district, to sit with him as assessors at the hearing of such suit, and in case the sum sought to be recovered shall exceed five hundred dollars such suit shall not be heard by the Consul without assessors, if within a reasonable time such assessors can be procured; and the assessors aforesaid shall have no authority to decide on the merits of such suit, but in the event of such assessors, or any of them, dissenting from the decision of the Consul, the Consul shall enter the fact of such dissent, and the grounds thereof, in the minutes of the proceedings, and in case of appeal shall transmit the same to the Consul-General, together with the documents relating to the suit.

Assessors in civil suits.

XIV. And it is furthered ordered, that in an appeal to the Consul-General from the decision of a Consul, it shall not be open to any party to adduce any further evidence than that which had been laid before the Consul; and that a party shall not be required to appear personally to prosecute an appeal, or support a sentence: Provided always, that in all appeals from the decision of a Consul, it shall be lawful for a party to allege facts essential to the issue of the suit which have come to his knowledge subsequently to the decision of the Consul, and to produce evidence in support of such facts, and provided also that it shall, moreover, be lawful for the said Consul-General to admit any further legal evidence besides that adduced before the Consul, on its being established, to the satisfaction of the Consul-General, by oath or affidavit, that the party desiring to produce such further evidence was ignorant of the existence of such evidence, or was taken by surprise at the hearing before the Consul, or was unable to produce it before the Consul, after due and reasonable diligence and exertion on his part in that behalf, or where, under the particular circumstances of the case, it shall appear to the said Consul-General that further evidence ought to be received.

Evidence to be adduced on hearing of appeals.

XV. And it is further ordered, that the Consul shall have power in a Civil suit to examine on oath, or in such form and with such ceremonies as the witness may declare to be binding on his conscience, any witness who may appear before him, and shall have power, on the application of any party in such suit, to issue a compulsory order for the attendance of any person being a British subject who may be competent to give evidence in such suit; and any British subject having been duly served with any such compulsory order, and with a reasonable notice of the day of the hearing of such suit, and upon his expenses of appearing as a witness having been paid or tendered to him by the party at whose application he shall have been ordered to attend, shall, on his wilful default to appear as a witness at the hearing of such suit, be punished with a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars or with imprisonment for a period not exceeding thirty days, at the discretion of the said Consul; and every witness, being a British subject, so examined as aforesaid, in case of wilful false testimony, may, by the said Consul, be convicted of and punished for the crime of wilful and corrupt perjury.

Examination of witnesses.

XVI. And it is further ordered, that it shall be lawful for the Consul to promote the settlement of a suit or contention by amicable agreement between the parties, and, with the consent of the several parties, to refer the decision of a suit or contention to one or more arbitrators, and to take security from the parties that they will be bound by the result of such; and the award of such arbitrator or arbitrators shall be, to all intents and purposes, deemed and taken to be a judgment or sentence of the Consul in such suit or contention, and shall be entered and recorded as such, and shall have the like effect and operation, and shall be enforced accordingly, and shall not be subject to any appeal.

Settlement of suits by agreement or arbitration.

Comdg. Trans-Gogra.

Gondah, 15th April 1859.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to report that in consequence of information received respecting the Rebels destroying the village of Authona, I on the morning of the 7th instant, proceeded to Maharajhgunge with a force (strength as per margin) accompanied by Mr. Ross, Assistant Commissioner. On arrival the intelligence given was of so unsatisfactory and doubtful a nature with respect to the movements of the Rebels, that I remained there until the evening of the 9th, during which time I received a note from Lieutenant-Colonel Hill, Rifle Brigade, stating that the Rebels had left Authona, and were proceeding westwards. The 1st Seikh Cavalry having likewise scoured the country, without seeing any signs of them (with the exception of one man taken prisoner who stated that they left that neighbourhood on the morning of our arrival) I returned to Gondah on the evening of the 9th April.

H. M.'s 20th Regt.	... 250 men.
Bengal Horse Artillery	... 2 guns.
1st Seikh Cavalry	... 180 men.

The following evening (10th instant) I left again (force as per margin) with Mr. Ecford, Assistant Commissioner. At our first halting station, Choutgettee Ghat, I heard that the Rebels were at Muchlee Goan, a distance of about five miles from us. I marched there on the morning of the 11th and found them collected in force in an extensive jungle; any operations against them in the jungle was almost out of the question; but Mr. Ecford who always obtained reliable intelligence, having heard that a portion of them were in a ravine, not far in the interior of the jungle, I immediately proceeded there with 200 men of the 20th Regiment under the Command of Captain Edridge: two guns under Lieutenant St. George, (in hopes that an opportunity might offer of bringing them into play,) and a portion of the 1st Seikh Cavalry commanded by Captain Jones. We advanced the 20th in skirmishing order, and completely surprised the Rebels at the ravine; who, after an ineffectual fire, took to the dense jungle, followed by Captain Edridge with his men; evening coming on, I was compelled to recall the skirmishers and returned to Camp. The Rebels lost about 20 killed and a number of Horses. No casualties on our side. On themorning of the 12th we left about 10 P. M. for Wuzeergung, Mr. Ecford having heard that the communication between Gondah and Fyzabad had been stopped; we deemed it advisable to take that route and disperse the Rebels. On the morning of the 13th we advanced towards Gondah vid Kœber jungle, and the village of Magowa. The Rebels were reported to be in the Kœber jungle, on approaching which, we saw them at a distance rapidly retreating. I immediately ordered the Artillery to the front, who were got within range, and opened a most destructive fire; for nearly three hours after this, it was nothing but our rapid advance, unlimbering and opening fire with fearful effect on them, the Seikhs under Captain Jones, and Hodson's Horse under Lieutenant Meccham charging when opportunities offered; the Rebels were at last driven into a large expanse of water, skirting their rear; they were now entirely at our mercy: Captain Jones crossed with his Seikhs, and charged amongst them, and they were completely routed, very few indeed escaped. A very large number remained, the water and on Mr. Ecford offering them their lives, four and twenty gave themselves up as prisoners, the remainder were shot. The Rebels consisted of Sepoys from the 1st, 53rd and 54th Regiments, leaving with them the colors of the 53rd Regiment which were captured by the Seikhs, together with an Elephant and some Camels. The loss of the Rebels killed was at least between three and four hundred; their strength at the commencement of the action I should think was about 7 or 8 hundred. I have now only to state that the conduct of all concerned has been every thing that one could desire. To Captain Edridge and the men of Her Majesty's 20th Regiment great praise is due, for their conduct in action, and cheerfulness, the performance of all their arduous duties. To Lieutenant Franks, Commanding the Bengal Horse Artillery, and his men too much credit cannot be given, for the steady manner they went into action, and the precision of their fire. To Captain Jones I am likewis, much indebted, for his advice, energy, and the gallant manner in which he led his Seikhs into action, who followed him gallantly, but the Hon'ble J. Vereker, Her Majesty's 20th Regiment. acted as my Orderly Officer during the time I was out and was of great assistance; but to some is greater praise due than to Mr. Ecford, I must in justice to him, state that the result of our great success is due principally to him, on account of the very good information he always obtained. I beg to enclose a Return of the casualties.

I HAVE the honor to forward, for submission to His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General of India in Council, the accompanying copy of a letter from Brigadier Hill, Commanding Hyderabad Contingent, of the 20th instant, bringing to notice the omission of the name of Lieutenant Henchy, Commandant 4th Company Artillery, Hyderabad Contingent, in his Despatch of the 19th January last, No. 13, reporting the affair with Rohillas at Chichumba.

FROM BRIGADIER W. HILL,
Commanding Hyderabad Contingent,

TO THE MILITARY SECRETARY TO THE RESIDENT, Hyderabad.

Head Quarters, Hyderabad Contingent,
Dated Bolarum, 28th March 1859.

SIR,

I REGRET to find in my Despatch of the action at Chichumba, which was published in the Calcutta Gazette, of the 11th instant, that I had inadvertently omitted to mention the name of Lieutenant Robert Henchy, of the 4th Company of Artillery, who was my Orderly Officer on that day.

Lieutenant Henchy was with me during the whole of the time I was in the Village, under a very heavy fire, and rendered me every assistance I required on the occasion, to the conclusion of the attack, and gave me every satisfaction.

At the time I wrote my Despatch I was in pursuit of the enemy; and my not mentioning Lieutenant Henchy was purely an oversight.

I have the honor to request that the Resident will do me the favor to submit this letter to the Right Honorable the Governor General of India; and I trust that it may meet with His Lordship's approval to allow this letter to be published in the Gazette.

Dehree Ghat, 15th April 1859.

No. 1032.

From Lieutt.-Coll. H. W. Turner,
Commanding Troops, G. T. Road,

To the Asst. Adjtt. General, Benares.

Dehree Ghat, 15th April 1859.

Sir,

On the 6th instant, I had the honor to report for the information of the Major-General Commanding the Division, that at the first movement of the enemy into the Kymore Hills, I detached the Benares Police Cavalry with orders to proceed to Chundaree 9 miles South of Jehanabad; that I moved myself with the Infantry into the Hills and crossing the front of the enemy's line of march, turned him upon Manchee in Mirzapore; that I then descended to the plains by the Kotah Ghât, and directing the detachment of the Loodianah Regiment to take post at Rhotas and that of the Indian Naval Brigade at Mehrie Ghât, marched upon Jehanabad with the Detachment of Her Majesty's 77th Regiment intending to effect a junction with the 100 men of the 2nd Battalion of the 60th at "Mohunea" and operate with them against the enemy.

That enemy, having been met and roughly handled by the Mirzapore Troops, again turned Northwards along the Kurumnasse, and descending the Ramghur Ghât marched upon Chynepore.

Mr. Bingham, the Deputy Magistrate there having been apprized of the movement, sent an express to the Cavalry to move to his assistance and barricading his residence made arrangements to defend it, the enemy however, finding him prepared, declined attacking and moved eastwards along the foot of the Hills to "Bognanpore."

The Deputy Magistrate of Sasseram having kindly placed at my disposal 40 of the Sasseram Sebundy Levy, under Isserie Sing their Sub-Lieutenant (an efficient and able Native Officer) I attached this party to the Police Cavalry under Lieutenant Stafford at Chundaree, who on receiving Mr. Bingham's application for assistance, marched with his whole force at 5 P. M. and falling in with a party of the enemy, directed the Sub-Lieutenant with his Infantry to attack them.

Annexed is Lieutenant Stafford's Report of this operation.

On the 7th instant I directed the Detachment of the 2nd Battalion of the 60th to move from Mohunea to Bhubhooa, eight miles south, but the Officer Commanding having received information that the enemy was making for the Grand Trunk Road, returned to Mohunea the same evening with the Police Cavalry who had also received similar information; they were however too late, as the enemy had already crossed and gone North.

No information of any description having reached me from the Road Police, Mr. Bingham, or the Cavalry, I felt satisfied that the enemy must have crossed the Trunk Road in small bodies and therefore marched with the Detachment as per margin upon Kochus directing the Cavalry and 2nd 60th to follow me with all possible expedition.

6 Officers and 100 Rank and File, Her Majesty's 77th Regiment.

Arrived at "Kauraich" within a few miles of Kochus I learned that the enemy was at Toorkee, a village 3 miles to the West. I turned to attack him, but on reaching it found that he had marched at 5 A. M. It was then 10. Halting for the men to breakfast, I pushed on again at 2 P. M. to "Sulkooa" where the enemy had turned Eastward in the direction of "Dinareh." I followed till dark and until I had lost all intelligence of him and then halted to allow the men to get their dinners.

In this manner I continued the pursuit of the enemy for the next three days, vid Kochus, Dinareh, Bhaupore Munneepore, Nawa Nugger, Kesuth and Waina, towards the Ganges, never allowing him to halt for more than a few hours and straining every never to push him upon the Arrah Police Force which I had been informed was on the Line between Domraon and Peeroo.

In this I was partly successful. Mr. Herschel, the Magistrate having since informed me that he was enabled to compel one party to lay down their arms and that the other had been attacked in crossing the ganges and lost upwards of eighty killed.

The Police Cavalry, as directed, overtook me near Toorkee, but seeing that it would be impossible for the Detachment of the 2nd, 60th to do so, I directed it to return and remain at Jehanabad.

All occasion for the services of these Troops having now passed away, I have ordered them to return to Benares by the usual marches.

In conclusion. I beg you will call the attention of the Major-General Commanding to the willingness with which the Troops exerted themselves to keep close to the enemy and drive him at once from the District, distressed as they were by the scorching hot wind.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) H. W. TURNER, Lieut.-Col.,
Comdg. Troops, G. T. Road.

P. S.—I have to add that the result of the attack upon the enemy by Isserie Sing, as reported by Mr. Bingham, has been 4 Tattoos, 6, Muskets 3 Matchlocks, some Tulwars and 2 cloth European coats which have since been found in the jungle.

SIR,

HAVING received a letter from Mr. Bingham, the Deputy Magistrate at Chynepore on the 6th instant, at 5 o'clock P. M., stating that the rebels (200) strong were coming down the Ramgurh Ghât and would most likely attack his house at Chynepore, I at once marched off to his assistance; after having marched about (12) miles I fell in with a party of rebels (60) strong at the foot of the Kynoor Hills three miles East of Ramgurh Ghât. Spreading my Cavalry into the plains, the Infantry as per margin under my Command attacked the enemy about midnight, and after two or three hours' sharp firing drove them back upon the Hills, capturing two horses and two muskets and killing and wounding (12) of the enemy, as it was quite dark when I withdrew the Infantry an order to proceed to Chynepore no doubt more Arms remained unseen by us on the ground. Jemadar Ellie Bux Khan, the Senior Native Jemadar with the Infantry, I wish to bring to your notice for promotion for the determined way in which he followed the enemy up. I rejoice to say that I have no killed or wounded on my side on that occasion.

1 Jemadar, 40 Sepoys, 2nd Bengal Military Police.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) P. P. L. STAFFORD, Lt.,

Chief of the Staff,

TO MAJOR GENERAL BIRCH, C. B.,
Secretary to the Government of India, in the Military Department, Calcutta.

Army Head Quarters, Simla, 3rd May 1859.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor, by order of the Commander-in-Chief, to bring to your notice for submission to His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General, the series of events, in a connected form, which have taken place in the Northern District of Oudh, in Goruckpore, and the Nepaul Frontier, since the Rebels were driven across the border by His Excellency at the end of last year.

2. It will be in the recollection of the Governor General, that, according to the orders of Government injunctions were given forbidding the Troops at that date to pursue their advantages beyond the limits of the British Territory. The Rebels had retreated en masse under their principal leaders to the far side of the first range of Hills along which runs the Frontier of Nepaul. They took up a position near the Sitka Ghat beyond the first Pass, while Brigadier Horsford remaines encamped on the banks of the Raptee within our own boundary. At the same time the enemy, who had been beaten in the neighbourhood of Toolseepore by Sir Hope Grant, had crossed the mountains opposite the latter place. They remained in the first valley in considerable numbers.

3. At the end of January, Maha Rajah Jung Bahadoor having expressed a wish, that the British Troops should operate in Nepaul, Brigadier Horsford was directed by the Commander-in-Chief to move forward and disperse the rebels who were still encamped beyond the Sitka Ghat. On the 10th February the Brigadier gave execution to his orders, took all the guns possessed by the enemy (13) thirteen in number, and cleared the valley lying between the first two ranges of Hills. He had been instructed not to pass the second range, to be most careful in his treatment of the Nepaulese Authorities and people, to put an absolute stop to plunder, to forbid the slaughter of kine, even for the use of his British Troops, and to cause the whole population to understand that his march in Nepaul was merely for the purpose of securing tranquillity and safety for them. Brigadier Horsford's measures were taken throughout in exact accordance with his instructions. Compensation was paid for damaged crops, no cattle were killed, the strictest discipline was preserved, and it is gratifying to know that the inhabitants of the valley testified their regret when the object of his mission having been accomplished, Brigadier Horsford retraced his steps after a fortnight's occupation of the country.

4. Brigadier Horsford's advance caused a great alarm among the followers of the Begum, the Nana, Bala Rao, Beni Madho, Jodh Sing, Mahomed Hussein, and other Rebel-leaders, who still kept the remnant of the fugitive Sepoys together. The numbers of these Sepoys were largely stated by the Goorka Authorities, much more so indeed than was guaranteed by fact. Nevertheless their numbers were considerable and it is possible they may have amounted to (10,000) ten thousand fighting men, exclusive of the very numerous followers in attendance on the Begum and the Chiefs.

5. At this time Jung Bahadoor's plan to allow all the Rebels who had retreated across the second range of Hills to move Eastward to the Gunduk was communicated to the Commander-in-Chief by Government. Jung Bahadoor proposed to allow this body of people to get as far as the Gunduk, where they were to deliver up their arms to his Troops. They were then, having been furnished with passes by the British Resident of Nepaul—to be led down in bodies of a thousand to Segowlie, for the purpose of being thence despatched to their homes, under the sanction of the British Authorities. At the same time Jung Bahadoor manifested a wish, that a body of British Troops should move Eastward from Oudh, through the Goruckpore District to be ready to co-operate with his Army, if the necessity should arise. There could be no doubt of the expediency of such a measure. It appeared extremely hazardous to the Commander-in-Chief to trust altogether to the likelihood of the Sepoy disarmament, as proposed, and apparently hoped for by Jung Bahadoor. If the Sepoy rabble had appeared at the Passes at the Gunduck, without a sufficient body of British Troops being ready in that neighbourhood to bar their descent into our neighbouring Provinces, the rich territory of Tirhoot would have been absolutely at their mercy. This being the case, no time was lost in organizing by order of the Government a sufficient Brigade of all the Arms, which was sent forward by Corps, to take post at Ramnuggur beyond the Gunduk to the North of Segowlie. Colonel Kelly, 34th Foot, was placed in Command of it, and was carefully instructed to meet the views of Jung Bahadoor, if his design of the Sepoy disarmament should succeed, but in any case to be prepared to bar the progress of any Rebels into the District of Tirhoot. At the same time Her Majesty's 19th Foot was held in readiness at Dinapore to be thrown across the Ganges and advance to Tirhoot itself if any contingency of the Campaign should render the movement desirable. During this time all the posts were maintained along the border running to the North of Goruckpore and the Trans-Gogra Districts. The Moradabad Levy arrived in due course to reinforce the Troops under Brigadier Horsford. Her Majesty's 53rd Regiment, and the Kemaoon Battalion were detained on the frontier, although destined for other quarters.

Detail.

2 Squadrons Murray's Jat Horse.
J. Light Field Battery, Royal Artillery.
13th Light Infantry, Left Wing.
3rd Regiment Sikh Infantry.

6. Reports reached His Excellency at short intervals of the progress of the Rebels through the Country of Nepaul, till at length at the beginning of March, they appeared on the Gunduk. It soon became evident that Jung Bahadoor's expectations would not be fulfilled; and that so far from any disarmament of the Sepoys taking place, either voluntarily, or in consequence of compulsion by the Goorka Forces, there was reason to believe that sympathy for the Rebels existed in the Goorka Ranks. After a time, Jung Bahadoor again solicited the aid of British Troops, and declared that the Sepoys under the Begum and Nana, who had reached the Gunduk were beyond his control. Thereupon Colonel Kelly was immediately authorized by the Commander-in-Chief, in anticipation of the orders of the Governor General, which followed shortly afterwards, to pass the border in his front, and to break up the bodies of Rebels which had moved Eastward. He was also empowered by the Commander-in-Chief to make requisitions on all the Officers Commanding Troops along the Goruckpore frontier, that a combination among the various forces might be insured for the common object. Colonel Kelly acted in accordance with his instructions and with great spirit. He advanced with rapidity, pressed the enemy home, and defeated him twice* with considerable loss, taking (7) seven Guns from him and effectually turning the whole body to the Westward.

7. The immediate result of these actions was the surrender of some Chiefs of note, including Mahomed Hussein, and the Rance of Toolseepore. The Rebel Sepoys fairly frightened, made rapidly to the Westward and in the second week of April authentic repors reached the Commander-in-Chief that although the Begum was believed to be still not far from Bootwall, she had but (150) one hundred and fifty followers with her. This was very important, as much alarm would seem to have previously prevailed in the Tirhoot District. At the request of the Civil Authorities in that quarter, Her Majesty's 19th Foot and some Sikh Cavalry had been pushed out in march to Tirnoot from Dinapore. This force did not encounter an enemy. In the course of his operations Colonel Kelly failed to meet with a friendly support from the Goorkha Generals, or other Authorities. These latter persisted in their attempts to blacken the character of British Troops in the Court of Nepaul, ascribing all sorts of violence and outrage to them, and they actually asserted that villages, known to have been burnt and plundered by the Rebels, had been destroyed by the British Soldiery. This appears to have been met with great calmness, and His Excellency has much pleasure in assuring the Governor General, that Colonel Kelly has been most explicit in his reports on the good discipline of the Force under his command.

8. About the last week of march the Rebels who had been driven Westward, began to show again in the Mountains North of the Trans-Gogra District. They were starving and in a most wretched condition. They had become satisfied that nothing was to be obtained in Nepaul, and the Terai, but the most scanty subsistence, and a certainty of jungle Fever. They seem to have quickly made up their minds, and after having been engaged with great success by Lieutenant Colonel Gordon, of the 1st Sikh Infantry, who repulsed them with considerable loss, part of them succeeded in passing Major Ramsay's Post under the Hills, and made for the Raptee. The Troops at Nawabgunge, Barabinkee, including the Queen's Bays, a Regiment of Hodson's Horse, and a Troop of Horse Artillery were pushed on immediately across the Gogra to Secrora, and Major General Sir Hope Grant, K. C. B., was directed to proceed himself, in person, to Fyzabad to direct the operations which had now become necessary for the final destruction of the last remnant of the Rebel Army.

9. Sir Hope Grant moved rapidly out of Lucknow with another Regiment of Hodson's Horse, and (2) two Horse Artillery Guns. When passing through Durriabad, he made arrangements for the safe-guard of the Gogra and then proceeded to Gonda, by way of Fyzabad. He was instructed to infuse the utmost energy into the movements and actions of all the Officers Commanding Columns and Posts in the District, and to desire that the Rebels, who it was known were half-starved, worn-out, and utterly demoralized, should be attacked immediately wherever they could be found, and under all circumstances. These orders have been acted up to, and several small affairs have taken place, all with signal success, with hardly any loss to ourselves, and giving the best practical proof of the abject state to which the Rebels are reduced, and that the final and utter break-up of the last remaining Insurgents may be immediately looked for. The affairs to which allusion have been made are, one in which Major* Cormick, of the 20th Foot, commanded, two conducted by Major Vaughan, of the 5th Sikh Infantry, another by Major Murray, and a pursuit led by Colonel Walker, of the 2nd Dragoon Guards, and a spirited skirmish under Captain Rennie. Brigadier Horsford having been in pursuit of the largest remaining body on the roads towards the Khyreeghur jungles, came up with them near Buneapore on the 25th April and inflicted heavy loss. It is represented that the unhappy enemy is only seeking to escape observation. Several parties have given themselves up, both Infantry and Cavalry, besides various leaders, of whom perhaps the most considerable is Jodh Sing, the Rajah of Churdah. The Nana lately wrote in to Brigadier Rowcroft attempting to excuse himself. In short Lord Clyde would congratulate His Excellency the Governor General on this irruption having taken place at a time when the arrangements made to meet such a contingency three months ago were still complete. Considering the temper of an influential portion of the Nepaulese, it is not impossible that the permanent residence of the Rebel Chiefs, and their Sepoy followers in Nepaul might have caused considerable trouble hereafter with the Government of that Country, while at the same time even their presence on a frontier we were unwilling to cross; was a standing threat, and consequently not to be borne. It is therefore in Lord Clyde's opinion a happy circumstance that these wretched people were urged to take the course they have pursued and so to bring on the immediate crisis which cannot but prove the effectual termination of that great Mutiny and Rebellion, which broke out exactly two years ago.

10. In conclusion His Excellency desires me to say, that as soon as it can be done with prudence, no time shall be lost in sending the Troops into quarters.

I have, &c.,

No. 725 of 1859.—His Excellency the Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following letter from Brigadier General Sir R. Napier, K. C. B, Commanding Gwalior Division, forwarding reports from Colonel DeSalis and Lieutenant Colonel Rich, of the pursuit and dispersion of the rebel Force under Rao Sahib, Feroze Shah and others.

His Excellency in Council desires to record his cordial thanks to Colonel DeSalis, Lieutenant Colonel Rich, and the Officers and Troops (European and Native) employed on the occasion.

FROM BRIGDR. GENL. SIR R. NAPIER, K. C. B., Commanding Gwalior Division,

TO THE CHIEF OF THE STAFF,
Head Quarters, Simla.

Camp Seronge, 21st April 1859.

SIR,

IN my letter No. 226, of the 8th instant, I had the honor to report the pursuit and dispersion of the Rebel Force under the Rao Sahib, Feroze Shah, Adil Mahommed Khan, and other leaders.

There remained no organized body of Rebels to act against; but the Seronge jungles forming a zone of about 40 miles' radius, were infested with several considerable bands, acting apparently independently, yet not entirely without concert.

The Pursuing Columns of General Michel had taken up positions assigned by that Officer at Munohur Thana, Puchowree and Beursia, and Brigadier Wheler had moved out from Saugor towards the Betwa, ready to take up the pursuit should the Rebels break cover.

General Michel kindly placed Colonel DeSalis's Column, formed of a remnant of Smith's Brigade at my disposal.

A strong detachment under Major Chetwode formed a cordon between Seronge and Beursia, and thus cut off a portion of this extensive jungle and reduced the Field operations considerably. The Columns of Colonels Rich and DeSalis, and a detachment of the 92nd Highlanders, on their way to Jhansi under Colonel Lockhart, who delayed his march a few days and cordially assisted, thoroughly swept the Northern portion of the jungle, but unfortunately without success. Such of the Enemy as had been there managed to evade their pursuers in the dense thickets.

Colonel Lockhart then pursued his march, and Colonels DeSalis and Rich with undiminished zeal, returned to the Southern part of the jungle and with better knowledge of its almost impervious recesses, succeeded by combined and excellent arrangements to driving the Rebels from their fastnesses and defeating them with very severe loss, which, from all the information I can gather, I estimate at about 500.

These Rebels were well acquainted with the proclaimed Amnesty and had opportunities afforded them of accepting it, but failed to do so, and murdered all our Camp followers who fell into their hands.

I regret that a this success has not been attained without the loss of some valuable lives.

I beg to commend to the favour and protection of the Right Hon'ble the Commander-in-Chief, Colonel DeSalis, and Lieutenant Colonel Rich, Commanding the two Columns engaged, for the able and skilful manner in which they have carried out a difficult duty, and also the European and Native Officers and Soldiers of both Arms, for their gallantry in action, and their unfailing ardour and endurance in a long and harassing pursuit.

I very cordially support the recommendations made by Colonel DeSalis and Lieutenant Colonel Rich, of the Officers named in their reports.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) R. NAPIER, Brigadier General, Commanding Gwalior Division.

FROM COLONEL DESALIS,
Comdg. 1st Brigade Rajpootana Field Force,
TO BRIGDR. GENL. SIR R. NAPIER, K. C. B.,
Commanding Gwalior Division.

Camp Moohsoodnuggur, 6th April 1859.

SIR,

I WAS encamped at this place on the 2nd instant, and Lieutenant-Colonel Rich was at Laitures. According to your instructions I arranged a movement of our columns South for the purpose of sweeping these jungles.

We moved accordingly on the 3rd instant, but could not succeed in catching the Rebels, who escaped to the West crossing the Parbuttee, and in so doing a body of their Cavalry about 200 cut through the long column of my baggage, which together with my Guns, half my Infantry and some Hussars I had sent by the straight or level road which skirts the jungles. The Rebels brutally murdered the Native Band-master, 10th Native Infantry, and severely wounded two Sepoys. They took two Enfield Rifles from our baggage and a few Camels. A small party of Hussars came up very soon, upon which they disappeared in the jungles.

I encamped on the 3rd at Gunjarree, twelve miles South of this, and Lieutenant Colonel Rich encamped at Deerghur, about eight miles East of me, but on the other side of the belt of jungle.

I had reason to believe the Rebels who had crossed the Parbuttee would endeavour to return, and having very few Cavalry I could not spare any to follow them without urgent reason.

I was aware we had left other Rebels under Feroze Shah behind us, and on the 4th instant, Captain Bolton, A. D. Assistant Quarter-Master General, procured me certain information of their whereabouts. I arranged with Lieutenant Colonel Rich, that we should both make long marches that night to the North and attack them simultaneously from different sides.

I have to thank Lieutenant Colonel Rich, for his cordial co-operation. He himself will report to you the result of his movement.

Accordingly at 7 P. M. on the 4th, I marched quietly out of Camp with a column as per margin, leaving the rest of my force and all my tents standing, in order to deceive the enemy's scouts.

8th Hussars.
75 Sabres.
95th Regiment.
90 on Camels.
60 on Foot.
10th Native Infantry.
60 on Camels.
60 on Foot.

We marched back to Moohsoodnuggur and about thirteen miles further to a point North of a jungle village called Boordah, which is ten miles North North East of Moohsoodnuggur, detaching again part of our force, 20 Hussars, 30 95th, 30 10th Native Infantry, to Tinsia, a village in the heart of the jungles about five miles South of Boordah. This detachment was commanded by Major Hon'ble E. Massey, 95th Regiment.

My plan was to attack Boordah, where the Rebels were encamped, from the North, and endeavour to drive them East upon Lieutenant Colonel Rich, who was to be at Esurwas, whilst the detachment at Tinsia was to show itself and intercept any attempting to go South.

Accordingly at day-break on the 5th, I was a little to the North of Boordah, and forming one-third of my small Infantry Force in skirmishing order, and the rest of us in four supports, we advanced quietly through the thick jungle in the direction where the enemy's camp was said to be. On nearing it, we were challenged and finding the alarm given, we fell upon them with a cheer from our Europeans and the sound of all our Bugles and Trumpets.

We killed a good many Infantry here, but the Cavalry who were encamped the other side, and whose Horses lately have always been kept saddled, managed to get away.

I pushed on at once with about 40 Hussars and a few Infantry in the direction of Esurwas and Lieutenant Colonel Rich, but finding none of the enemy near us, I hastened on with the Hussars alone and after going about two miles we discovered the Enemy's Cavalry moving parallel to us. We left those that had preceded us for Lieutenant Colonel Rich, and Major Seager, Commanding the 8th Hussars, turned to his right and attacked what was before him. We killed 40 of them and also turned back their Camels and baggage that were following them, so that it all fell into the hands of our Infantry and Camp followers. The rest of their Cavalry dispersed, some few jumping off their Horses and climbing steep rocks in the jungle.

This movement brought us near to Tinsia where we found Major Massey's party, which must have been discovered by the Rebels, and obliged them to go off East and meet us and Lieutenant Colonel Rich.

I must observe, that the whole country between Boordah, Esurwas, and Tinsia is very dense jungle, deep glens and nullahs. Except the Cavalry attack, and 35 rebels surrounded in one glen and 13 in another, all actual fighting was mere individual skirmishing.

I am happy to say we have only one wounded (a Sepoy 10th Native Infantry, dangerously) 2 Horses killed and no one missing

Several of the Cavalry slain were the old Gwalior Body Guard, their clothes, arms and appointments in excellent order. I am told nearly all the Infantry who fell were either old Sepoys or Velaitees. During our night march our spies had informed us that 200 men who had crossed the Parbuttee were just returned and had gone towards Boordah, and there we recovered one of the Enfields and several Camels taken from our Baggage on the 3rd instant, besides several Sandree Camels taken from your messengers and mine at different times. Subadar Chuttur Singh, late Gwalior Contingent, and lastly General in the Rebel Force, was said to have commanded the attack on our Baggage and we found him amongst the dead.

I had desired my Camp to move on the 5th to Moohsoodnuggur to which place after the day's work we returned. I estimated the number of Rebels before us at 1500: they were commanded by Feroze Shah.

The Rebel loss can never be accurately stated. It extended over a length of five miles and breadth of two miles of thick jungle, and we could not spare Officers to count them. It is certainly not less than 300, independant of what Lieutenant Colonel Rich may have done. The Natives say 500, and do not appear sorry. I begin to think that fear of the Rebels alone has prevented them affording us every assistance.

I beg to assure you that the very correct intelligence we have constantly received from our spies and the arrangement of the whole plan of our attack were due to Captain Bolton, A. D., Quarter-Master General. I may safely say, that without him we should still be walking after the Rebels and I have the greatest pleasure in bringing this Officer's excellent services on the present, as well as on several former occasions, to your notice, hoping you will represent them in the proper quarter.

I cannot speak too highly of the spirit evinced by our Europeans on this occasion, and the fortitude and endurance shewn by the 10th Native Infantry. We have all been out in the Field more than fourteen months. Our march this day was not less than 40 miles; the heat and want of water in the jungles were most oppressive. Our men's clothing has been much damaged in their rapid advance through the jungle.

I have to thank Major Seager, Commanding 8th Hussars; Major the Hon'ble E. Massey, 95th Regiment; Captain Carmichael, 95th Regiment, Commanding Detachments. Captain Richards, Commanding Detachment 10th Native Infantry and my Brigade Major, and Cornet Goldsworthy, 8th Hussars, for their zealous able assistance which enabled me, first, to carry out a long march in a very dark night, and secondly, to attack with a definite plan, through very thick jungles, where the sun was the only thing that could be seen.

I was much pleased by the spirit and intelligence shewn by Captain Parkinson, 95th Regiment, Captain Richards and Ensign Newport, 10th Native Infantry, and Cornet Palliser, of the 8th Hussars.

Camp Laituree, 7th April 1859.

Sir,

I have the honor to now forwarding an official report of the expedition of my Column on the 5th instant, to excuse the delay in not sending it yesterday, on account of endeavouring to collect all information.

On the 2nd instant, hearing there was the Rao's party of Rebels, South of Laituree, I co-operated with Brigadier DeSalis in driving them from that jungle: they fled across the Parbuttee River and we afterwards lost their track. On the 4th instant, I rode to Brigadier DeSalis's Camp and knowing there was another body of Rebels to the North of Laituree and Moohsoodnuggur, I there agreed to his proposed arrangements, a copy of which I annex (No. 1) and in accordance with them I struck Camp that night at 8 P. M., made a forced march to Kotra across North-West of Esurwas, leaving all my baggage with a strong guard at Laituree. In passing, I detached a Jemadar and thirty Sepoys, 9th Bombay Native Infantry, to Tinsia. I ascertained that there was not any water between Kotra and Boordah, and therefore concluded that the Rebels, if driven by Colonel DeSalis, would either come to Kotra for water and then fall into the hands of my force or try to escape by way of Tinsia, their favorite resort. It happened as I expected. Many came my way and made for some villages on the edge of the jungle, favourable to their cause. We cut down fifteen Rebel Sepoys in the jungle, and then moving my force outside, we discovered a numerous body near the village of Nainwas, half a mile distant and some running to Esurwas. I immediately rushed forward with my force as per margin. The Cavalry surrounded the village and cut down all those in the open country; the Infantry entered the village and found Rebels in every tenable house and in the grass stacks outside, all of whom were killed. Those Rebels were Villaitees and Sepoys of Gwalior Contingent, Scindiah's own Army, and a few of different Regiments. It is impossible to say the exact number killed, but after consulting Officers of the Force and from my own judgment I compute it at 70, independent of 15 cut down in the jungle, amongst whom was Chuttur Sing, a Subadar of the Gwalior Contingent, and others, killed by my detached party of the 9th Bombay Native Infantry under Jemadar Ramjee Cudum, whose report, marked No. 2, I attach, and would recommend him to your favourable consideration. This affair was carried on during the heat of the day. We returned to our Camp, Laituree, at half past 2 o'clock P. M.

14th Light Dragoons, 50, under Lieut. Gowan.

Gwalior Camel Corps, 170, under Capt. Templer.

Medical Department, Assistant Surgeon Broderick, Mayne's Horse.

I annex casualty report, No. 3. I cannot speak too highly of the conduct of Officers, Non-Commissioned Officers and men of my Force, both European and Native. All exerted themselves and endured the fatigues of the day and night with the greatest cheerfulness.

I would specially recommend to your notice Lieutenant Bradford, of Mayne's Horse. From his knowledge of the Hindoostani language, by his intelligence, zeal and activity, he has enabled me to procure information, which otherwise I could not have obtained.

The villagers of Nairwas and Esurwas concealed the Rebels, denied any Rebels being there or having seen any. I was obliged to burn the former village to get the Rebels out of it.

Camp Laituree, 6th April 1859.

Sir,

I arrived in command of a party of thirty (30) Sepoys, 9th Bombay Native Infantry, at Tinsia, about 8 o'clock A. M. 5th instant. Just before arriving I came upon a party of Rebels, 35 in number, flying in all directions. I extended my men and attacked them, when I killed 30. Two or three were Vellaitees: about ten were mounted on Tattoos and Horses and the rest were Gwalior Contingent and Budmashes, all armed with Regulation muskets and matchlocks. I then went on to Tinsia. On arriving I saw the Brigadier's Force; they had already had a fight and I saw 50 or 60 bodies laying about. The Brigadier gave me a note to take on to Colonel Rich. On arriving at Esurwas I heard firing and saw two Horses loose belonging to the 14th Dragoons, which I assisted to catch, and saw a Sergeant of the 14th Dragoons, who told me there was a fight going on. I then extended my men again and killed four Rebels who were flying from Colonel Rich's Force. These men were also of the Gwalior Contingent: all had black belts and Regulation muskets.

Gunner Patrick Colford, of the European Invalid Battalion.	Equivalent to 9 pence per diem.

No 732 of 1859.—His Excellency the Governor General in Council is pleased to make the following appointment :—

Colonel A. H. Ferryman, C. B., of Her Majesty's 89th Regiment, to be a Brigadier of the 2nd Class on the Establishment, in succession to Brigadier G. Hutchison, deceased.

No. 733 of 1859.—His Excellency the Governor General in Council publishes for general information the following paragraphs of a Military Letter from the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for India, No. 127, dated 7th April 1859, conveying the Commands of Her Most Gracious Majesty, regarding Medals to be granted for the suppression of the late Mutinies in India :—

PARA : 1.—Referring to the Despatches to the Government of India of the dates noted on the margin, on the subject of the grant of Medals to the Troops employed in the suppression of the late Mutinies in India, I have now to inform you that Her Majesty has been pleased to re-consider the directions already given by Her on this subject.

1st Sept. 1858, No. 258.
See G. O. G. G. Nos. 363. and 541 of 1858.

2. It appears to Her Majesty, that when a Medal is given for a Campaign, Clasps should be added very sparingly, and only for great general actions, or for such conspicuous operations as materially influence the successful termination of the war.

3. On this principle, Her Majesty has decided that the following is the most just, and therefore the most desirable arrangement :—

1*st*.—That the Medal be granted to all engaged in operations against the Rebels or Mutineers.

2*nd*.—That the Clasp which Her Majesty has already sanctioned for Delhi, be granted to those employed in the operations against, and at the assault of Delhi.

3*rd*.—That the Clasp which Her Majesty has already sanctioned for the "Defence of Lucknow," be granted to all of the original Garrison under Major General Sir John Inglis, and to those who succoured them, and continued the defence under Major Generals Havelock and Outram, until relieved by Lord Clyde.

4*th*.—That in lieu of the Clasps which Her Majesty has already sanctioned for the "Relief" and "Capture" of Lucknow, as previously notified, a Clasp for "Lucknow" be granted to all the Troops engaged in the several operations against Lucknow, under the immediate Command of Lord Clyde in November 1857 and March 1858.

5*th*.—That a Clasp for Central India be granted to the Troops of the Column under Major General Sir Hugh Rose, G. C. B., engaged in the operations against Jhansi, Calpee and Gwalior, and also to the Troops which, under the Command of Major Generals Roberts and Whitlock, respectively performed such important service in Central India.

4. Her Majesty has also been pleased to signify Her gracious intention to bestow the Medals and Clasps on persons not in the Military service, who have borne arms against the Mutineers, and who may be considered to have earned the distinction.

5. You will give instructions for the due announcement of Her Majesty's decision.

6. In order to enable me to give effect to Her Majesty's gracious intentions, you will instruct the Commander-in-Chief in India to give directions for the preparation and transmission with the least possible delay of Nominal Lists of the Officers, Non-Commissioned Officers and Men of Her Majesty's Army and Indian European Military Forces, and Numerical Returns of the Officers, Non-Commissioned Officers and Soldiers of Her Majesty's Indian Native Armies, as may be entitled to receive the Medals and Clasps which it is Her Majesty's gracious intention to bestow upon them, including those Non-Military persons who have borne arms as Volunteers against the Mutineers, both at Lucknow and elsewhere, who may be considered by the Commander-in-Chief and your Government to be entitled to the Decoration, and to cause such other steps to be taken as may appear to you to be necessary to give effect to Her Majesty's decision.

With reference to the 6th paragraph of the above letter, the Governments of Madras and Bombay and the Right Hon'ble the Commander-in-Chief in India are requested to adopt immediate measures to furnish the Government of India with Rolls of the persons entitled to the Medals and Clasps now authorized by Her Majesty.

No. 734 of 1859.—Under the exigencies of the Service during the last two years, many Officers have been made available for employment on the Staff and in various situations, who have not passed the examinations in the Native languages, laid down by General Order by the Governor General of the 25th June 1850; but tranquillity having now been generally restored, His Excellency the Governor General in Council is pleased to announce that the provisions of that Order will in future be strictly enforced, and no Officer will hereafter be appointed to any situation on the Staff, or to any Civil or other detached employment, who has not passed the prescribed examination.

Every Officer who has been removed from his Regiment for Staff, Civil, or other employment, who has not already passed the prescribed examination, or shall not pass it within six months from the date of this Order, will be remanded to his Corps.

No. 710 of 1859.—His Excellency the Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication in General Orders of the following Royal Warrant, received with a letter from the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for India, No. 119, of the 7th April 1859, prescribing Rules under which Combatant Officers are to be recommended for promotion in Her Majesty's Indian Military Forces:—

Whereas, We have judged it expedient to revise those parts of Our Royal Warrants of the 6th day of October 1854, and 3rd day of November 1854, which regulate the promotion and retirement of Combatant Officers in Our Army and Ordnance Corps, Our will and pleasure is, that from the date of this Our Royal Warrant Our Governor General in Council shall govern himself by these Our rules in recommending Combatant Officers for promotion in Our Indian Military Forces.

Promotion.

1. That the rank of Field-Marshal be given without reference to seniority

2. That there shall be a fixed establishment of General Officers, viz.:—

Generals	25
Major-Generals	145

3. That Colonels may be appointed, without regard to seniority, to commands as Major-Generals, with temporary rank; and if they shall have conducted themselves to Our satisfaction, such temporary rank, after having been held for five years in peace, or for any shorter period in war, may, upon the recommendation of Our Governor General in Council, be made permanent. That the temporary rank of General and Lieutenant-General may also be given, whenever the convenience of the Service requires it, and may be made permanent in a similar manner.

4. That every vacancy on the fixed establishment of General Officers shall be filled by the promotion of the senior Colonel qualified to succeed to the rank of Major-General and to be placed on the fixed establishment, under the regulations now in force; or by a supernumerary Major-General, as provided in Clause 6.

5. That, in addition to the Colonels promoted by seniority to be Major-Generals, and those promoted after having held temporary rank under the Regulation in Clause 3, Colonels shall be eligible for promotion to the rank of Major-General, and Major-Generals to the rank of Lieutenant-General, and Lieutenant-Generals to the rank of General, for distinguished services in the Field.

In the case of Officers promoted to the rank of General Officers, as a reward for distinguished service in war, the recommendation, in which the service of the Officer shall be detailed, shall be published in the General Orders of Our Indian Military Forces, and in the London Gazette.

6. That all Colonels promoted to be Major-Generals after five years' employment in responsible commands with the temporary rank of Major-General under the provisions in Clause 3, and all Colonels promoted to be Major-Generals for distinguished service in the Field, shall be placed on a supernumerary list of Major-Generals, and shall not be reckoned as part of the fixed establishment until the time when they would have attained the rank of Major-General by seniority; that is to say, until the Colonel who originally stood next senior on the Colonels' list to the Officer promoted out of his turn has become a Major-General, after which the next vacancy will be filled by the transfer of the supernumerary Major-General to the fixed establishment. The Major-Generals who have already been promoted out of their turn, and would not yet have succeeded to that rank by seniority, shall be considered as coming under this rule.

The supernumerary Major-Generals, when absorbed into the fixed establishment, shall preserve the seniority which they acquired when, after a period of qualifying service with temporary rank they were first confirmed as permanent Major-Generals on the supernumerary list, and shall rise by that seniority to be Lieutenant-Generals in succession. General Officers promoted for distinguished service in the field will take their seniority from the date of their promotion, as stated in the London Gazette.

7. That three separate lists of General Officers be inserted in the Army List of Our Indian Military Forces, the first containing the names of those on the fixed establishment; the second, those who, having been promoted out of their regular turn, are supernumerary to the fixed establishment; and the third, those who have retired from the service with the honorary rank of General Officers.

8. That the rank of Colonel be given to Officers, after serving for five years with the rank of Lieutenant-Colonel, in the actual command of Regiments, or for the same period as second Lieutenant-Colonels of Regiments, or on the Staff, in the following situations :—viz., Adjutant-General, Quarter-Master General, Deputy Adjutant-General, Deputy Quarter-Master General, Secretaries to the Government of India in the Military and Public Works Departments, Secretaries in the Military Department to the Governments of Madras and Bombay, to the Chief Commissioner of the Punjaub, the Commissioner in Mysore, and the Resident at Hyderabad; Judge-Advocate General, Commissary-General, Deputy Commissary-General, Inspector General of Ordnance, Superintendent of the Ordnance Manufacturing Department, Chief Engineer, Superintending Engineer, Surveyor-General of India, subject always to the approval of the Governor in Council and Commander-in-Chief of the Presidency to which the Officer belongs.

9. That Regimental Majors, who are Brevet Lieutenant-Colonels, falling into the command of Regiments in the absence of the Lieutenant-Colonel, shall, on attaining the rank of Regimental Lieutenant-Colonel, reckon the period commencing from the completion of the first month of such temporary command, as part of the five years required to qualify for the rank of Colonel.

10. That the rank of Colonel be given to Officers who obtain the rank of Brevet Lieutenant-Colonel for services in the Field, after eight years of actual service with that rank.

11. That in cases where a Regiment may be so divided as to constitute two distinct commands, and one portion may be under the command of the Regimental Major, who is also a Brevet Lieutenant-Colonel, and in cases where a Brevet Lieutenant-Colonel may be in command of a mixed force of different Corps, a discretionary power shall be vested in Our Commander-in-Chief in India, subject to the approval of Our Governor General of India in Council, to allow such service, or portions of such service, to count as part of the qualifying period for promotion to the rank of Colonel.

12. That Lieutenant-Colonels appointed to Civil Situations under Government on or after the date of this Our Royal Warrant shall be promoted to the rank of Colonel after eight years' service in the former rank, provided the nature of the Civil appointment be considered by Our Governor General of India in Council and Commander-in-Chief in India calculated to give the Officer such practical experience as may afterwards prove advantageous to the Corps or Service to which he belongs.

13. That Field Officers, commissioned as such before the 20th June 1854, be allowed to rise by Brevet as heretofore; but no Officer promoted to the rank of Field Officer on or after that date, is hereafter to rise from the rank of Lieutenant-Colonel to that of Colonel, otherwise than by five or eight years' service in the former rank, as provided in Clause 8, or as a reward for distinguished service, or by appointment to be Queen's Aide-de-Camp—except under the special provisions in Clauses 9, 10, 11, and 12.

14. Lieutenant-Colonels, who held that rank prior to the 20th of June 1854, shall be promoted by a special Brevet to the rank of Colonel,—commissions to bear date the 28th November 1854; and such of the said Lieutenant-Colonels as have been passed over by Officers who have attained the rank of Colonel, in conformity with the provisions of Our Royal Warrants of the 6th October and 3rd November 1854, shall be restored to the respective places which they would have occupied as Colonels, had they been promoted in ordinary succession under the system of periodical Brevets.

15. That promotions shall be made from Captain to Major, and from Major to Lieutenant-Colonel, in succession, as vacancies occur in the Major-Generals' fixed establishment.

16. That any Captain, Major, or Lieutenant-Colonel may be rewarded by Brevet promotion for distinguished services in the Field.

17. That the commands of General Officers, and other situations on the Staff, both at home and abroad, shall not be held for more than five years, unless by re-appointment under special circumstances.

Given at Our Court at Windsor, this thirty-first day of January 1859, in the Twenty-second Year of Our Reign.

By Her Majesty's Command,

STANLEY.

Application to Supreme Courts to declare exclusive privilege not to have been acquired on following grounds—

XXIV. Invention of no utility.

That the said invention is of no utility, or

Invention not new.

That the said invention was not, at the time of presenting the petition for leave to file the specification, a new invention within the meaning of this Act, or

Petitioner not the inventor.

That the petitioner was not the inventor thereof, or

Invention not described in specification.

That the specification filed or the amended specification (if any) does not particularly describe and ascertain the nature of the invention or in what manner the same is to be performed, or

Fraudulent mis-statement in petition or specification.

That the original or any subsequent petition relating to the invention or the original or any amended specification contains a wilful or fraudulent mis-statement, or

Insufficient description of part of invention in specification.

That some part of the invention, or the manner in which that part is to be performed as described in the specification filed or the amended specification, is not thereby sufficiently described and ascertained, and that such defect or insufficiency was fraudulent and is injurious to the public.

Like application as to part of an invention.

XXV. Any person may, in like manner, apply to any of Her Majesty's Courts of Judicature for a rule to show cause why the Court should not declare that an exclusive privilege has not been acquired under the provisions of this Act in respect of any part of the invention to be specified in the rule by reason of all or any of the objections following (to be specified in the rule) that is to say—

That such part of the invention is wholly distinct from the other part thereof and is of no utility, or

That such part of the invention was not, at the date of the petition for leave to file the specification, a new invention within the meaning of this Act, or

That the petitioner was not the inventor of that part of the invention, or

That that part of the invention, and the manner in which it is to be performed, is not sufficiently described and ascertained in the specification filed or the amended specification, and that such defect or insufficiency is injurious to the public.

Application by Advocate General on breach of special condition.

XXVI. It shall be lawful for the Advocate General at any of the Presidencies of Fort William in Bengal, Fort St. George, and Bombay, or any other person, by order of the Governor General in Council, to apply to any of the said Courts of Judicature for a rule calling upon the petitioner, his executors, administrators, or assigns, to show cause why the question of the breach of any special condition upon which the leave to file a specification has been granted, or any other question of fact on which the revocation of the exclusive privilege by the Governor General in Council under the power hereinbefore reserved may, in the judgment of the said Governor General in Council, depend, should not be tried in the form of an issue directed by the said Court; and if the rule be made absolute, the Court, unless the breach or other matter of fact be admitted, may thereupon direct such issue to be tried, and certify the result of such trial to the Governor General in Council. The costs of such trial, and also the costs of any proceedings in any of the said Courts of Judicature under the provisions of this Act, shall be in the discretion of the Court.

Service of proceedings on all persons interested.

XXVII. Notice of any rule obtained or proceeding taken under either of the last three preceding Sections shall be served on all persons appearing to be proprietors or to have shares or interests in the exclusive privilege under the provisions of Section XXXV of this Act, and it shall not be necessary to serve such notice on any other persons.

Supreme Court may direct issue for trial to other Courts.

XXVIII. Any of the said Courts of Judicature, if it think fit, may direct an issue for the trial, before the same Court or any other Court of Judicature or any principal Court of original jurisdiction in Civil cases, of any question of fact arising upon an application under Sections XXIV, XXV, or XXVI of this Act, and such issue shall be tried accordingly in a summary manner, and, if the issue be directed to another Court, the finding shall be certified by the Court before which the same was tried, to the Court directing the issue. If the issue be directed to any Court of Judicature, the Court by which the issue is tried may, before the finding is certified, direct a new trial of such issue according to the usual course and practice of such Court. If the issue be directed to any Court other than a Court of Judicature, the finding shall not be subject to appeal, but the evidence taken upon the trial shall be recorded, and a copy thereof, certified by the Judge, shall be transmitted, together with any remarks he may think fit to make thereon, to the Court by which the issue was directed; and such Court may either act upon the decision of the Court which tried the issue, or direct a new trial if it shall appear necessary.

New trial.

XXIX. If it shall appear to any of the said Courts of Judicature at the hearing of any application under the provisions of Sections XXIV or XXV of this Act that, by reason of any of the objections therein mentioned, the said exclusive privilege in the invention or in any part thereof has not been acquired, the Court shall give judgment accordingly, and shall make such order as to the costs of and consequent upon the application as it may think just; and thereupon the petitioner, his executors, administrators, and assigns shall, so long as the judgment continues in force, cease to be entitled to such exclusive privilege.

Judgment.

Costs.

XXX. If the Court, at the hearing of any such application as last aforesaid, shall think that the petitioner has, in the description of his invention in the petition or specification or amended specification (if any), included something which at the date of the petition was not new or whereof he was not the inventor, or that the specification is in any particular defective or insufficient, but that the error, defect, or insufficiency was not fraudulently intended, the Court may adjudge the said exclusive privilege to have been acquired and to be valid, save as to the part thereof affected by such error, defect, or insufficiency, or if the Court shall think that the error, defect, or insufficiency can be amended without injury to the public, they may adjudge the exclusive privilege in the whole invention to be valid, and may, upon such terms as shall appear reasonable, order the specification to be amended in any of the said particulars; and thereupon the petitioner, his executors, administrators, or assigns shall, within the time limited by the said Court for the purpose, file a specification amended according to such order. Provided that no such amended specification shall have the effect of extending or enlarging the exclusive privilege before acquired.

Amendment of specification by Court.

Proviso.

XXXI. An exclusive privilege shall not be defeated upon the ground that the petition contains a mis-statement, unless such mis-statement was wilful or fraudulent.

Mis-statement in the petition, if not fraudulent, not to defeat the privilege.

XXXII. Whenever it shall be adjudged by any of the said Courts of Judicature that an exclusive privilege as to the whole or any part of an invention has not been acquired, the said Secretary to the Government of India shall, upon the production of the judgment or order, cause an entry thereof to be made in the said book hereinbefore directed to be kept, and shall cause a reference to such entry to be made in the margin of the entry of the specification contained in such book.

Entry in registry book of judgment &c. declaring privilege not to have been acquired.

XXXIII. If, upon proceedings instituted within two years from the date of a petition to file a specification, the actual inventor shall prove to the satisfaction of the principal Court having jurisdiction in Civil cases within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the defendant shall reside as a fixed inhabitant, that the petitioner was not the actual inventor, and that at the time of the petition he knew or had good reason to believe that the knowledge of the invention was obtained by himself or by some other person surreptitiously or in fraud of the actual inventor, or by means of a communication made in confidence by the actual inventor to him or to any person through whom he derived such knowledge, the Court may compel the petitioner to assign to the actual inventor any exclusive privilege obtained under this Act and to account for and pay over the profits thereof.

In what case actual inventor entitled to assignment of an exclusive privilege fraudulently obtained.

XXXIV. In any action for the infringement of such exclusive privilege, the plaintiff shall deliver with his plaint particulars of the breaches complained of in the said action; and the defendant shall deliver a written statement of the particulars of the grounds (if any) upon which he means to contend that the plaintiff is not entitled to an exclusive privilege in the invention. In like manner, upon any application to any of the said Courts of Judicature under Sections XXIV, XXV, or XXVI of this Act, the applicant shall deliver particulars of the objections on which he means to rely. TO THE ASST. ADJUTANT GENERAL,
Major General Sir J. Hope Grant's Force,
Gonda, Oude.
Camp Kushah, the 28th April 1859.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to report for the information of Major-General Sir J. Hope Grant, K. C. B., Commanding in Oude, that having ascertained that the Rebels (Nusserabad Brigade) under Daveedeen, instead of proceeding Westward as reported in my letter of 24th instant, had doubled back to their old ground in the dense jungle South of the Koanee River, I determined to fall back and if possible get in rear of them so as to carry out the Major-General's instructions to drive them Westward.

Hearing that Major Murray, Commanding a Moveable Column, was at Bhowaniegunge, some ten miles from my Camp, I rode over to consult with him which resulted in his moving down the East side of the jungle, whilst I moved Westward, we thus had the enemy between our two columns.

Yesterday morning when on the line of march, I received intimation from Major Murray, that he had attacked and defeated the enemy on the previous day, and that they were supposed to have gone in the direction of Doomdah Ghat on the River Biswah, I marched at once for this Ghat, crossed the River and encamped at the Village of Bhawanie, two miles to the South of it.

About 12 o'clock at noon, I was informed by my spies, that the Rebels 1200 strong were cooking their food in the jungle on the North bank of the River, about two miles West of Doomdah Ghat. I at once made arrangements to attack them, leaving the Camp standing under charge of Lieutenant Smith, Royal Artillery, with the two guns of the Field Battery, one Company of Her Majesty's 34th Regiment and one Company 3rd Seikh Infantry. I marched with the rest of the force as per margin, and after posting the Cavalry so as to prevent the Rebels moving along the jungle to the East, I advanced with the Infantry to the position they were supposed to occupy and fortunately succeeded in getting within 300 yards of them before they were aware of our approach. They were soon on the alert and after firing a few shots they broke and fled Westwards throwing away many of their arms and accoutrements, their food, clothes and cooking utensils; with which the ground was strewed for miles. I followed them in skirmishing order for upwards of five miles, killing a great number; 29 dead bodies were counted on the field, and I am given to understand from spies and villagers that the wounded are very numerous and the Rebels say they can remain no longer in these jungles and that they now intend proceeding to Bhinga Ghat, North of the Raptee.

Sir,

I have the honor to report, that yesterday whilst encamped on the Bishowee Nuddy, I heard that 300 Rebels were crossing the plain Southward and plundering the villages in their way. I immediately started in pursuit with the force named in the margin, but finding that I was too late to prevent their entering the jungle, I sent the guns back to Camp, and attacked them on the banks of the river, taking with me the 25 men of the 20th Regiment, and sending the Cavalry to my left. They fled at once; we succeeded in killing 17, took an elephant, about 40 stand of arms, some baggage, and a few horses and ponies. I hear that the remainder of the Rebels have gone in the direction of the Chitounee jungle. I marched here this morning in compliance with order.

No. 28.

From Lieutenant-Colonel B. Walker.

To the Deputy Assistant Adjutant General,
Oudh Force Gondah.

Dated, Secrora, the 29th April 1859.

Sir,

I have the honor to report for the information of the Major-General Commanding the Oudh Force, that in accordance with your Memorandum received at 7-15 A. M. of the 27th instant, I at once marched from hence with a force, as per Statement No. 1, to join Major Buck, 53rd Regiment, at the Bungaon jungle.

2. I found the force under his Command, as per Statement No. 2, posted as directed by your Memorandum, but bearing in mind the Major-General's wish that I should force the Rebel party from the direction of the road to Fyzabad, I made arrangements to attack the Fort and Jungle at Bungaon, held by the Rebels under Gudjudur Sing, in the following manner.

3. I recalled the main body of the 53rd Regiment posted at the Northern angle of the jungle, and replaced them with three Troops of the 2nd Dragoon Guards, under Major Stapylton, with orders to watch the Northern and Western sides. I ordered the Sikh Horse, under Captain Jones, to remain as posted on the Eastward, and watched the South-Western corner with the Detachment of the 3rd Hodson's Horse.

4. I drew back the two Guns under Lieutenant Pickering, Royal Artillery, to a position on the right bank of the Tehree Nuddy, from whence he obtained a good cross-fire on the Fort with the Guns under Major Soady, Royal Artillery, who came into action at 600 yards from the Fort, in advance of the village of Bungaon.

5. Major Buck, 53rd Regiment, was directed to send two Companies through the jungles, and attack the Fort from the West. Lieutenant Prince, 53rd Regiment, was to move at the same time from the Bridge marked B. on my former plan.

6. Three Troops of the 2nd Dragoon Guards, under Major Hutchinson, were on the plain near Lieutenant Pickering's Guns, and the remaining Troop was in support of Major Soady.

7. Having made these dispositions, I opened fire, directions having been given to the two Detachments of the 53rd Regiment, that they were to carry the Fort five minutes after the Guns ceased firing.

8. So resolute was the advance of the 53rd, that I was obliged to cease firing to allow them to enter the Fort, which was taken in twelve minutes by the main body of that Regiment, led in the most gallant manner by Captain Dalzell, who was the first man on the top of the bank.

9. Major Buck then pushed this position of the Force through the jungle to the Northward, and I caused Lieutenant Prince, with the party from B causeway, to re-enter the jungle in the same direction.

10. The Cavalry under Major Hutchinson, and Lieutenant Pickering's Guns were at once ordered to join me at the cause-way B, and I posted the Cavalry as follows.

11. Near the cause-way I left the 2nd Dragoon Guards and two Guns, beyond them I posted a Troop of Wale's Horse, further on the remainder of that Corps, then the Detachment of 3rd Hodson's Horse, and I found Major Stapylton where I had posted him in the morning.

12. All turned out as I expected. The 53rd killed a considerable number of Rebels in the jungle, among them their leader, Gudjudur Sing, "the one-armed Captain." The main body were forced out to the Northward, where they were at once met by parties of the 2nd Dragoon Guards, 53rd Regiment, Hodson's Horse, and the main portion of the Sikh Horse under Captain Jones, who at once charged them with great gallantry and promptitude. They fought fiercely, but were driven across the Plain into some jungly ground to the Northward, and were cut up and shot down, till only a remnant of between 40 and 60 men succeeded in escaping across a Nuddy which could only be crossed by swimming.

13. At 4 P. M. I withdrew the Troops, the 2nd Dragoon Guards and Major Soady's guns to Rajgung. Captain Jones and Lieutenant Pickering to the high ground near cause-way B, and the 53rd Regiment to the position opposite the Fort.

14. On the morning of the 28th, I re-visited the Fort, and identified the body of the Rebel leader Gudjudur Sing.

15. The Fort, which is a double square joining at the angles, is surrounded by a most difficult jungle and is provided with a good brick-work well.

16. I cannot refrain from calling attention to the good service of all concerned.

17. To Lieutenant Colonel Seymour, 2nd Dragoon Guards, and to Majors Hutchinson and Stapylton, I am much indebted.

18. Lieutenant-Colonel Seymour was indefatigable in superintending the positions of the Cavalry, and afforded me most valuable advice.

19. The practice of the Artillery under Major Soady and Lieutenant Pickering was accurate and most effective

20. I cannot say too much of the 53rd under Major Buck, to his ready appreciation of the plan of attack, and to their determined advance and steady conduct our success is mainly to be attributed.

21. Captain Jones at the head of his Corps of Sikh Cavalry made a most gallant and effective charge at the close of the day, and I received ready support from Ressaldar Futteh Sing and his Troop of the 3rd Regiment Hodson's Horse.

22. The Officer to whom I am most indebted throughout is Captain Tyler, Royal Artillery, who acted as my Staff Officer at Nawabgunge, and subsequently. He is active and intelligent in no common degree, and I beg to recommend him most strongly to the favourable notice of the Major-General.

23. The men killed were chiefly Sepoys of the old 1st, 22nd, 38th, 53rd and 56th Regiments of Native Infantry. As I heard of the escape of no parties in any direction, but that which I have already mentioned, I believe the break-up to have been complete.

24. I beg to append Reports from Major Buck and Captain Jones, with Casualty Returns, and I beg to draw the Major General's attention to the favorable reports of Captain Dalzell, 53rd Regiment, of Lieutenants Dick and Sandeman, and Duffadar Chunda Sing, of Wale's Horse, as made by their Commanding Officers.

To Major Buck,

Dated Camp Bungaon, the 28th April 1859.

Sir,

As requested I have the honor to report the part the Detachment Head Quarters 1st Seikh Irregular Cavalry under my Command, as per Return annexed, took in the operations of yesterday at the taking of Bungaon, and defeat of the Rebels under Gudjadur Singh Talookdar. I received instructions to cover the South-East spur of the jungle and post myself near the village of Ramahpoor, and thus prevent the Rebels' escape in this direction. My Videttes were on the look-out, and I moved a Troop under Lieutenant Sandeman to my right flank. On receiving intimation that the Rebels were moving North, I advanced in the same same direction to prevent their leaving the jungle. I was immediately afterwards personally ordered by Colonel Walker to move to the North-East side with a Squadron, leaving Lieutenant Sandeman and his Troop in my position. This move was a most successful one, for immediately afterwards the enemy, having been pressed by skirmishers, Her Majesty's 53rd Regiment, came out of the jungle in a body of about 150, all Sepoys, armed with musket and sword. I allowed them to clear the jungle well, and then charged. Numbers were cut up, Sepoys of the 1st, 22nd, 53rd and 56th Native Infantry.

A few got into broken ground and into a deep nullah. A small body of skirmishers of Her Majesty's 53rd came up and did great execution with the Enfield, and I imagine that of this party about 30 or 40 escaped, certainly not more.

I regret to say my loss for so small a body of men engaged was so large, the nature of the wounds mostly tulwar and bayonet will show that there must have been a number of hand-to-hand encounters, in which Lieutenant Dick, Adjutant, and Duffadar Chunda Singh showed themselves good Soldiers. The latter on the 13th distinguished himself, and I am sorry to say yesterday lost his arm.

My thanks are due to Lieutenant Sandeman for the manner he supported me with his Troop and kept the Rebels in check with so small a number of Sowars. I annex a Return of Wounded.

No. 751 of 1859.—The following Extract from the London Gazette of the 12th April 1859, is published for general information :—

War Office, 12th April 1859.

Her Majesty has also been graciously pleased to signify Her intention to confer the Decoration of the Victoria Cross on the under-mentioned Officers and Soldiers of Her Majesty's Army and Indian Military Forces, whose claims to the same have been submitted for Her Majesty's approval, on account of Acts of Bravery performed by them in India, as recorded against their several names, viz :—

Regiment.	Rank and Name.	Act of Bravery for which recommended.
Bengal Horse Artillery.	Captain G. A. Renny. Date of Act of Bravery, 16th September 1857.	Lieutenant-Colonel Farquhar, Commanding the 1st Belooch Regiment, reports that he was in command of the Troops stationed in the Delhi Magazine, after its capture on the 16th of September 1857. Early in the forenoon of that day, a vigorous attack was made on the post by the enemy, and was kept up with great violence for some time, without the slightest chance of success. Under cover of a heavy cross-fire from the high houses on the right flank of the Magazine, and from Sehughur and the Palace, the enemy advanced to the high wall of the Magazine, and endeavoured to set fire to a thatched roof. The roof was partially set fire to, which was extinguished at the spot by a Sepoy of the Belooch Battalion, a Soldier of the 61st Regiment having in vain attempted to do so. The roof having been again set on fire, Captain Renny with great gallantry mounted to the top of the wall of the Magazine, and flung several shells with lighted fuzes over into the midst of the enemy, which had an almost immediate effect, as the attack at once became feeble at that point, and soon after ceased there.
Bengal Army (Unattached.)	Ensign (now Lieut.,) Patrick Roddy. Date of Act of Bravery, 27th September 1858.	Major-General Sir James Hope Grant, K. C. B., Commanding Oudh Force, bears testimony to the gallant conduct of Lieutenant Roddy, on several occasions. One instance is particularly mentioned. On the return from Kuthirga, of the Kuppurthalla Contingent, on the 27th September 1858, this Officer, when engaged with the enemy, charged a Rebel (armed with a percussion musket) whom the Cavalry were afraid to approach, as each time they attempted to do so, the Rebel knelt and covered his assailant. This however did not deter Lieutenant Roddy, Lieutenant Roddy seized the Rebel until he could get at his sword, when he ran the man through the body. The Rebel turned out to be a Subadar of the late 8th Native Infantry, a powerful man, and a most determined character.

The Brigadier speaks highly of the conduct of the Troops, and mentions the name of Captain Clifton, Commanding Detachment 12th Lancers; Captain Mayne, Commanding Detachment 3rd Irregular Cavalry; Major Synge, Commanding Detachment Her Majesty's 43rd; Captain Disbrowe, Her Majesty's 43rd Regiment; Captain Gully, Major of Brigade, and Lieutenant Hatchell, Her Majesty's 43rd Regiment, Orderly Officer May I beg to respectfully recommend these Officers to Lord Clyde.

No. 234.

FROM BRIGADIER F. WHELER,
Comdg. Saugor District,

TO THE ASST. ADJT.-GENL.,
Saugor Field Division.

Camp Oodeypoor, 27th March 1859.

SIR,

FOR the information of the Major General Commanding Saugor Division, I have the honor to report a successful attack I made yesterday on Adil Mahomed, the Bhopal Rebel, in the jungles near this place.

Having reliable information of this Rebel's position I left Basoda at 11 P. M. on the 25th instant, and reached the village of Basoda Soojabad a little after day-light next morning.

So complete was the surprise, that on our arrival at the village not a soul was stirring, and at first I thought the rebels must have heard of my approach and decamped. Very few minutes however elapsed before I saw many Rebels come to the edge of the jungles to see what we were.

The advance of the four Companies of the 43rd Light Infantry was ordered, and in one minute, they dashed into the jungles in admirable style. For a moment I thought the Rebels would stand, but it was only for a moment, when they turned and fled and were pursued through a very thick and thorny jungle for fully three miles to the end of the valley, when further pursuit became useless.

There was but little opportunity of using the Cavalry, and the only attempt I made to employ that Arm was by sending a party round to the right to try and interrupt the flying Rebels.

I had no means of ascertaining whether the estimated number of Rebels, viz. 2000, was correct. I found that they were bivouacked in detached parties in convenient spots all over the valley, which was shown by their fires, neither can I estimate the enemy's loss: many were killed certainly. The expenditure of ammunition was 800 rounds, and the 43rd Light Infantry do not throw away their fire, but the ground was difficult and it was all sharp-shooting.

The Rebels dropped some of their cattle, arms and plunder, but they had no money to speak of about their persons, and I saw no Sepoys or Sowars in uniform.

The force I took with me is as per margin, and I beg leave to report that they all did their duty. But I am indebted to Commanding Officers of Corps; to Captain Gully, Major of Brigade, and Lieutenant Hatchell, 43rd Light Infantry, my Orderly Officer, for their exertions to keep the men together in this difficult ground, and thus systematically search it. Captain Disbrowe's Company, 43rd, followed one portion of the Rebels over a gorge in the Hills to the right, with good effect.

H. M. 12th Lancers, 40 men, under Captain Clifton.
3rd Madras Cavalry, 118 men, under Captain Mayne.
43rd Light Infantry, 380 Rank and File, under Major Synge.

The position in which I attacked these Rebels is almost impossible to describe, and I am afraid cannot be understood without it were mapped.

It may generally be described as a rather elevated valley, surrounded by low hills except to the North-East; that it is about four miles long, three wide, at the end we entered, and not more than half a mile at the other, where there is a small fort called Dowlutpoor, overlooking the valley which is there a Cal-de-Sui. I was led to believe that there were only two roads and three foot-paths into this valley, but I found that the hills were not very steep, and that the Rebels could escape almost everywhere.

The force had after a march of nineteen miles, and a trot through jungles for at least three, to return eight or nine miles to Camp at this place. The sun was very powerful and the men were under arms for thirteen hours, but they have not suffered and I have no casualty to report during this operation.

This Nawab, Adil Mahomed, will not, I think, again trust himself within reach of British Troops.

I have, &c.,

Comdg. Saugor District.

Any such action may be defended upon the ground that the invention was not new, if the person making the defence, or some person through whom he claims, shall, before the date of the petition for leave to file the specification, have publicly or actually used in India or in some part of the United Kingdom, the invention, or that part of it of which the infringement shall be proved; but not otherwise.

Invention of no utility.

That the said invention is of no utility, or

Invention not new.

That the said invention was not, at the time of presenting the petition for leave to file the specification a new invention within the meaning of this Act, or

Like application as to part of an invention.

XXV. Any person may, in like manner, apply to any of Her Majesty's Courts of Judicature for a rule to show cause why the Court should not declare that an exclusive privilege has not been acquired under the provisions of this Act in respect of any part of the invention to be specified in the rule by reason of all or any of the objections following (to be specified in the rule) that is to say—

That such part of the invention is wholly distinct from the other part thereof and is of no utility, or

That such part of the invention was not, at the date of the petition for leave to file the specification, a new invention within the meaning of this Act, or

That that part of the invention, and the manner in which it is to be performed, is not sufficiently described and ascertained in the specification filed or the amended specification, and that such defect or insufficiency is injurious to the public.

Application by Advocate General on breach of special condition.

XXVI. It shall be lawful for the Advocate General at any of the Presidencies of Fort William in Bengal, Fort St. George, and Bombay, or any other person, by order of the Governor General in Council, to apply to any of the said Courts of Judicature for a rule calling upon the petitioner, his executors, administrators, or assigns, to show cause why the question of the breach of any special condition upon which the leave to file a specification has been granted, or any other question of fact on which the revocation of the exclusive privilege by the Governor General in Council under the power hereinbefore reserved may, in the judgment of the said Governor General in Council, depend, should not be tried in the form of an issue directed by the said Court; and if the rule be made absolute, the Court, unless the breach or other matter of fact be admitted, may thereupon direct such issue to be tried, and certify the result of such trial to the Governor General in Council. The costs of such trial, and also the costs of any proceedings in any of the said Courts of Judicature under the provisions of this Act, shall be in the discretion of the Court.

Service of proceedings on all persons interested.

XXVII. Supreme Court may direct issue for trial to other Courts.

XXVIII. Any of the said Courts of Judicature, if it think fit, may direct an issue for the trial, before the same Court or any other Court of Judicature, or any principal Court of original jurisdiction in Civil cases, of any question of fact arising upon an application under Sections XXIV, XXV, or XXVI of this Act, and such issue shall be tried accordingly in a summary manner, and, if the issue be directed to another Court, the finding shall be certified by the Court before which the same was tried, to the Court directing the issue. If the issue be directed to any Court of Judicature, the Court by which the issue is tried may, before the finding is certified, direct a new trial of such issue according to the usual course and practice of such Court. If the issue be directed to any Court other than a Court of Judicature, the finding shall not be subject to appeal, but the evidence taken upon the trial shall be recorded, and a copy thereof, certified by the Judge, shall be transmitted, together with any remarks he may think fit to make thereon, to the Court by which the issue was directed; and such Court may either act upon the decision of the Court which tried the issue, or direct a new trial if it shall appear necessary.

New trial.

XXIX. If it shall appear to any of the said Courts of Judicature at the hearing of any application under the provisions of Sections XXIV or XXV of this Act that, by reason of any of the objections therein mentioned, the said exclusive privilege in the invention or in any part thereof has not been acquired, the Court shall give judgment accordingly, and shall make such order as to the costs of and consequent upon the application as it may think just; and thereupon the petitioner, his executors, administrators, and assigns shall, so long as the judgment continues in force, cease to be entitled to such exclusive privilege.

Judgment.

Costs.

XXX. If the Court, at the hearing of any such application as last aforesaid, shall think that the petitioner has, in the description of his invention in the petition or specification or amended specification (if any), included something which at the date of the petition was not new or whereof he was not the inventor, or that the specification is in any particular defective or insufficient, but that the error, defect, or insufficiency was not fraudulently intended, the Court may adjudge the said exclusive privilege to have been acquired and to be valid, save as to the part thereof affected by such error, defect, or insufficiency, or if the Court shall think that the error, defect, or insufficiency can be amended without injury to the public, they may adjudge the exclusive privilege in the whole invention to be valid, and may, upon such terms as shall appear reasonable, order the specification to be amended in any of the said particulars; and thereupon the petitioner, his executors, administrators, or assigns shall, within the time limited by the said Court for the purpose, file a specification amended according to such order. Provided that no such amended specification shall have the effect of extending or enlarging the exclusive privilege before acquired.

Amendment of specification by Court.

Proviso.

XXXI. An exclusive privilege shall not be defeated upon the ground that the petition contains a mis-statement, unless such mis-statement was wilful or fraudulent.

Mis-statement in the petition, if not fraudulent, not to defeat the privilege.

XXXII. Whenever it shall be adjudged by any of the said Courts of Judicature that an exclusive privilege as to the whole or any part of an invention has not been acquired, the said Secretary to the Government of India shall, upon the production of the judgment or order, cause an entry thereof to be made in the said book hereinbefore directed to be kept, and shall cause a reference to such entry to be made in the margin of the entry of the specification contained in such book.

Entry in registry book of judgment &c. declaring privilege not to have been acquired.

XXXIII. If, upon proceedings instituted within two years from the date of a petition to file a specification, the actual inventor shall prove to the satisfaction of the principal Court having jurisdiction in Civil cases within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the defendant shall reside as a fixed inhabitant, that the petitioner was not the actual inventor, and that at the time of the petition he knew or had good reason to believe that the knowledge of the invention was obtained by himself or by some other person surreptitiously or in fraud of the actual inventor, or by means of a communication made in confidence by the actual inventor to him or to any person through whom he derived such knowledge, the Court may compel the petitioner to assign to the actual inventor any exclusive privilege obtained under this Act and to account for and pay over the profits thereof.

In what case actual inventor entitled to assignment of an exclusive privilege fraudulently obtained.

XXXIV. In any action for the infringement of such exclusive privilege, the plaintiff shall deliver with his plaint particulars of the breaches complained of in the said action; and the defendant shall deliver a written statement of the particulars of the grounds (if any) upon which he means to contend that the plaintiff is not entitled to an exclusive privilege in the invention. In like manner, upon any application to any of the said Courts of Judicature under Sections XXIV, XXV, or XXVI of this Act, the applicant shall deliver particulars of the objections on which he means to rely. At the trial of any such action or issue, no evidence shall be allowed to be given in support of any alleged infringement or of any objection impeaching the validity of such exclusive privilege which shall not be contained in the particulars delivered as aforesaid. If it be alleged that the invention was publicly known or used prior to the date of the petition for leave to file such specification, the places where and the manner in which the invention was so publicly known or used shall be stated in such particulars. Provided always that it shall be lawful for any Court in which the action or proceeding is pending, or in which the issue is tried, to allow the plaintiff or defendant respectively to amend the particulars delivered as aforesaid upon such terms as shall seem fit.

Particulars to be delivered.

XXXV. A book shall be kept in the Office of the Secretary to the Government of India in the Home Department (such book to be open to inspection without fee) wherein every person filing a specification under this Act, or any person to whom the exclusive privilege may be assigned, shall cause to be stated some place in India where service of any rule or proceedings for the purpose of cancelling or revoking his exclusive privilege may be made, and shall cause a reference to such entry to be made in the margin of the entry of the specification, and may from time to time cause any other place in India to be substituted by a similar entry and reference. All such rules and proceedings as aforesaid shall be deemed sufficiently served if a copy thereof be left at the place entered in such book or (if any other place be substituted for the same by entry in the said book) at the place last substituted, by delivering the same to any person resident at, or in charge of, such place: or, if there be no person resident at, or in charge of such place, or if such place be not within the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court, by causing such rule or proceeding to be sent by Post by a registered letter directed to such person at such place; and if any such person shall neglect to make or cause to be made such entry, then service of such rule or proceeding may be effected by affixing a copy thereof to some conspicuous part of the Court-house or in such other manner as the Court may direct.

Camp near Nagode, the 1st April 1859.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to forward for submission to the Right Honorable the Commander-in-Chief, Reports from Captain Venables, Her Majesty's 97th Regiment, and Captain Rishton, of the 1st Regiment Madras Native Infantry, of the operations of the Detachment under their command against the Rebels.

The pursuit of the enemy by Captain Venables, Commanding the party, and the result is very creditable to that Officer and those under his command.

Lieutenant Ireland, of the Rewah Contingent, has been noticed for his useful services on the occasion, and Assistant Apothecaries Master and Cripps who have also been mentioned, I know, to be deserving and intelligent public Servants.

Camp Rajgurh, 25th March 1859.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to communicate for the information of Brigadier General Whitlock that, in accordance with instructions received from Brevet Major Kinkaid, Commanding at Nowgong, I proceeded in command of the Detachments detailed in the margin to Rajgurh, at which town I arrived by forced marches 22nd instant. On the morning of the 23rd instant, I received an application for assistance from Captain Rishton, Commanding Madras Native Infantry, for the purpose of co-operating against a force of Rebels who had that morning attacked the baggage of the force under his command, and killed three of the Guards. I immediately detailed the Cavalry of the Rewah Contingent under Lieutenant Ireland, together with a Company of Her Majesty's 97th Foot, and advanced to the Village of Murruree on the right bank of the Kane River. Having at this place obtained information as to the position of the Rebels and the services of a guide, I united with the force under the command of Captain Rishton and pushed forward rapidly in pursuit of the Rebels who were following the course of the river towards Saleia. After a march of about fifteen miles through dense jungle I overtook the Rebels in their encampment at night fall. I instantly deployed and charged clearing their entire Camp and capturing their camels, horses, arms, cooking utensils and bedding. The Rebels retreated rapidly across the river closely followed to the banks by the Troops, darkness and difficulties of the jungle rendering any further pursuits hopeless. I however reformed and halted on the ground for upwards of four hours awaiting the rising of the moon, after which finding no further traces of the Rebels I returned to the Camp after a march of upwards of thirty miles.

I have great satisfaction in stating that the entire dispersion of the Rebels was effected with but little loss; the casualties amounting to but three men, Madras Native Infantry, one of whom only is severely wounded. The loss of the Rebels I was unable to ascertain with accuracy owing to the darkness. Among the captured stores were sabres, carbines and uniforms of the 1st Bombay Light Cavalry, together with uniform of the 12th Bombay Native Infantry and Bombay Artillery. From the different sources of information it would appear that the Rebel force was about 500 strong, well supplied with baggage, animals and other transports.

For the detailed accounts of the operations of the Force under the command of Captain Rishton, Madras Native Infantry, prior to my uniting with him at Murreree, I beg to enclose that Officer's Official Report.

I have the honor to bring to the notice of the Brigadier General, the great assistance I derived from Lieutenant Ireland, Rewah Cavalry Contingent, not only for the services rendered by him in his Military capacity, but for the information which his acquaintance with the language enabled him to afford me, and without which I should have been totally unable to have pursued the Rebels in their retreat through the jungle. In the absence of a Medical Officer attached to the Force, I have also to thank Mr. Apothecary Masters and Mr. Apothecary Thomas Cripps, Madras Army, for the energy they displayed and the assistance rendered by them to the wounded.

FROM CAPTAIN A. L. RISHTON,
1st Regiment M. N. I.,
Comdg. Field Detachment,
TO CAPTAIN VENABLES,
H. M.'s 97th Regiment,
Comdg. Field Detachment at Rajghur.
The 24th March 1859.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to report, that I arrived at this place on the evening of the 22nd instant. My baggage waggons having broken down at the foot of the Punnah Ghaut, I, at 5 o'clock on the following morning, sent a strong party under two Native Officers of the Madras Rifles and Light Company 1st Regiment Madras Native Infantry, with a sufficient number of camels and other public cattle to convey to Camp the mens' kits which of necessity were left at the foot of the ghaut.

On the return of the advance portion of this party to the village of Murruree, the enemy came suddenly upon them, killing three Sepoys out of five, and capturing the baggage under their escort, the remaining two escaped and rejoined their own party. One of my Camp Followers who had witnessed the attack, escaped through the enemy and gave us the information. I immediately ordered the rest of my Detachment to fall in, leaving a guard in a strong position on a Temple, in which was placed the ammunition and camp equipage. I then marched on the village above named, having sent Lieutenant Cox to the Detachment under your command at Rajghur, to procure the assistance of some Cavalry if possible. After his departure, I ordered Lieutenant Tyndale to request you to have a party in readiness to co-operate with me, should the information procured be such as to warrant pursuit of the enemy. These two Officers conducted this duty to my satisfaction, and shortly overtook me near the village of Murruree with a party of Rewah Contingent Cavalry, which you despatched to me under the command of Lieutenant Ireland, whom I desired to advance on the village in which I found the bodies of our Sepoys very much mutilated, and stript of their accoutrements.

Stragglers were here overtaken and charged by the advanced party under Lieutenants Ireland and Tyndale; a few of the enemy were killed, others took to the hills, and were pursued by a Company of Madras Rifles, under Lieutenant Cox and the Light Company, 1st Regiment Madras Native Infantry, under Subadar Perwesh Khan. Officers and men behaved well.

The enemy, I ascertained to be in force, having with them Cavalry and Camel Sowars. I desired Lieutenant Ireland to write a letter and despatch it by a Sowar to you for the reinforcement promised, writing at the same time myself to Major Ellis at Punneah.

Lieutenant Ireland (a very intelligent Officer) by my order questioned an hurkaru who volunteered to show us where the enemy had gone. Upon the report received, I was enabled to forward correct information to you. It is stated that the enemy numbered 500 men.

Mr. Assistant Apothecary Thomas Cripps conducted his duties to my entire satisfaction and showed great attention to the wounded.

It is worthy of notice that the guard of Punneah Sepoys, the village authorities and people of Murruree did not give intimation of what had taken place, although the village was situated two miles from my Camp. They must have been aware of the vicinity of the enemy, and have seen my men killed.

I enclose a present state of my Detachment when you joined and assumed command of the Force accompanied by a Nominal Roll of those killed at Murruree, and those wounded at Saleia.

I have, &c.,

No. 775 of 1859.—The time has arrived when the Government of India can dispense with the services of the Calcutta Volunteer Guards.

This Corps, consisting of a Battery of four Guns, five Troops of Cavalry and seven Companies of Infantry, was formed, in June 1857, of the several classes of British and European Inhabitants of Calcutta, who spontaneously came forward at a time of need, to offer their services for the protection of the Metropolis of British India. The Regiment has answered every expectation, and has most satisfactorily performed all the duties required of it, but now that the crisis has passed away, and confidence has been restored in the minds of the Inhabitants, the necessity for a special Corps to aid in the protection of Calcutta no longer exists, and there is no further occasion to demand the time and services of the Inhabitants for that purpose.

His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General desires in the name of the Government of India publicly to acknowledge the services of the Volunteer Guards and to thank the Officers, Non-Commissioned Officers and Members of the several branches of the Corps for the cheerful and hearty manner in which they tendered their services, and have performed their respective duties, at a great sacrifice of their own time and convenience.

The Corps of Calcutta Volunteer Guards will be broken up from the 1st proximo.

The names of the Commandants, Captains and Subalterns of the several Troops and Companies will be retained in the Bengal Army List, and all Members of the Corps are invited to continue to wear their uniforms on occasions of public ceremony.

The Standards of the Cavalry and the Colors of the Infantry will be deposited in the Arsenal of Fort William.

The Guns, Arms, and Accoutrements, Harness, &c., will be returned into Store, and the Horses made over to the Remount Agent.

No. 776 of 1859.—In conformity with Government General Order, No. 144 of 1852, the following Statement of Deposits made in the General Treasury, during the month of March 1859, on account of the Estates of deceased European Commissioned, Non-Commissioned, and Warrant Officers and Soldiers of the Indian Military Forces of Her Majesty is published for general information; and it is hereby notified, that claims to the Estates in question which shall not be preferred to the Sub-Treasurer by Executors and Administrators before the conclusion of twelve months after the date of decease, cannot be attended to in this Country, as the money, after that period, will be remitted to, and made payable by the Secretary of State for India:—

WHEREAS Act VI of 1856, entitled "An Act for granting exclusive privileges to Inventors," was passed by the Legislative Council of India without the sanction of Her Majesty to the passing thereof having been previously obtained and signified in pursuance of the Statute passed in the seventeenth year of the reign of Her Majesty, entitled "An Act to provide for the Government of India :" and whereas Her Majesty's Law Officers having given it as their opinion that the Legislative Council of India was not competent to pass Act VI of 1856 without previously obtaining the sanction of the Crown, and the Court of Directors of the East India Company having in pursuance of the power vested in them by law disallowed Act VI of 1856 and having signified to the Governor General of India in Council their disallowance thereof, the said Act was repealed by Act IX of 1857 ; and whereas it is expedient, for the encouragement of Inventors of new manufactures, that certain exclusive privileges in their inventions should be granted to them in India, and that exclusive privileges obtained under the said Act should be protected : It is enacted as follows (The sanction of Her Majesty to the passing of this Act having been previously obtained and signified in pursuance of the said Statute) :—

IV. If, within the space of six calendar months from the date of such order, the petitioner cause a specification of his invention to be filed in manner hereinafter mentioned, the petitioner, his executors, administrators, or assigns, shall be entitled to the sole and exclusive privilege of making, selling, and using the said invention in India, and of authorizing others so to do, for the term of fourteen years from the time of filing such specification, and for such further term (if any), not exceeding fourteen years from the expiration of the first fourteen years, as the Governor General of India in Council may think fit to direct, upon petition to be presented by such inventor, at any period not more than one year, and not less than six calendar months, before the expiration of the exclusive privilege hereby granted.

Application to Supreme Courts to declare exclusive privilege not to have been acquired on following grounds—

XXIV. It shall be lawful for any person to apply by motion to any of Her Majesty's Courts of Judicature for a rule to show cause why the Court should not declare that an exclusive privilege in respect of an invention has not been acquired under the provisions of this Act by reason of all or any of the objections following (to be specified in the rule), that is to say—

Invention of no utility.

That the said invention is of no utility, or

Invention not new.

That the said invention was not, at the time of presenting the petition for leave to file the specification a new invention within the meaning of this Act, or

Petitioner not the inventor.

That the petitioner was not the inventor thereof, or

Invention not described in specification.

That the specification filed or the amended specification (if any) does not particularly describe and ascertain the nature of the invention or in what manner the same is to be performed, or Fraud in petition or specification.

That the petitioner has knowingly or fraudulently included in the petition or specification or amended specification, as part of his invention, something which was not new or whereof he was not the inventor, or

Fraudulent mis-statement in petition or specification.

That the original or any subsequent petition relating to the invention or the original or any amended specification contains a wilful or fraudulent mis-statement, or

Insufficient description of part of invention in specification.

That some part of the invention, or the manner in which that part is to be performed as described in the specification filed or the amended specification, is not thereby sufficiently described and ascertained, and that such defect or insufficiency was fraudulent and is injurious to the public.

Like application as to part of an invention.

XXV. Any person may, in like manner, apply to any of Her Majesty's Courts of Judicature for a rule to show cause why the Court should not declare that an exclusive privilege has not been acquired under the provisions of this Act in respect of any part of the invention to be specified in the rule by reason of all or any of the objections following (to be specified in the rule) that is to say—

That such part of the invention is wholly distinct from the other part thereof and is of no utility, or

That such part of the invention was not, at the date of the petition for leave to file the specification, a new invention within the meaning of this Act, or

That the petitioner was not the inventor of that part of the invention, or

That that part of the invention, and the manner in which it is to be performed, is not sufficiently described and ascertained in the specification filed or the amended specification, and that such defect or insufficiency is injurious to the public.

Application by Advocate General on breach of special condition.

XXVI. It shall be lawful for the Advocate General at any of the Presidencies of Fort William in Bengal, Fort St. George, and Bombay, or any other person, by order of the Governor General in Council, to apply to any of the said Courts of Judicature for a rule calling upon the petitioner, his executors, administrators, or assigns, to show cause why the question of the breach of any special condition upon which the leave to file a specification has been granted, or any other question of fact on which the revocation of the exclusive privilege by the Governor General in Council under the power hereinbefore reserved may, in the judgment of the said Governor General in Council, depend, should not be tried in the form of an issue directed by the said Court; and if the rule be made absolute, the Court, unless the breach or other matter of fact be admitted, may thereupon direct such issue to be tried, and certify the result of such trial to the Governor General in Council. The costs of such trial, and also the costs of any proceedings in any of the said Courts of Judicature under the provisions of this Act, shall be in the discretion of the Court.

Service of proceedings on all persons interested.

XXVII. Notice of any rule obtained or proceeding taken under either of the last three preceding Sections shall be served on all persons appearing to be proprietors or to have shares or interests in the exclusive privilege under the provisions of Section XXXV of this Act, and it shall not be necessary to serve such notice on any other persons.

Supreme Court may direct issue for trial to other Courts.

XXVIII. Any of the said Courts of Judicature, if it think fit, may direct an issue for the trial, before the same Court or any other Court of Judicature or any principal Court of original jurisdiction in Civil cases, of any question of fact arising upon an application under Sections XXIV, XXV, or XXVI of this Act, and such issue shall be tried accordingly in a summary manner, and, if the issue be directed to another Court, the finding shall be certified by the Court before which the same was tried, to the Court directing the issue. If the issue be directed to any Court of Judicature, the Court by which the issue is tried may, before the finding is certified, direct a new trial of such issue according to the usual course and practice of such Court. If the issue be directed to any Court other than a Court of Judicature, the finding shall not be subject to appeal, but the evidence taken upon the trial shall be recorded, and a copy thereof, certified by the Judge, shall be transmitted, together with any remarks he may think fit to make thereon, to the Court by which the issue was directed; and such Court may either act upon the decision of the Court which tried the issue, or direct a new trial if it shall appear necessary.

New trial.

XXIX. If it shall appear to any of the said Courts of Judicature at the hearing of any application under the provisions of Sections XXIV or XXV of this Act that, by reason of any of the objections therein mentioned, the said exclusive privilege in the invention or in any part thereof has not been acquired, the Court shall give judgment accordingly, and shall make such order as to the costs of and consequent upon the application as it may think just; and thereupon the petitioner, his executors, administrators, and assigns shall, so long as the judgment continues in force, cease to be entitled to such exclusive privilege.

Judgment.

Costs.

XXX. If the Court, at the hearing of any such application as last aforesaid, shall think that the petitioner has, in the description of his invention in the petition or specification or amended specification (if any), included something which at the date of the petition was not new or whereof he was not the inventor, or that the specification is in any particular defective or insufficient, but that the error, defect, or insufficiency was not fraudulently intended, the Court may adjudge the said exclusive privilege to have been acquired and to be valid, save as to the part thereof affected by such error, defect, or insufficiency, or if the Court shall think that the error, defect, or insufficiency can be amended without injury to the public, they may adjudge the exclusive privilege in the whole invention to be valid, and may, upon such terms as shall appear reasonable, order the specification to be amended in any of the said particulars; and thereupon the petitioner, his executors, administrators, or assigns shall, within the time limited by the said Court for the purpose, file a specification amended according to such order. Provided that no such amended specification shall have the effect of extending or enlarging the exclusive privilege before acquired.

Amendment of specification by Court.

Proviso.

XXXI. An exclusive privilege shall not be defeated upon the ground that the petition contains a mis-statement, unless such mis-statement was wilful or fraudulent.

Mis-statement in the petition, if not fraudulent, not to defeat the privilege.

XXXII. Whenever it shall be adjudged by any of the said Courts of Judicature that an exclusive privilege as to the whole or any part of an invention has not been acquired, the said Secretary to the Government of India shall, upon the production of the judgment or order, cause an entry thereof to be made in the said book hereinbefore directed to be kept, and shall cause a reference to such entry to be made in the margin of the entry of the specification contained in such book.

Entry in registry book of judgment &c. declaring privilege not to have been acquired.

XXXIII. If, upon proceedings instituted within two years from the date of a petition to file a specification, the actual inventor shall prove to the satisfaction of the principal Court having jurisdiction in Civil cases within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the defendant shall reside as a fixed inhabitant, that the petitioner was not the actual inventor, and that at the time of the petition he knew or had good reason to believe that the knowledge of the invention was obtained by himself or by some other person surreptitiously or in fraud of the actual inventor, or by means of a communication made in confidence by the actual inventor to him or to any person through whom he derived such knowledge, the Court may compel the petitioner to assign to the actual inventor any exclusive privilege obtained under this Act and to account for and pay over the profits thereof.

In what case actual inventor entitled to assignment of an exclusive privilege fraudulently obtained.

XXXIV. In any action for the infringement of such exclusive privilege, the plaintiff shall deliver with his plaint particulars of the breaches complained of in the said action; and the defendant shall deliver a written statement of the particulars of the grounds (if any) upon which he means to contend that the plaintiff is not entitled to an exclusive privilege in the invention. In like manner, upon any application to any of the said Courts of Judicature under Sections XXIV, XXV, or XXVI of this Act, the applicant shall deliver particulars of the objections on which he means to rely. At the trial of any such action or issue, no evidence shall be allowed to be given in support of any alleged infringement or of any objection impeaching the validity of such exclusive privilege which shall not be contained in the particulars delivered as aforesaid. If it be alleged that the invention was publicly known or used prior to the date of the petition for leave to file such specification, the places where and the manner in which the invention was so publicly known or used shall be stated in such particulars. Provided always that it shall be lawful for any Court in which the action or proceeding is pending, or in which the issue is tried, to allow the plaintiff or defendant respectively to amend the particulars delivered as aforesaid upon such terms as shall seem fit.

Particulars to be delivered.

XXXV. A book shall be kept in the Office of the Secretary to the Government of India in the Home Department (such book to be open to inspection without fee) wherein every person filing a specification under this Act, or any person to whom the exclusive privilege may be assigned, shall cause to be stated some place in India where service of any rule or proceedings for the purpose of cancelling or revoking his exclusive privilege may be made, and shall cause a reference to such entry to be made in the margin of the entry of the specification, and may from time to time cause any other place in India to be substituted by a similar entry and reference. All such rules and proceedings as aforesaid shall be deemed sufficiently served if a copy thereof be left at the place entered in such book or (if any other place be substituted for the same by entry in the said book) at the place last substituted, by delivering the same to any person resident at, or in charge of, such place: or, if there be no person resident at, or in charge of such place, or if such place be not within the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court, by causing such rule or proceeding to be sent by Post by a registered letter directed to such person at such place; and if any such person shall neglect to make or cause to be made such entry, then service of such rule or proceeding may be effected by affixing a copy thereof to some conspicuous part of the Court-house or in such other manner as the Court may direct.

Act VI of 1856 to have effect in respect of certain specifications filed and acts done.

XXXVI. Act VI of 1856 shall be of the same force and effect in respect to every petition and specification filed under the provisions thereof before the Act was repealed, and in regard to all proceedings consequent thereon or in relation thereto, and for the purpose of every thing done under that Act while it continued in force, as if previously to the passing of the said Act the sanction of Her Majesty to the passing thereof had been obtained and signified in pursuance of the Statute passed in the seventeenth year of the reign of Her Majesty, entitled "An Act to provide for the Government of India," and as if the said Act had not been repealed; and the term of every exclusive privilege obtained under the said Act is hereby extended and shall continue until the expiration of fourteen years from the time of the passing of this Act. No exclusive privilege obtained under the said Act by an importer not being the actual inventor shall cease to have effect by virtue of the provisions of Section XVI of the said Act if the invention be put in practice in India within the period of two years from the time of the passing of this Act.

No. 230.

FROM MAJOR-GENL. G. C. WHITLOCK,
Commanding Saugor Field Division,

TO MAJOR-GENL. SIR W. R. MANSFIELD, K. C. B.,
Chief of the Staff,
Army Head Quarters.

Camp Nagode, 12th April 1859.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to report, for the information of the Right Hon'ble the Commander-in-Chief, the return to Division Head Quarters of the Column which I sent out under the Command of Colonel Apthorp, C. B. and K. S. F., to disperse the Rebels who were reported to have collected in the strong positions of Gerce and Putowri, on the left bank of the Cain River.

I directed the march of the whole on Punnah, and then, according to circumstances, to make arrangements to attack the Rebels.

His Lordship is already in possession of the result of the operations which have led to the dispersion of the Rebels chiefly Mutineers from Gwalior, the death of a very notorious leader, and the capture of a large quantity of Baggage and Cattle, as well as Arms.

A Detachment of the 6th Madras Light Cavalry and the 30th Madras Native Infantry, Company of the Madras Rifles, whom I had detached under the Command of Captain Doveton, 30th Madras Native Infantry, to Etawah, (the Town where the murder of the two Railway Officers was committed,) to act in the event of the Rebels adopting that route fortunately fell in with them, repulsed them with loss, and captured Camels, &ca., Baggage as well as Arms.

It would appear that these parties consisted principally of Sepoys.

Information was also sent to the Officer Commanding Nowgong, to keep a good look-out in that quarter and a private note from that place has informed me of a Madras Native Infantry and the Rewah Contingent having surprised a party of the Rebels, completely routed them with much loss, with on our side 3 of the 17th, and 3 of the Contingent wounded.

There are and will be for some time small bodies of Mutineers scattered throughout the jungles and in the Hills.

But I trust the arrangements I have made in the location of Detachments will be means of preventing the Rebels collecting in any great numbers.

Colonel Apthorp, C. B. and K. S. F., is entitled to my best thanks for the effective manner in which he has carried out my instructions, and he has expressed himself highly satisfied with all who have been employed under him.

I have already submitted to His Lordship the Commander-in-Chief, the names of the Officers who have been brought to my notice.

I have, &c.,

No. 790 of 1859.—His Excellency the Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following Report of the defeat of a body of Rebels under Muckoond Singh, by the Troops under the Command of Captain Wright, 2nd Sikh Cavalry.

FROM MAJOR-GENL. G. C. WHITLOCK,
Commanding Saugor Field Division,

TO MAJOR-GENL. SIR W. R. MANSFIELD, K. C. B.,
Chief of the Staff,

Camp near Nagode, 12th April 1859.

SIR,

IT affords me great satisfaction to forward, for submission to the Right Hon'ble the Commander-in-Chief the accompanying Despatch from Captain Wright, Commanding the 2nd Seikh Cavalry.

That Officer has noticed the excellent conduct of all under his Command in his attack on the enemy, and considering the strong position of the Rebels and their numbers, I consider the affair to be most creditable to all, and I beg to recommend to the favourable consideration of the Commander-in-Chief, Captain Wright as a most excellent and energetic Officer,

Lieutenant Johnstone, 1st N. I.
„ Hunt, 3rd M. E. R.
„ Taylor, 1st N. I.
Assistant Surgeon J. Brake, doing duty, 2nd Sikh Cavalry.

Captain Wright has named the Officers in the margin, from whom he has received every support, and I would beg to bring them to the notice of His Lordship the Commander-in-Chief.

Colonel Apthorp has recommended Naib Ressaldar Khan Singh, for the Order of Merit, and his conspicuous gallantry on this occasion, under the immediate eye of his Commanding Officer, induces me to express a hope that this Soldier may be considered deserving of this distinguished honor.

I have, &c.,

Commanding Saugor Field Division.

No. 289.

FROM CAPTAIN T. WRIGHT,
Comdg. 2nd Sikh Irregular Cavalry and Detachment Saugor Field Force,

TO THE STAFF OFFICER,
Saugor Field Force.

Camp Mariadoo, 29th March 1859.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to report, for the information of Colonel Apthorp, C. B., Commanding Saugor Field Force, that the Troops detailed in the margin, which he was pleased to place under my Command, attacked and defeated this morning a body of Rebels under Muckoond Singh Grenadier Company, 3rd M. E. Regiment.

1 Lieutenant.
1 Ensign.
4 Sergeants.
64 Rank and File.
1st M. N. Infantry.
2 Lieutenants.
3 Native Officers.
9 Havildars.
90 Rank and File.
2nd Sikh Cavalry.
1 European Officer.
3 Native Officers.
3 Duffadars.
60 Sowars.

2. Having yesterday evening received intelligence that a large body of Rebels had taken up their position at a village called Imleepanee about 12 miles from my encampment I marched at 4 A. M. from Syepoor, a village 8 miles West of Kishenghur, situated among the Chutteepoor Hills.

3. When within 2½ miles of Imleepanee I proceeded forward with the Cavalry of the Detachment to reconnoitre the enemy's position and found them posted a little beyond the village in a deep hollow near the dry bed of a mountain torrent surrounded by dense jungle and steep rocks. It was indeed admirably situated for defensive purposes, and with a few resolute Troops might have been held against vastly superior numbers.

4. The Videttes of the enemy were posted in the village and their announcement of our arrival was the signal for the whole of the Rebels turning out to defend their position, a number rushed up the steep slopes in my front and right, and commenced a heavy musket fire on my party from behind rocks and jungle within 80 yards, which induced me to retire my men about 50 yards to place them under a slight shelter which there offered itself, until the arrival of the Infantry.

5. Lieutenant Johnstone, 1st Madras Native Infantry, whom I had left in Command of the Infantry, on hearing the firing, brought up the Column at the "double," and on its arrival, I directed the Grenadiers 3rd Madras European Regiment, to form up in skirmishing order and subsequently reinforced them by the two Companies of the 1st Madras Native Infantry. The whole of this formation took place under a sharp fire from the enemy. After two well-directed rounds from the Enfield Rifles of the Grenadiers I caused the whole of the Troops to advance to the attack, a movement which the enemy no sooner perceived, than a wavering was observed in their ranks, and they commenced making a most precipitate retreat.

6. I now pursued with Cavalry as rapidly as possible, and in spite of boulder rocks and dense jungle which gave the enemy considerable advantage, my men succeeded in cutting up a good number. When the pursuit, which was continued over five miles of this difficult country, was at last given over, owing to the distressed state of the Horses, the Rebels were so thoroughly dispersed, that I do not think that a body of more than three or four men was in existence in any part of the field and certainly not one remained in sight.

7. It was impossible to say accurately what was the actual loss of the enemy, but judging from the number of bodies lying about, I should say there must have been at least 50 killed in the pursuit only, and many were doubtless killed or wounded by the well-directed fire of the Enfield Rifles of the Grenadiers of the 3rd Madras European Regiment.

8. The jungles in the vicinity of Imleepanee were strewed with arms and property of all kinds, and Tattoos and Camels were straying about in every direction. These circumstances will show how thoroughly the Rebels had been surprised and defeated. From one of the bodies lying on the field, jewels worth upwards of 2000 Rupees were taken by some of the Troops, and it was afterwards ascertained from prisoners that the owner's name was Heera Singh, formerly Subadar of the Kotah Contingent, and performing at the time the functions of a Military Commander of the Rebels under Muckoond Singh.

9. The enemy numbered about 800, of whom one hundred were said to be Cavalry, belonging formerly to the Lucknow Contingent and the Infantry consisted chiefly of Gwalior and Kotah Contingent Mutineers.

10. The blow thus struck at the Rebels will show them at all events that neither in dense jungles nor in steep rocks are they safe from the attack of British Troops. The effects of it on the minds of the people in this neighbourhood is certainly that of instilling confidence, for whereas before the action I could gain but little or no information of the movements of the Rebels, this is now volunteered on all sides.

11. The conduct of the whole of the Troops during the action was admirable.

The eager and rapid advance of the Grenadiers of the 3rd Madras European Regiment to the attack was perhaps the first thing to strike dismay into the enemy's ranks. The bearing of the men of this fine Company was most praiseworthy.

The two Companies of the 1st Madras Native Infantry emulated the excellent example set them by their European Comrades in their eagerness to encounter the enemy.

The men of the 2nd Sikh Irregular Cavalry also did their duty most gallantly, galloping over rocks and through dense thorny jungle, that few under ordinary circumstances would have ventured at a walk. In all parts of the field they engaged the enemy in desperate hand-to-hand conflicts and suffered none to escape who once came within their reach.

12. I am exceedingly indebted to the whole of the Officers of the Detachment for their efficient support.

Lieutenant Johnstone, 1st Madras Native Infantry, my Second in Command, ably commanded the Infantry Column whenever my presence was elsewhere required.

Lieutenant Hunt, 3rd Madras European Regiment, in Command of his Grenadiers, showed himself a most efficient Officer and was foremost when leading his men to the attack.

Lieutenant Taylor, 1st Madras Native Infantry, and Lieutenant Graham, 3rd Madras European Regiment, excellently supported their respective Commanding Officer.

To Assistant Surgeon J. Brake, M. D., 2nd Sikh Irregular Cavalry, my particular obligations are due, for the zealous and devoted manner in which he performed the Medical duties of the Detachment: under a heavy fire I observed him attending to the cure and comfort of the wounded

13. I venture to request that Colonel Apthorp will be pleased to recommend Naib Ressaldar Khan Singh, of the 2nd Sikh Irregular Cavalry, for the Order of Merit for conspicuous gallantry in the field. Under my own observation he attacked and cut down three of the enemy, all of whom fought with much determination. His own horse has been rendered useless from wounds. Other men of the Troops behaved as well as the Naib Ressaldar, but I am aware of the impossibility of an extensive grant of this much-prized distinction, and I therefore make one nomination only.

14. I respectfully solicit also that Colonel Apthorp will be pleased to bring the services of the Troops under my Command to the favourable notice of Major General Whitlock, Commanding the Division.

15. I beg to enclose a Return of Casualties

Notification.—The following Despatch from Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India, No. 18, dated 21st April last, is published for general information:—

Political. India Office,
London, 21st April 1859.

No. 18.

To His Excellency the Right Honorable the Governor General of India in Council.

My Lord,

The Despatches* from your Excellency in the Foreign Department, noted in the margin, relate to the measures, which you adopted to give publicity to Her Majesty's Proclamation at the Courts of the Princes and Chiefs of India, and to the manner in which that imperial manifests has been received by the several Durbars.

2. It is with feelings of the liveliest satisfaction that Her Majesty's Government have learnt from these Despatches and their enclosures, that the Proclamation has been received at all the Principal Native Courts in the spirit in which it was issued. From all parts of India and the adjacent countries, from the Northern Hills of Jummoo to the Southernmost part of the Peninsula, the letters, in which you announced the inauguration of the new era of Indian Government have been responded to, in language expressive of loyalty and devotion to the British Crown, whilst the contents of Her Majesty's Proclamation have been promulgated, throughout the Native States, with every demonstration of respect.

3. By His Highness the Nizam, by the Maharajah of Nepaul, by the Principal Mahratta Chieftains—Scindiah, Holkar, and the Guicowar, Her Majesty's Proclamation was received and responded to with especial honor. Every effort was made to impart dignity to the occasion; the Streets were illuminated, bonfires were lit, public entertainments were given; and all grades of Society are said to have participated in the satisfaction evinced by the Courts.

4. By the ancient Chiefs of Rajpootana, the same loyalty and good feeling were evinced; and the great Chiefs of the protected Sikh States demonstrated their satisfaction with the conspicuous devotion to the British Government, which they so consistently manifested throughout the entire period of the Sepoy revolt.

5. Other Princes, both Mahomedan and Hindoo, as the Nawab Nazim of Bengal, and the Rajah of Mysore, responded with equal alacrity to the encouraging assurances contained in Her Majesty's Proclamation. The greatest detestation of the conduct of Rebels was every where expressed, and Her Majesty's name was universally associated with expressions of gratitude and love.

6. In these demonstrations Her Majesty's Government see abundant promise of a peaceful and a prosperous future. They indicate the confi-

From Captain G. Cleveland,
98th Regt., Commanding the Column,
To Major Dillon,
Brigade Major.

Camp Rumwarpore,
Three Coss North of Gonda
The 13th April 1859.

Sir,

For the information of Brigadier Horsford, C. B., Commanding Field Force Trans Gogra, I have the honor to make the following Report. On arrival at Rumwarpore yesterday, I at once directed the Oude Police Sowars to proceed at a smart pace towards Durzie Gown, bearing S. S. W. to reconnoitre and gain information of the movement of Gojadhur Sing's Force that had moved in that direction from this on the 11th instant at 2 P. M., the Sowars returned with a Zemindar from the direction of Durzie Gown, who reported to me that the Rebels were near there and about three coss distant, and numerically strong. I marched the Column without delay, leaving a standing Camp protected by 100 Rank and File Moradabad Levy. The distance proved to be beyond what I had been informed, and the Column did not reach the Gonda and Fyzabad Road till 5½ P. M. I halted the Column and moved forward with Sowars to observe their position and to examine the country. The Rebels were reported to be about 3,000 Infantry and 400 Cavalry, and I saw them scattered in all directions, the majority of them clustered together and protected by jungle and the "Tyree" River. I was informed that I could only get my Artillery near them by moving along the road towards Fyzabad, and breaking off to the right when clear of the jungle and river. I pushed on my Guns accordingly, supported by 1st Company

Rifle Brigade, 1st Company Punjaub Infantry and 25 Sowars, and placed this portion of my Force under charge of Captain Freemantle, Rifle Brigade, and 2nd in Command on the Field, conceiving that my presence would be much required with the Moradabad Levy. I advanced the Levy flanked by Police Sowars to within 300 yards of the jungle, halted and galloped forward to take a glance at the nature of the jungle, and observed the jungle dotted with the Rebels, armed with the ordinary musket and bayonet, and undercover, and sections here and there. Returning speedily I advanced a line of Skirmishers consisting of four Companies, with the same strength in support: the Rebels were firing during this interval, when the Skirmishers pressed forward, cleared the jungle and drove the Rebels across the river, which was knee deep at that part, which they had made for, with the object of crossing. The evening being now far advanced and darkness gradually commencing, I retired my Skirmishers without any man being touched. Withdrawing to the road, I threw out a chain of sentries and picquets to protect the Guns and supports on their return along the Fyzabad Road towards Gonda.

I beg to forward, enclosed, a Report from Captain Freemantle, 2nd Rifle Brigade. My best thanks are due to that Officer as well as the Officers in Command of the separate Detachments and the men under them. I am also indebted to Assistant Commissioner King, accompanying the Column, and my thanks are due to him, for his assistance given.

I have the satisfaction of bringing to the Brigadier's notice the very steady behaviour of the Moradabad Levy, who did their work well, and I would beg expressly to mention it was the first time the Levy has been under fire.

Ensign and Adjutant Gill, Moradabad Levy, I would wish particularly to bring to the Brigadier's notice, who, though in a very weak state from sickness, accompanied the Column and rendered me every assistance.

I attach a Casualty Return which is small, the enemy must have suffered, yet I am unable to say to what extent, owing to darkness overtaking us.

I have omitted mentioning the Force I marched from Camp with, and I herewith enter it in the margin.

2 H. A. Guns.
1 Company Rifle Brigade.
1 Company 5th Punjaub Rifles.
500 Rank and File.
Moradabad Levy.
150 Oude Police Sowars.

The Column returned to Camp at midnight, being nine hours under arms.

I have, &c.,

Return of Casualties in the Detachment under Captain Cleveland, Commanding Moradabad Levy, at Durji-ka-ku'a, on the 12th April 1859.

5th Punjaub Rifles, Private Heera Singh, mortally, since dead.

in Medical charge, Captain Cleveland's Detacht.

Camp Rumwarpore,
The 13th April 1859.

From Captain Fitz Roy Fremantle,
Rifle Brigade,

To Captain Cleveland,

98th Regt., Comdg. Field Detacht.

Rumwarpore, the 13th April 1859.

Sir,

I have the honor to report that I marched with the Detachments as per margin, in obedience to your orders, to outflank the Rebels at 'Dursi talao.'

2 H. A. Guns.
1 Company Rifle Brigade.
1 Company 5th Punjaub Rifles.
25 Oude Police Cavalry.

I followed the Fyzabad Road for a mile and a half after leaving your Force and then turned to my right through a very dense jungle. I pushed on the Punjaub Rifles in front of the Guns, but owing to the darkness which was fast coming on and the excessive badness of the road, I made but slow progress. After proceeding about three quarter of a mile the ground became more open, though the plain was surrounded by jungle on all sides.

At 6½ P. M., I saw a Rebel vidette on the top of a hill and had just ordered the Punjaub Rifles to form company, when the Rebels opened fire upon us from the bushes on the top of the hill at a distance of 40 yards.

Upon the first shot being fired, the Oude Police Cavalry turned round and ran away, carrying away a section of the Punjaub Rifles, and creating some confusion.

I ordered the Punjaub Rifles to move to the left, and a section of the Rifle Brigade to the right of the Guns, which opened fire with grape at this short range and in a few minutes completely silenced the Rebels' fire. I then advanced to the top of the Hill where I found their Camp, but no men were to be seen. I did not think it advisable to follow them as it was now quite dark, the moon being completely hidden by clouds, and the jungle very dense.

I returned by a different road making a long detour to avoid the jungle.

The Troops behaved remarkably well, and I beg especially to bring to your notice the great steadiness showed by the Horse Artillery in a trying moment when the Oude Police Cavalry retired so precipitately and broke through them.

I received every assistance from Officers Commanding Detachments, viz., Lieutenant Robinson, Horse Artillery, who brought his Gun into action with great gallantry and set an example of cool bravery which was well followed by his men. Lieutenant Browne, 5th Punjab Rifles, whose Horse was wounded, and Ensign Myers, Rifle Brigade.

I was much indebted to Mr. King, Assistant Commissioner, who made himself most useful during the skirmish, and after it was over, in obtaining guides to lead us out of the jungle by which we were surrounded

I have, &c.,

(Signed) Fitz Roy Fremantle, Captain,
Rifle Brigade.

No. 573 of 1859.—The Second Battalion Military Train is under orders for immediate embarkation for England.

The Career in India of this Corps has been short, but brilliant and eminently serviceable to its Country.

Throughout the glorious Campaign in Oude, the Military Train bore a part which would have reflected credit upon the oldest and most experienced Cavalry Soldiers.

It has served with distinction in various affairs under Lieutenant-General Sir James Outram, at the capture of Lucknow, in the operations about Azimghur, and lastly in the harassing Campaign of Shahabad.

The Military Train leaves India with the best wishes of the Viceroy and Governor General in Council, for the future Honor and Prosperity of the Battalion.

A Salute will be fired from the Guns of Fort William on the departure of the Corps.

In the fourth instance, guilty of being accessary before and after the fact to the murder of two loyal Seikhs, names unknown, at Furruckabad, on or about the 29th July 1857.

This Court having found the prisoner guilty as above, do sentence him, Tufuzzul Hosein Khan, to be hanged by the neck till he be dead; and do further adjudge that all his property, of whatever description, be confiscated, but in obedience to the orders of Government appointing this Commission, the execution of this sentence is suspended until receipt of further orders."

The Governor General in Council entirely approves and confirms the verdict and sentence of the Court. The former is fully borne out by the evidence adduced on the trial, and the latter is the only sentence which could properly be passed on the criminal.

But it came out on the trial, and was pleaded by the prisoner as a bar to the execution of the sentence, that before his surrender a letter had been written to him by Major Barrow, the Special Commissioner with the Camp of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, in which he was invited to surrender, and that in this letter he was told that pardon had been extended to all who had not personally committed the murder of British subjects, and that if he had not personally committed the murder of British subjects, he might surrender without apprehension.

Whatever may have been the meaning of Major Barrow in addressing this letter to Tufuzzul Hosein, and whatever may have been the prisoner's understanding of it at the time, it is certain that on the receipt of it he immediately surrendered. He now claims the fulfilment of the promise of pardon made by Major Barrow, being found guilty, not of having personally committed the murder of English subjects, but of having been an accessary before the fact.

The Governor General in Council entirely condemns and disavows the act of Major Barrow, in making a promise contrary to the Royal Proclamation, and contrary to the express order of the Government excepting the prisoner from all benefit of pardon: But His Excellency in Council will not suffer it to be said, that the prisoner having been induced to surrender on the promise of a British Officer in Major Barrow's position, has in consequence of that surrender been put to death for a crime of less degree than that which was designated by the Officer as alone rendering him liable to punishment.

The Governor General in Council has, therefore, resolved to forbear from carrying out the sentence of the Court on Tufuzzul Hosein, on the condition that he shall immediately quit the British Territory for ever. If he accept this condition, he will be conveyed to the Frontier as a convict under a Military guard, and there set at liberty. If he refuse the condition, or if having accept it, he shall break it, or attempt to break it, now, or at any future time, the capital sentence pronounced upon him will be carried out.

OFFICE OF THE DIRECTOR GENERAL OF THE POST IN INDIA,
January 1st, 1859.

THE following Conditions are to be observed in sending Book-Packets by Post:—

1*st*.—The Postage must be pre-paid in full, by means of Postage Stamps affixed outside the Packet on its cover.

2*nd*.—Every Packet must be sent either without a cover, or in a cover open at the ends or sides, so as to admit of the enclosures being removed for examination.

3*rd*.—The Packet may contain any number of separate books or other publications, prints, or maps, and any quantity of paper, parchment or vellum (to the exclusion, however, of letters whether sealed or open) and the books or other publications, prints, maps, &c., may be either printed, written or plain, or any mixture of the three. Further, all legitimate binding, mounting, or covering of a book, publication, &c., or of a portion thereof, will be allowed, whether such binding, &c. be loose or attached; as also rollers in the case of prints or maps, markers (whether of paper or otherwise) in the case of books; and in short whatever is necessary for the safe transmission of literary or artistic matter or usually appertains thereto.

4*th*.—The Packet must not contain any letter, closed or open, or any enclosure sealed or otherwise closed against inspection, nor must there be any letter, or any communication of the nature of a letter, written or printed in any such Packet or on its cover. Entries, however, merely stating who sends the book, &c., or to whom it is given, are not regarded as a letter.

5*th*.—No Book-Packet can be received if it exceeds two feet in length, width, or depth.

6*th*.—Any Packet which shall not be open at the ends or sides, or shall have any letter or any communication of the nature of a letter written or printed in it or upon its cover will be charged with Letter Postage.

7*th*.—If a Packet be found to contain any letter, whether closed or open, or any enclosure sealed or otherwise closed against inspection, or any other unauthorized enclosure, the letter or enclosure will be taken out and forwarded to the address on the Packet, charged with full Postage as an unpaid letter together with an additional Book-rate; that is, with the Postage chargeable on a Book weighing not more than half a lb the remainder of the Packet, if duly pre-paid with Stamps, will then be forwarded to its address.

8*th*.—If a Packet be not sufficiently pre-paid with Stamps but nevertheless bear Stamps equal to a single Book-rate, it will be forwarded charged with the deficient Book-Postage together with an additional Book-rate; but any Packet which shall not bear Postage Stamps equal to a single Book-rate will be detained and charged with the Letter Postage.

9*th*.—No Book-Packet weighing more than three lbs can be sent to or from the East Indies or to New South Wales.

10*th*.—The Colonial Book-Post extends to those Colonies only which are so marked in the Table of Colonial and Foreign Postage.

11*th*.—In no case can a Book-Packet be sent to the Colonies (except at the letter rate of Postage,) through a Foreign Country.

Special Notice is directed to the subjoined Clauses of Rules, the want of attention to which has occasioned the Post Office much inconvenience.

2*nd*.—A separate instruction will be required for every change of address, and no instruction will be attended to for more than three months after its receipt.

3*rd*.—Under Section XXIII. of Act XVII. of 1854, Forward Postage will be charged in addition to all other Postage due or paid thereon upon every letter without exception, which may be re-directed in any Post Office. For example, if a letter posted in Calcutta and addressed to Hooghly is, under instructions which may have been received from the addressee, re-directed in the Calcutta Post Office and sent to Barrackpore, Forward Postage will be charged in addition to the Postage which would have been due, had the letter been despatched to Hooghly according to its original address.

4*th*.—The practice of giving instructions to the Officers of the Post Office to intercept and re-direct letters, not only imposes much labor upon them, but in large Offices seriously retards the delivery and despatch of the Mails. A register of instructions regarding changes of address will be kept in every Post Office, but it must be understood, that it is impossible to guarantee that they shall be attended to, except in the case of letters received for delivery.

There is only one delivery of letters at the General Post Office on Sundays, and Banghy Parcels are neither received nor despatched on that day.

Letters and Newspapers despatched to and from the United Kingdom by private Vessels are liable to the following rates of Postage which must be pre-paid by Stamps :—

	Rs.	As.	Pie.
Letters not exceeding ½ oz. in weight	0	4	0
Ditto exceeding ½ oz. but not exceeding 1 oz.	0	8	0

And so on adding 8 annas for each oz. or fraction thereof which includes Inland Postage.

Newspapers not exceeding 4 oz. in weight, 1*d*. or 9 pie must be pre-paid in cash, and no Inland Postage is required upon such papers.

Parcels conveyed by the above opportunity for the United Kingdom are liable to Letter rates of Postage.

Notice.

The following Extract of an Order of the Government of India, No. 884, of the 13th July 1855,

"No Public Officer is authorized to send Covers on the Public Service by Post, without payment of Postage, unless he is at the time on active duty and in charge of the Office by virtue of which the privilege is enjoyed. All letters superscribed as 'on the Public Service only' must, even though the Postage thereon be not paid, be received and opened by the Officer to whom they are addressed, but if any such, or partially paid letter so superscribed, and addressed to any Officer except a Secretary to Government be found when opened, to relate to the private affairs of the Sender, the Postage will be debited to him and he will be further liable to be dealt with under Section XLVII. Act No. XVII. of 1854.

His Honor in Council further directs that unpaid or insufficiently paid letters addressed to any such Officer or Department and not superscribed "on the Public Service only' be refused, or if opened that it be at the risk and cost of the opener."

Letters arriving at the Presidency Towns, by Mail Steamers will be immediately sorted for delivery according to the address alone, without any reference to instructions which may have been received regarding change of address; such changes will be left to be discovered by the Delivery Officers, and be corrected in the forward and unclaimed Departments of the Office.

Forward Postage will be charged in addition to all other Postage due or paid thereon, upon every letter, without exception, which may be re-directed in the Post Office.

Letters, &c., received by the Steamer will be delivered at the Window of the Post Office only to parties who have registered their names. Applications to the Post Office on the day of the Steamer's arrival to intercept and re-direct letters, &c., cannot be attended to, as they are found not only to impose much labour but seriously retard the delivery and despatch of the Mails.

All Banghy Parcels being registered before despatch it is needless to have a Banghy Parcel specially registered by payment of the Fee of 4 annas as no additional precaution can be taken of a specially Registered Parcel which is not taken in the case of every ordinary Banghy Parcel.

Under the orders of Government, no fourth delivery of letters by the Post Office is allowed. Mails which are received by Steamers from Suez at so late an hour in the day as not to admit of the letters being taken out for delivery by 6 P. M. are detained till the following morning, but parties who have registered their names under the usual fee, are entitled to receive their letters, and Marseilles Newspapers so soon as the Mails are sorted, and which is generally about 2½ hours after receipt of the Mail, at the Post Office.

The exemption allowed to Officers with the Army from the charge of Forward Postage on re-directed letters has been continued by the Governor General "until further orders."

Forward Newspapers.—Extra or Forward Postage is chargeable on every Newspaper re-directed at the Post Office of original address and forwarded to another Post Office.

Mails for Akyab, Rangoon and Moulmein are made up on the 3rd and 19th of each month, for transmission by the Contract Steamers or by Government Vessels, which sail on the morning of the 4th and 20th, unless the Contractors choose to postpone the departure for 48 hours, of which they have the power on making a requisition.

HEAD QUARTERS, SIMLA,
The 28th May 1859.

FROM BRIGADIER A. H. HORSFORD, C. B.,
Commanding Trans Gogra,

TO THE DEPT. ASST. ADJUTANT GENERAL,
Oudh Force.

Dated Camp Bhurtpore, 27th April 1859.

SIR,—I HAVE the honor to report, for the information of Major-General Sir Hope Grant, K. C. B., Commanding Oude Division, that having received intelligence of the movement of a body of Rebels of between 2000 and 3000 in number to the Westward, with a view to cross the Kowreealla River and enter the Khyrygbur jungles, I assembled the Force named in the margin, at Nanpara, and proceeded to endeavour to prevent the enemy from carrying out his intentions.

3rd Troop 1st Brigade Bengal Horse Artillery	...	42
Wing 1st Punjaub Cavalry	...	230
Detachment 1st Seikh Irregular Cavalry	...	126
		362
3 Companies 2nd Battalion Rifle Brigade	...	241

I had previously ascertained that all the boats on the Kowreealla had been withdrawn by the Police on the right bank of that River, and was therefore aware, that from its depth and width, if time was not given the Rebels to construct rafts, they could not cross.

My object being to prevent the enemy from breaking to the Southward, I marched to the Gurwa River (between which and the Kowreealla River the Rebels were reported to be) in a North-Westwardly direction, leaving Pudnaha on my right; this led me through a track of dense forest, and over very difficult ground, but with the assistance of Bildars to prepare the way for the Guns, all obstacles were overcome, and I succeeded in reaching the left bank of the Gurwa River on the 25th instant at 8 A. M., having left my last encampment at 3 A. M.

I here ascertained that the enemy, in perfect ignorance of our approach, were assembled between the Gurwa and Kowreealla Rivers, and as my object, as I have previously stated, was to prevent them from breaking to the Southward, I detached a body of Cavalry to the only ford in that direction by which they could cross, and I passed the Gurwa with my Force and so disposed it as to cover as much ground as possible with the purpose of driving the enemy into the apex of the triangle formed by the two Rivers.

The main body of the Cavalry were moved considerably to the right to endeavour to close the only line of retreat open to the enemy, due North, but unfortunately the denseness of the jungle prevented the Cavalry from acting quite as I intended. They however succeeded in cutting up many stragglers.

My advance with the Infantry and Guns was a perfect surprise to the enemy, who offered but little resistance, but here again the jungle favoured their retreat, however upwards of 200 were killed during the day.

The greater part of the Rebels fled to the North ward, but a small force of Cavalry and Infantry were driven into the jungle near the junction of the two Rivers.

As soon as the Troops had somewhat rested after a severe day's work, and the great heat of the day had passed, I proceeded to clear this jungle; in the meantime however, a body of about 40 Sowars dashed across the open from this jungle as their only means of escape, but of these only three got away.

The Infantry went through the jungle and destroyed a few of the enemy, but from arms of all descriptions picked up, it was conjectured that the Rebels must have swam across into the jungles on the opposite banks of the River.

It is now stated that Oomrow Sing has but very few followers with him, his Force having dispersed and gone towards the Hills.

During these operations, the Troops have made long and fatiguing marches through a country covered with forest and traversed by several Rivers; on the 25th they were under arms from 2 A. M. until 8 P. M., but both their health and spirit have been excellent. I have received every aid from Colonel Hill, C. B., 2nd Battalion Rifle Brigade, Commanding the Infantry; from Majors Moir, C. B., Bengal Horse Artillery, and Hughes, 1st Punjaub Cavalry, the former Commanding the Artillery, the latter the Cavalry.

Lieutenant Danvers, 1st Punjaub Cavalry.

Lieutenant Godby, 1st Seikh Cavalry.

Captain Grant, Kemaoon Battalion.

Lieutenant Lane, 2nd Battalion Rifle Brigade, and Lieutenant Forlong, 5th Punjaub Rifles.

I have also to thank Major Dillon, 2nd Battalion Rifle Brigade, my Major of Brigade; Captain Hoste, 5th Punjaub Rifles, Brigade Quarter-Master; Lieutenant Sadlier, 61st Regiment, Commanding District Police, and Lieutenant Campbell, 79th Highlanders, my Orderly Officer.

Captain Steel, Deputy Commissioner, who has accompanied the Force, has rendered very important services.

I subjoin a list of Casualties, and beg to state that about 50 or 60 Horses were captured during the day.

I have, &c.,

From Brigadier A. H. Horsford, C. B.,
Commanding Trans Gogra,

To the Deputy Asst. Adjt. General,
Gonda.

Dated, Camp Bunder Burrhea, 28th April 1859.

Sir,—In my Report of yesterday, I omitted to state that a body of 50 Sowars of 5th Police Cavalry, and 250 Jezailchees, whom I had requested Lieutenant Sadlier, 61st Regiment, Divisional Commandant, to direct to watch a ford North of that by which I crossed the Gurwa to attack the Rebels, did good service by repulsing parties of the enemy who attempted to pass the River to the Eastward after their defeat.

I have, &c.,

Commanding Trans Gogra.

No. 833 of 1859.—His Excellency the Governor General in Council is pleased to publish the following Report from Lieutenant-Colonel Gordon, Commanding Detachment Field Force, of an action with a body of Rebels near the Nanpara jungle on the 1st ultimo :—

FROM LIEUTENANT-COLONEL G. GORDON,
Commanding Detachment Field Force,

TO MAJOR DILLON,
Major of Brigade.
Brigadier Horsford's Column,
Nanpore.

Camp Kukra Ghat, near Seogurh.
The 2nd May 1859.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to report for the information of Brigadier A. Horsford, C. B., Commanding, that yesterday while Captain Grant, Commandant 1st Regiment Hodson's Horse, was patroling between this and Khulkalon Ghat on the right bank of the Raptee, we heard of a body of Rebels (said to be 200 in number,) being located about 8 miles to the West of my Camp. On receiving this information about 12 noon, a party 100 of H. M.'s 53rd, 200 1st Regiment of Sikhs and the Cavalry present in Camp were at once got ready, and we went in pursuit. We came upon them on the edge of the Nanpara jungle, when in the course of a pursuit of some 5 miles, fourteen of the Rebels were overtaken and shot.

My party entered the jungle in skirmishing order, but from its denseness and the difficulty of passing through it, owing to the great quantity of thorny underwood, the Skirmishers soon got into detached and independent parties.

I am informed by Mr. R. M. King, of the Civil Service, that these Rebels who are straggling parties of Gujadur Sing's Force have made Westward. Another party of some 250 went last night from near Khulkalon Ghat to the Churda jungles.

I am much indebted to Mr. King for the information he has given with regard to the movements of the Rebels, and his personal assistance in accompanying me during my recent tours.

My best thanks are due to all who accompanied me, (the fatigues of the day being great and the distance marched not less than seventeen or eighteen miles,) but more especially to Captain Cox, Lieutenant Eyre, my Detachment Staff, and Ensign Hibbert, of H. M 's 53rd Regiment, and also to Subadar Mirza Hydur Ally, of the 1st Regiment Sikh Infantry, on whom the brunt of the pursuit fell.

My best thanks are also due to Captain Grant, who before he joined me, had patrolled some twenty-five miles.

HEAD QUARTERS, SIMLA,
The 27th May 1859.

No. 834 of 1859.—His Excellency the Governor General in Council is pleased to publish the following Report from Lieutenant-Colonel Gordon, Commanding Detachment Field Force, attached to Brigadier Horsford's Column, of the proceedings of the Force from the 3rd to the 5th May 1859, in pursuit of the Rebels near the village of Balapoor:—

FROM LIEUT.-COLONEL G. GORDON,
Commanding Detachment Field Force,

TO MAJOR DILLON,
Major of Brigade.
Brigadier Horsford's Column, Trans Gogra.
Camp Balapoor Tal, May 5th, 1859.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to report for the information of Brigadier A. Horsford, C. B., that, having heard on the 2nd instant, from Mr. Assistant Commissioner King, that a body of Rebels were in the jungle East of Bhinga, I crossed the Raptee at Kukra Ghat on the following morning, and proceeded through the jungle, in the direction of Musha, encamping about 4 miles South-West of that place at 11 A. M.

Here, while pitching my Camp, I was informed that some of the enemy's videttes had been seen on the edge of the jungle. I immediately sent off spies to bring correct information of their position; but the men did not return till between 4 and 5 o'Clock P. M. and their only imformation then was, that they had all gone Westward through the jungle. On learning this, I directed Captain Grant, Commandant 1st Regiment Hodson's Horse, to send out a small patrol; and to follow himself with the rest of the Cavalry, and watch the movement of the enemy during the night.

Lieutenant Anderson, (Brigade Major to Hodson's Horse), the Officer in Command of the patrol, came upon the Rebels, 300 in number, about 5 miles of Camp, and was received by a volley of musketry. As the patrol had no fire-arms and were a small party, they returned to Camp. On the morning of the 4th I started in pursuit, and followed them with the Column as far as Balapoor Tal, where I was informed that they had taken to the jungle with the view of making the Corunnea Sota en route for Sonar.

I encamped at Balapore about 10 A. M. and marched again between 12 and 10 o'Clock P. M with the force as per margin, towards the Corunnea Sota, where, from information obtained from Captain Grant, I had every reason to suppose that I should overtake the enemy.

Detachment 50 men.
53rd Regiment on Elephants
216 men 1st Sikh Infantry.

After a very hot and fatiguing march of 14 miles, six of which lay through a dense jungle, the rest over hills and through deep and narrow ravines, we came upon their outlying picket and attacked it, killing three of them.

As the signal had been now given to the rest, I knew not a moment was to be lost. I therefore pushed on with all possible speed, and after following the path for about 4 miles over hillocks, through ravines and thick jungle and meeting detached parties numbering in all some 700 or 800 men, I came on debouching into the valley, upon the main body then in full flight over the plain and through the jungle on our right, but now out of musket range.

As the evening was fast closing in, and their numbers were greater than I had anticipated, I thought it prudent to halt and bivouac here for the night; placing the men under a fair shelter of some cow-sheds, and taking all necessary precautions to guard the camp against surprise.

In the course of pursuit we killed from 25 to 30 men, besides capturing a quantity of camp baggage, fire-arms, and tattoos.

The only Casualty on our side was that one man 1st Sikh Infantry received a slight bayonet wound.

I regret to say that during a false alarm in the night occasioned by a herd of buffaloes rushing towards our Camp, one man 1st Sikh Infantry and two Kahars were severely wounded by the discharge of fire-arms by some men of my party who suddenly awaked, fired in the direction of the rush.

I have to thank Captain Walter, Commanding Left Wing, Her Majesty's 53rd Regiment, who accompanied me on this occasion, leading the column in the latter part of the evening, also Lieutenant Bell and Dr. Ashton, of the same Corps, and Lieutenant Unwin, 1st Sikh Infantry.

I beg especially to bring to the notice of the Brigadier Commanding the services of Captain Grant.

This Officer though already having been 18 hours in the saddle volunteered to serve in this expedition and point out the position of the Rebels whom he had traced on the previous night to the foot of the Pass.

Also Lieutenant Eyre, Her Majesty's 53rd Regiment, my Detachment Staff, whose exertions on this occasion were most praiseworthy.

I have again to thank Mr. M. R. King, Assistant Commissioner, who was forward in the whole business, and acted as my extra Orderly Officer. Amongst the Native force, I beg particularly to mention Lall Singh, 1st Sepoy, Grenadier Company, and Mohomed Ally Havildar and Peer Buksh Sepoy, both of Light Company. These three men, all of 1st Seikh Infantry were first up and attacked the picket.

Having sent directions for provisions to be forwarded to the foot of the range of Hills for Camp, I marched on the following morning by the same route which I had traversed the previous day to my Camp at Balapoor, which I reached at 10 A. M.

A prisoner taken on my return informed me that the force I had pursued was the Nusserabad Brigade, under Debi Singh, and numbered not less than 1500 men. Our previous information had led me to estimate their force at 700 men.

I consider that the effect on the Rebels will be most beneficial as showing them that crossing the hills and getting into the ravines and jungle on the other side will not afford them that security which they have hitherto relied on.

FROM CAPTAIN W. C. GRANT,
Comdg. 1st Hodson's Horse,

TO THE OFFICER COMMANDING
Detachment Field Force.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to report to you the proceedings of the reconnaissance which you ordered me to make on the evening of the 3rd instant.

Leaving your Camp at 7½ P. M., I proceeded in a North-East direction, skirting the jungle to the villages of Hanipore 8 miles. Leaving the villages of Hanipore on our right, we proceeded 6 miles further, taking a line nearly in the centre of the two belts of jungle. Arrived at the village of Neortivea, we heard news of a body of Rebels said to be 2000 strong who were at a povel (Tal) near the village of Balapore about 4 miles in our front. I at first thought of attacking them at once, but having with me only 125 Sowars of whom not more than 18 were armed with fire-arms of any description, and these so inadquately supplied with ammunition as not to have more than one or at most two rounds in possession for each weapon. It being moreover pitch dark, and none of us being in the least acquainted with the country, I decided on bivouacking where I was until daylight, and sent an express off to you at once, acquainting you with the intelligence I had received concerning the position of the enemy. During the night my picquets captured all who approached. Most of them were villagers running away themselves from the enemy, and these I discharged in the morning, one man however confessed himself to belong to the Rebel ranks, and as he had a British Officer's Regulation Sword in his possession, I directed him to be disposed of at once.

At the dawn of day, we started at once and found traces of the enemy at Balapoor Khal advancing rapidly at a trot, we must have entered the jungle in our front shortly after they had done so. Here however as we afterwards ascertained, they had turned off to the N. E. towards Kalapoorwah, whilst we crossed their rear and proceeded straight on Bhojpoor. My object being to get to the end of the jungles before they did, and either to prevent them advancing into the Plain or to cut them up as they did so. At Bhojpoor where both belts of jungle meet and end, we could hear no accounts of the enemy, but seeing a very suspicious looking body of men of about 30 Sowars and 140 Foot on the Plain who retreated precipitately at our approach, we gave chase and pursued them to Muttea before we discovered that they were a body of Jezailchees and Police Sowars who had been invited to co-operate with us from Kulkulla.

Taking our new friends with us and having evidently over-run the scent of our proper enemies, we returned through the North-East belt of jungle, keeping as close as we could to the foot of the Mountains, we passed two tracks leading towards the Koronia Sota at both of which I left a picquet of Sowars, and at length on arriving near Gigelee, heard that the Rebels whose numbers were variously stated at from 1000 to 2000 had undoubtedly taken the road to the Sonar Valley, crossing the Dundua Mountain by the Pass of Koronia Sota, the main path towards which enters the jungle nearly at the back (or North-East) of the village of Gigelee. With this information I returned to Camp then moved to Chickenee, leaving the picquets I had placed still standing, one at Bhojpoor, and one at each of two pathways leading to the Pass of Koronia Sota before mentioned

I have, &c.,

Camp Omra, 15th January 1859,

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to forward duplicate of latter portion of copy of my Report of operations before Gwalior on 17th of June 1858, the original of which appears to have mis-carried and only a copy of the first part of my Report seems to have reached the Major-General, then in Command of the Rajpootana Field Force, of which this Brigade formed a detached portion.

I was not aware of the mis-carriage of this latter portion of my Report, until I saw the publication of the first portion, or, should have earlier forwarded a duplicate, as the services of a portion of this Brigade are mentioned in this latter portion of my Report, which I am most anxious to bring to the notice of the Major-General.

I also take this opportunity of supplying a few omissions, which I regret to say occurred in my first Report.

FROM BRIGADIER M. W. SMITH,

Comdg. Brigade Malwa Division,

TO THE ADJUTANT GENERAL,

Poona Division, Poona.

Camp Sepree, 25th July 1858.

SIR,

IN accordance with the wishes of Major-General Sir Hugh Rose, K. C. B., conveyed to me in your note dated Pachesi, 11th July, that I should furnish an official Statement of all the circumstances of the charge made by a Squadron of the 8th Hussars on the 17th of June, and evidence should be officially recorded.

I have the honor to state that on the afternoon of the 17th June, the enemy having been driven from the heights we advanced through the Pass which runs by the large canal or nullah in the direction of Gwalior some two or three hundred of the enemy's Cavalry being formed in front of Gwalior, I advanced with a Squadron of the 8th Hussars under Captain Heneage, and a Division of Guns under Lieutenant LeCocq, Bombay Artillery, into the open ground beyond the Pass, leaving orders that a Company of the 10th Regiment Native Infantry, and a Division of Guns under an escort of Gunners, should secure the mouth of the Pass, and a Squadron of the 1st Bombay Lancers, should move up in the open ground in support.

The Squadron of the 8th Hussars advanced out of the Pass in file, and formed line at a gallop after advancing about three hundred yards, I ordered the Squadron to charge. The Squadron then charged, broke the enemy and pursuing them closely entered their own Camp along with them. The Camp was soon cleared and the 8th followed the fugitives, now increased by large numbers of panic-stricken Infantry, from the Camp into the ground beyond and never stopped until all who remained had taken shelter in the outskirts of the town itself.

In so doing the 8th took five Guns, cutting down the Gunners. The Ranee of Jhansi also lost her life in the Melee, all this took place under a heavy fire from the Guns of the Fort, and from several Field Guns in position round the town, and from which was opened a converging fire upon the Squadron.

During the charge, Colonel Raines, of Her Majesty's 95th Regiment, brought up a portion of his Regiment and took up a position on the left flank of Lieutenant LeCocq's Division of Guns, I having sent him an order to that effect by Cornet Goldsworthy, 8th Hussars.

I shall next record the statement of Captain Heneage who Commanded the Squadron, and also some evidences collected by him as to further particular and details."

Statement and evidences collected by Captain Heneage.

" Captain Heneage's Squadron of 8th Hussars was ordered by Brigadier Smith to attack some 2 or 300 of the enemy's Cavalry who were threatening our Guns. They advanced out of the Pass in file and formed line as a gallop. After advancing some 300 yards they were ordered to charge, which they did and were upon the enemy in a moment, many of whom were cut down and the rest fled towards the town, the ground here being very rough and intersected with small nullahs, about one-third of the Squadron was obliged to deverge to the right under Lieutenant Harding, the remainder under Captain Heneage, with Captain Poore and Lieutenant Reiley, going a little to the left and continuing the attack came shortly into the midst of the enemy's camp. Where they took 3 Guns, cutting down the Gunners and completely clearing the Camp of the enemy's Troops under a continuous fire from the Guns in the Fort, and small Field Guns on the right and left. After passing through the Camp and crossing the road from Gwalior to Moorar, the Squadron came upon a large force of the enemy's Cavalry and Infantry in a disorganized mass who were trying to escape from the Camp into the Fort. Many of them made a stand, but the 8th were slackened their pace and dashing into the midst of them cut them down by scores, the Ranee of Jhansi being amongst the slain, two Guns were taken here.

The whole of the ground over which the charge had been made being now completely cleared of the enemy, Captain Heneage withdrew his Squadron at an easy pace, and was shortly joined by the Detachment under Lieutenant Harding, which had charged through the right of the Camp, cutting down many of the enemy's Gunners and Infantry and had taken four Guns. Lieutenant Harding was shot at by a dismounted Sowar, who missed him, but the shot struck his Charger in the eye and completely destroyed it. He was attacked at the same time by two of the enemy's Infantry, whom he cut down and killed.

Captain Heneage, then halted and reformed his Squadron in front of the supports of Artillery, Cavalry and Infantry, which had meanwhile come up and was then ordered by Brigadier Smith, to form his men in single rank in order to show a larger front.

The Squadron of the 8th being then formed in single rank on the right flank of Artillery and Infantry, the Squadron of Lancers in second line he again advanced in order to secure the enemy's guns, after that Captain Heneage was obliged to relinquish the Command of the Squadron, in consequence of the heat of the sun and great exhaustion. Captain Poore assumed the Command and remained with the Squadron until the Guns were brought way.

Colonel Hicks, of the Bombay Artillery, charged with the Squadron through the Camp, Lieutenant Reily upon the return of the Squadron from the charge, was obliged to dismount from his Horse and died almost immediately from the effects of the sun and exhaustion. Assistant Surgeon Sheilock charged with the Squadron and was wounded by a musket ball in the shoulder, he was ready and active in affording his assistance when required.

Cornet Goldsworthy was on my left and in front of the Squadron when preparing to charge, and was about to charge with them when I in consequence of the very great necessity of having support up quick, ordered him to go back and bring up the Horse Artillery and Infantry to a spot which I had pointed out to him, which he did, this Officer gave me much assistance both on the 17th and 19th in carrying my orders and other matters.

Several of the enemy's Guns remained in our possession after the charge, but from the want of Horses and the exhaustion of men only, we could be got away and it was only through the exertion and skill of Lieutenant LeCocq and the men of his Division (the right Division of the 3rd Troop under the personal superintendence of Lieutenant-Colonel Blake that this could be effected.)

One of the enemy's Guns had a limber and a pair of wheel horses, the broken harness was lashed up in the best way. Circumstances would admit of and a leading pair of our own Horses hooked in the Gun was sent to the rear, the wheel horses were got to move with great difficulty being completely done up and one severely wounded.

The other Gun had no limber, but Colonel Blake having taken back one of his own Guns to the entrance of the Pass, left the Gun within it, and sending back the limber the enemys was hooked on it and brought to the entrance of the Pass, when our Gun was lashed to the muzzle and thus drawn off.

These operations were conducted with great coolness and steadiness under four cross fires from the Fort and Guns in different directions on the place.

This being effected and seeing the enemy collecting upon our flanks and having too small a force at my disposal to warrant my advancing further or to enable me to hold my position, if I had done so, we retired across the Plain by alternate Squadrons and re-entering the Pass took up a position for the night, as stated in my former Report of the operations during the seventeenth.

Dated Camp Godowlie, 12th November 1858.

Sir,

With reference to my Report to you on the taking of Gwalior on the 19th June last, I beg to correct an impression I was then under that the Guns alluded to in the 5th paragraph were found by the 10th Native Infantry abandoned, the words should have been "captured from the enemy by the 10th Native Infantry," which I was not cognizant of when I addressed you on the proceedings of that day.

I am informed by Lieutenant Sexton, to whose charge I gave one of the captured Guns, which was afterwards turned on the Rebels and alluded to in the 3rd paragraph of the same Report, that he received great assistance from Lieutenant Read, 10th Native Infantry, who made some good practice in pointing and firing the said Gun. I therefore beg to bring Lieutenant Read's name to your favourable notice.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) T. R. Raines, Lieut.-Col.,

Her Majesty's 95th Regiment,

While the Infantry skirmishers were feeling their way through the Pass leading to Gwalior, their progress was checked for a time by the fire of two or three Guns, which the enemy had brought into the Pass. Lieutenant-Colonel Blake therefore proposed taking a Division of his Guns on to the heights on our right, which was accordingly done and the result was most successful, by firing at low elevation round shot and shrapnell were dropped on the enemy's Guns near, obliging them to retire precipitately to another position, and by thus advancing and coming into action on every occasion of their making a stand they were at length fairly driven out of the Pass, which was thus made clear for the advance of our force.

Extract from letter from Colonel Blake, Commanding 3rd Troop Horse Artillery, dated 12th November 1858.

"In that part of your Report of bringing away the two captured Guns, you mention that it was done "under four cross-fires." I think it would be well to mention the number of from 16 to 18 Guns."

Colonel DeSalis wishes to mention the zeal and intelligence evinced by Major Chetwode, when in Command of a detached portion of the 8th Hussars, on the 17th June.

Lieutenant Jenkins, 8th Hussars, was on one occasion employed by me in carrying orders to bring up supports which he executed to my satisfaction.

No. 846 of 1859.—His Excellency the Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following Report of operations against the Rebels in the Kurwania Sota by the force under the Command of Lieutenant Millet, Commanding 2nd Jezailchee on the 13th ultimo.

2. His Excellency in Council entirely agrees with the Commander-in-Chief, in considering this affair to reflect credit upon Lieutenant Millet and the Troops employed on this occasion:—

FROM LIEUTENANT A. H. MILLET,

Commanding 2nd Jezailchees,

TO MAJOR J. L. VAUGHAN,

Comdg. Field Column, Sidhonia Ghaut.

Camp Sidhonia Ghaut,

Banks of the Raptee, Oude, 14th May 1859.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to forward the subjoined Report of the operations carried out yesterday against the Rebels in the Kurwania Sota by the Force under my command.

Agreeably with your orders, based upon information brought to you, during the night, I proceeded early yesterday morning to Khulkulla (12 miles) and thence moved, with the Detachments marginally noted, to Khoodawah (distance 6 miles) on the left bank of the Raptee.

16 Sabres of 4th Oude Police Cavalry,
and
160 of the 2nd Regiment Jezailchees.

As I reached Khoodawah from the Westward, Lieutenant Stewart, Adjutant of 5th Punjaub Infantry, with a Force as per margin, joined me by the direct road from this Camp.

20 Sabres of 1st Punjab Cavalry,
and
120 of 5th Punjab Infantry, (Rifles.)

The junction having been thus happily effected at 7-30 A. M., and it being probable that the Rebel force was still in the place where the spy had seen it on the 12th instant, I determined upon advancing at once to the attack.

The enemy were reported to consist of fifty Cavalry and from four to five hundred Sepoys, all under the Command of "Collector" Khooda Buksh Khan,* and were said to be encamped in the bed of the Kurwania Sota, immediately under the hills which separate the Sonar Valley from the Plains of the Raptee.

* Assisted by General Shere Khan.

The distance from Khoodawah to the Kurwania Sota is 6 miles, the path leading the entire way through dense jungle.

We advanced in the order given in the margin, having a small Advanced Guard and flanking parties from the 5th Punjaub Infantry.

120 of 5th Punjaub Infantry.
160 of 2nd Jezailchees.
26 of 1st Punjaub Cavalry.
16 of 4th Oude Police Cavalry.

After advancing half a mile through the jungle, we met twelve Rebel Sowars who at once turned and fled towards the Kurwania Sota. The Advanced Guard fired, but without killing any of the Rebels.

It being evident that the Sowars whom we had just seen would give the alarm to the enemy, and it being most necessary that I should obtain early information as to the movements of the Rebels, I ordered up half the Cavalry from the rear, and sent them ahead under Native Commandant Meer Jaffir Khan, of the 2nd Jezailchees, with orders however to the latter not to commit himself in any unequal fight with the enemy.

When we had arrived within two miles of the Kurwania Sota, one of our Sowars brought back a report from Meer Jaffir Khan, urging the rapid advance of the Infantry, and stating that the enemy had fallen in to the sound of the bugle, and appeared inclined to show fight.

Continuing our advance as rapidly as possible, we soon reached our advanced Cavalry; and looking over an intervening rise in the ground, I perceived a body of Rebels collected in a flat basin of the Sota, to the number of fully four hundred men.

Allowing a few moments for the Infantry to collect under cover of the rising ground, I detached twenty men of the 9th Cavalry, 5th Punjaub Infantry to the right, and as many to the left, to crown the hills on either side of our advance, so as to prevent any small bodies of the enemy from getting round our flanks.

The 8th Company 5th Punjaub Infantry, and No. 10 Company 2nd Jezailchees were ordered to move steadily forward in reserve, whilst I attacked with No. 9 Company of 5th Punjaub Infantry, and No. 9 Company of the Jezailchees.

These preliminary arrangements were speedily effected, and we at once moved over the brow of the rise to the attack.

The enemy gave us a heavy volley of musketry as we showed ourselves over the intervening rise; and then, not liking the confident rush nor the wild joyous shouts of our men, they commenced a rapid retreat, but at first in good order, towards Sonar.

The pursuit was at once pressed with all speed, and many of the Rebels soon sought protection in the intricate nullahs to the right and left. They were however everywhere followed up by parties of our Infantry and destroyed in all directions. In one small ravine on the right no less than twenty-one Rebels were killed. At the same time the central pursuit was carried on with unremitting vigor, all ranks vying with each other to overtake the flying enemy. On this central path alone I counted forty-four dead Rebels, and the slaughter was also heavy on our left.

After continuing the pursuit for 3 miles over most difficult ground, I found that the enemy was utterly dispersed; and, as the heat and their exertions were telling on our men, and we were going farther and farther from water, I stopped the pursuit. You will be glad to know that our loss consisted of but one man killed and two wounded, whilst I can safely put down the enemy's loss at certainly over 80, and the general impression is that 100 would be nearer the mark.

After giving the men a short rest in the Kurwania Sota, I marched back to Khoodawah, where the men ate their dinners.

From Khoodawah we proceeded to Bhajpoor (3½ miles) where the Column separated, the Police Cavalry and the Jezailchees returning to Khulla, and the Punjaub Cavalry and Infantry coming to this Camp, which they reached at 9 P. M.

The gallantry and exertions of all under my Command merit my warmest thanks, and I am especially indebted to Lieutenant Stewart for the great assistance which he rendered to me throughout the day.

All behaved admirably, and I cannot, without injustice to the rest, particularize the forward gallantry of individuals.

During the day the Troops from Khulkulla marched 35 miles, and those from this Camp 48 miles, and much of this under a more than usually hot sun.

I may here mention that the Rebels killed were all either Officers or Sepoys, and that they were all armed (i. e. the Sepoys) with percussion muskets.

Amongst the slain are two Subadars, one Jemadar, and two "Captain Sahebs."

I have this morning heard that those Rebels who escaped from yesterday's fight have fled beyond Sonar into Dang, and I conceive that they are not likely to give us any more trouble in this direction.

I have, &c.,

FROM BRIGADIER F. ROWCROFT,
Commanding Goruckpore District,
TO MAJOR H. W. NORMAN,
Offg Adjutant General of the Army,
Army Head Quarters.
Goruckpore, 14th May 1859.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to transmit, for submission to His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, the accompanying Report, dated Camp Bhanpore, the 27th ultimo from Major J. Murray, Commanding Jât Horse, and the Troops at Doomureeagunge on the River Raptee.

2. From the information I had received, I was apprehensive that the Rebels would push from the borders of Oude Eastward, between Doomureeagunge and Bhanpore Thannah. I therefore immediately ordered Major Murray, with a Detachment from Lotun, to move and take post at Doomureeagunge, where he arrived on the 24th April, and I reinforced him with a party of 100 men of the 9th and 20th Punjaub Infantry from Bustee, and on the 26th idem, Major Murray came across the body of Rebels, some 1,500 strong, still called the Nusseerabad Brigade, and though they were very superior in numbers, he immediately most gallantly attacked them, defeating and routing them with considerable loss, driving them Westward, to the borders of Oude, over the Koanee River, as detailed in his Report.

3. I would beg to recommend to the particular notice of His Excellency Lord Clyde, the zeal, gallantry and steadiness of the Officers and Men in this action under the immediate Command of Major Murray.

Camp Bhanpore, the 27th April 1859

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to report for the information of Brigadier Rowcroft, C B., that I marched from Bhowaneegunge Bazar with the Force, as per margin, yesterday morning skirting the jungle on the left bank of the Khoanee Nuddee, with the intention of co-operating with Captain Renny's Column, in an attack on the Nusseerabad Brigade and other Rebels concealed in the heavy jungle on the right bank of the river. On reaching Sunkerpore, it was reported that a foraging party of Rebel Sowars were plundering the adjacent villages. I immediately detached a Troop of Jât Horse, under Ensign Hennessy who killed seven Sepoys mounted on horses and ponies, a few others escaping into the jungle which was close at hand.

At 1 o'Clock my videttes reported that the Rebels had crossed the Khoanee Nuddee, and were marching down in great numbers on my Camp. I at once advanced and found them drawn up in a very formidable position, their centre division in a village, supported by a Column of Infantry in rear, at least 1000 strong, with Divisions of Cavalry and Infantry about 800 yards on either flank, and a dense jungle immediately in their rear and flanks; the whole under the Command of Gunga Singh and Dabee Deen. The Infantry were dressed in Khakee and manœuvred with much precision, throwing out skirmishers, &c.

After reconnoitreing, I feigned a retreat, in the hope of drawing them away from the jungle, to enable my Cavalry to act, but this movement not having the desired effect, I determined upon an attack, and formed the Infantry into two divisions, covered by a line of skirmishers, with Cavalry on either flank and 25 Sabres in reserve.

The enemy opened a heavy fire from their three Divisions as I advanced, and at the same time made a bold attempt to turn my right flank, which was promptly checked by the Cavalry under Ensign Hennessy. When within 50 yards of the village, the skirmishers gallantly led by Lieutenant Sadlier, 20th Punjab Infantry, carried the place with a rush, on which a panic seized the main body, who fled precipitately into the jungle. Their Right Division was at the same time dispersed by the Cavalry and a Company of Infantry on our left. I immediately pursued with all my Infantry driving them across the river, and only desisted, when from the thickness of the jungle, and their having fled in three different directions, all traces of them had disappeared.

It is impossible to form anything like a correct estimate of their loss, as they suffered most in the pursuit, but it must have been considerable. Many threw away their arms and ammunition, and 20 men and several horses were drowned in re-crossing the river. I am glad to say our loss was only 20th Punjab Infantry, 3 men wounded.

Jât Horse, 1 Horse killed and 2 wounded.

I am particularly indebted to Lieutenant Currie, Second in Command 20th Punjaub Infantry, for his able management of the Infantry, and my best thanks are also due to Lieutenant Sadlier, and Ensign Hennessy, the two other Officers in the Field, for their good and gallant services.

I cannot speak too highly of the steadiness and bravery of my small Detachment, all young Soldiers, and who were opposed to a disciplined force at least five times their number and holding a very strong position.

There are now no Rebels in this side the Khoanee Nuddee.

FROM MAJOR J. J. MURRAY,
Comdg. Jât Horse Yeo. Regt., and Troops at Doomureeagunge,

TO MAJOR MORGAN,
Major of Brigade,
Goruckpore

Camp Doomureeagunge, 3rd May 1859

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to report, for the information of Brigadier Rowcroft, C. B., that, on the 29th ultimo, when my Force was encamped at Bhowaneegunge, Subadar Narain Singh, Commanding the Military Police at this place, received information that a party of Rebels were crossing the Raptee at Gowra Ghat, 6 miles East of this. He at once started with 50 Military Police Infantry (Sikhs) and 4 Sowars of my Regiment, and pushing on ahead with the Sowars caught up the Rebels, 32 in number, mostly armed with muskets, making for the Sunkurpore jungle. The Subadar followed, and, in a measure, kept them in check with the Sowars, when, fortunately, the Infantry came up, and a skirmish ensued, which resulted in the death of 10 Rebels. The rest managed to escape into the jungle.

A Sikh had his arm fractured with a musket shot, and a Sowar, Kullian Singh by name, of the 4th Troop of my Regiment, who was on vidette duty near the jungle, on seeing the Rebels approach, charged them single-handed, and, I regret to say, was shot in the head, his horse being also wounded. He is in a very precarious state, but, having lived so long, may possibly recover. I feel it my duty to bring him to the Brigadier's notice, as such an act of bravery appears to me to be deserving of the Order of Merit. The Subadar also reports favorably of Nadan Singh Naick, who killed 2 men. The Subadar deserves much praise, and, I believe this is not the first occasion of his having distinguished himself since he came here. He frequently called upon the Rebels to throw down their arms and be pardoned, but they replied that "they would sooner die."

They had come from the neighbourhood of Towleewa, intending to join the Nusscerabad Brigade.

I have, &c.,

From W. P. Palmer, Esq., Civil Auditor, Fort William, to C. H. Lushington, Esq., Secretary to the Government of India, Financial Department,—(No. 1537, dated 20th May 1859.)

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to request you will be good enough to submit the following case for the consideration and order of His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General in Council, to remove doubts which may arise, and especially when there exist no definite rules for guidance.

2. An Officer is permitted to resign the Service and obtains the usual preparatory leave to reach the port of embarkation, drawing half salary for that period, but before the completion of the regulated time he reaches the port and embarks for Europe.

3. The question to be determined relates to the stoppage of his half salary, whether it shall continue to be paid up to the date of his being admitted to annuity or only to that of his embarkation, in virtue of the usual certificate of the Pilot's leaving the Vessel in which he may be a passenger. In case of Furlough or Medical leave, the preparatory leave terminates from the date on which an Officer reports his departure from India, and his allowance for that period ceases from that date, differing from the recorded practice of this Office in cases of retirement from the Service, when Officers continue to draw a portion of their Indian allowance for some time after they have left India. I would propose that, for any interval between a retiring Officer's embarkation and the 1st of May, the date from which Annuities commence, that he should be permitted to draw only the regulated subsistence allowances of his rank, in lieu of half pay, which seems anomalous, and should this arrangement meet with approval and sanction, the Officers who are acting, or who may be permanently appointed to the post vacated by returning Officers will draw the full salary of that office from the date of the former Officer's embarkation.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT, RESOLUTION.

THE Governor General in Council is of opinion that the practice that prevails in the Office of the Civil Auditor at Fort William, of considering Officers of the Civil Service who obtain preparatory leave to reach the port of embarkation previous to resigning the Service, and who embark for Europe before the full period of such leave has expired, as being entitled to be treated as on leave subsequent to the date from which their departure from the port of embarkation is reckoned, is wrong. Preparatory leave, His Excellency in Council observes, is intended merely to give time for an Officer to prepare to embark, and it is no more than fair towards the Officer who is to succeed to the appointment about to be vacated by the Officer intending to resign the Service, that the preparatory leave granted to the latter Officer should, as in cases of Furlough and leave on Medical Certificate, be held to expire on the date from which his departure from the port of embarkation is reckoned.

No. 869 of 1859.—His Excellency the Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following report from the Major General Commanding the Oude Division of an Action with a body of Rebels at the Jerwah Pass on the 21st May 1859.

No. 239.

FROM MAJOR GENERAL J. HOPE GRANT,
Commanding Oudh Division,

TO THE ADJUTANT GENERAL OF THE ARMY.
Camp Ruttenpore, 24th May 1859.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to report, for the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, that Colonel Pinckney's move into Nepaul, having had the desired effect of driving the Rebels under the Nana, Bala Rao, and Mummoo Khan into the jungles in the North-East of Oudh, I broke up my Camp at Burgudwa, at midnight on the 20th and 21st instant; and arrived soon after sun-rise at the jungle covering the entrance to the Jerwah Pass, with Lieutenant-Colonel Walker's Field Force, as per margin.

2 Squadrons 2nd Dragoon Guards, Major Hutchinson, Commanding.
2 Guns, 14 Field Battery Royal Artillery, Lieutenant Smith, Commanding.
The 7th Punjab Infantry, Captain Stafford, Commanding.
Wing of Ferozepore Regiment, Lieutenant-Colonel Brasyer, Commanding.

Staff.

Lieutenant R. Biddulph, Deputy Assistant Adjutant General.
Major Wolseley, Deputy Assistant Quarter-Master General.
Major Wilmot, Deputy Judge Advocate General.
Cornet Torrens, Acting Aide-de-Camp.
Captain Haig, Sub-Assistant Commissary General.

I there received information that the Nana and Bala Rao with 2 Guns and 2,000 men were at the mouth of the Pass; and Mummoo Khan with 500 Followers a little to the West, on the same ground where I met Bala Rao's Force on the 4th of January last.

I therefore ordered the Cavalry and Artillery to encamp and sent Colonel Brasyer with the Wing of the Regiment of Ferozepore against Mummoo Khan's party, whilst I myself moved on the Jerwah Pass with the 7th Punjaub Infantry. The Rebel Infantry I found occupying the spurs of the mountain stretching into the jungle, on either side of the mouth of the Pass, whilst their 2 Guns, which were thus completely protected, opened fire from the gorge of the Pass.

I therefore sent a Company of the Sikhs under Lieutenants Gordon and Lewes, to climb up the hills to the left, and drive away their Infantry from their right flank; this Detachment advanced accordingly, driving back the Rebels until they reached the summit of the ridge.

The remainder of the Regiment, under Captain Stafford, cleared the right, but owing to the extreme heat, and the Troops having marched about 20 miles, we were unable to inflict any great loss on the Rebels. We killed about 50 of them, and took their 2 Guns and 32 prisoners.

Lieutenant-Colonel Brasyer in his advance met with no opposition, the party under Mummoo Khan dispersing in the hills and jungle upon his approach. The Regiment of Ferozepore were too tired to pursue, having made a forced march of nearly 30 miles to join me, which they did a few hours before we left Burgudwa.

I received every assistance from Lieutenant-Colonel Walker, 2nd Dragoon Guards, and the Officers Commanding the Corps engaged, as before mentioned; also from the Officers of my Staff, one of whom, Cornet Torrens, Acting Aide-de-Camp, was slightly wounded.

Major Bruce, C. B., Chief of Police, who has accompanied me since I left Lucknow, has kept me accurately informed of the movements of the Rebels.

I yesterday proceeded to Ghururbeer at the top of the first range of hills. The Pass is of a most difficult nature, and the last mile and a half is up a steep precipice. I found that I could not cross even my small force of Infantry, under six days; and I therefore abandoned the idea of crossing the hills.

We found several Rebels in the Pass in a dying state, unable to cross over from wounds or starvation; also Camels and Bullocks abandoned, and an Elephant and several Camels dead, showing the difficulties the Rebels must have had in crossing even in their disorganized state, without baggage or supplies.

Seven Camels were brought back by the Force, and an Elephant was captured on the 21st.

From intelligence since received, the Rebels have not yet ceased their flight, and they are now said to be crossing the second range, so that I consider there is no probability of their attempting to re-enter Oudh this season.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) J. HOPE GRANT, Major-Genl.,

THE 18TH JUNE 1859.

THE following Act, passed by the Legislative Council of India, received the assent of the Right Honorable the Governor General this day, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT No. XVI OF 1859.

An Act to explain Act XXX of 1858 (to provide for the administration of the Estate and for the payment of the debts of the late Nabob of the Carnatic.)

Preamble.

WHEREAS doubts have arisen whether certain debts contracted by Prince Azeem Jah Bahadoor during the infancy of the late Nabob of the Carnatic were debts or claims within the meaning of Section XIV or any subsequent Section of Act XXX of 1858; and whereas it is expedient to remove such doubts as well as other doubts which exist as to the power of the Supreme Court of Judicature at Madras to award costs in investigations under Section XXII of the said Act, and as to whether cases so investigated are appealable to Her Majesty in Council; It is declared and enacted as follows :—

Debts contracted by Prince Azeem Jah Bahadoor during the minority of the Nabob.

I. No debt contracted by the said Prince Azeem Jah Bahadoor during the minority of the said late Nabob shall be deemed a debt or claim within the meaning of the said Section XIV or any subsequent Section of the said Act, unless it shall be proved that it was necessary and proper that such debt should be incurred on behalf or for the use of the said Nabob, and that the same was so contracted; or unless the Governor in Council of Fort Saint George shall dispense with such proof.

Power to award costs.

II. Upon any investigation under Section XXII of the said Act, it shall be lawful for the Court, except as otherwise provided by the said Act, to award costs to either party and to cause the same to be levied in the same manner as costs in an ordinary suit.

Appeal to the Queen in Council.

III. It is hereby declared that it was not the intention of the said Act to exclude from appeal to Her Majesty in Council any awards orders or decisions of the said Supreme Court made upon any investigation under Section XXII as aforesaid.

W. MORGAN,
Clerk of the Council.

THE 18TH JUNE 1859.

THE following Bill was read a second time in the Legislative Council of India on the 18th June 1859, and was referred to a Select Committee who are to report thereon after the 22nd of August next :—

A Bill to empower Sessions Judges to pass sentence in certain cases without reference to the Sudder Court.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to empower Sessions Judges in the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal to pass sentence in certain trials without reference to the Nizamut Adawlut; and whereas it is likewise expedient to remove the restriction now imposed by law upon Sessions Judges in regard to the minimum of punishment which they are competent to inflict in cases of perjury and certain cases of forgery described in Clause 2 Section IX Regulation XVII. 1817: It is enacted as follows :—

Laws repealed and modified.

I. Clause 3 Section VI. and Clause 3 Section IX Regulation XVII. 1817 of the Bengal Code are hereby repealed; and Section IX of the same Regulation, and Section IV Regulation VI. 1832 of the same Code are hereby modified.

II. When a person is convicted of the crime of rape, if the circumstances of the case shall not appear to call for a more severe punishment than imprisonment for seven years with labor in irons, the Sessions Judge before whom the trial is held shall himself pass sentence.

Sentence by Sessions Judge in case of conviction of rape.

III. When a person is convicted in a trial held under the provisions of Regulation VI. 1832, of a crime declared by a precedent of the Nizamut Adawlut to be a penal offence, if the circumstances of the case shall not appear to call for a more severe punishment than seven years' imprisonment with labor in irons, the Sessions Judge before whom the trial is held shall himself pass sentence. If, however, the crime of which the person has been convicted has not been declared to be a penal offence by a precedent of the Nizamut Adawlut, the Sessions Judge shall not proceed to pass sentence, but shall refer the case for the consideration of the Nizamut Adawlut, stating at length in the proceedings the opinion of the punchayet, assessors, or jury, and his own opinion, as to the crime proved, and the nature and extent of the punishment which should be awarded.

Sentence by Sessions Judge in case of conviction of a crime declared by the Sudder Court to be a penal offence.

IV. When a person is convicted of the crime of perjury or subornation of perjury or of forgery or of procuring forgery, as defined and made punishable by Regulations II. 1807 and XVII. 1817 of the Bengal Code, the Sessions Judge shall pass such sentence on the offender as he may consider adequate to the offence in reference to the particular circumstances of the case; provided that he shall in no case exceed the limit of the powers vested in him by Clause 2 Section IX of the Regulation last mentioned.

Sentence by Sessions Judge in case of conviction of perjury or forgery.

V. If in any case coming under the provisions of this Act, the Sessions Judge shall consider the sentence which he is empowered to pass inadequate to the guilt of the prisoner, he shall refer the case, with his sentiments, for the sentence of the Nizamut Adawlut in conformity to Section VI Act XXXI of 1841, which is hereby declared applicable to such cases.

Sessions Judge may refer a case to the Sudder Court.

W. MORGAN,

No. 882 of 1859.—The under-mentioned Officer is permitted to proceed to Europe, on leave of absence, on Sick Certificate :—

Lieutenant Henry Loftus Alexander Tottenham, of the 67th Regiment Native Infantry, attached to the Kemaoon Battalion ..	For eighteen months.

Fort William, the 20th June 1859.

No. 883 of 1859.—His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General of India in Council calls the attention of the English Soldiers of Her Majesty's Indian Forces to this General Order.

On entering the Service of the East India Company, every Soldier was attested in the following manner :—

Among the "Questions to be put separately "by the Justice to a Recruit on enlisting," was this one.

8. "Are you willing to be attested to serve "in the East India Company's (Infantry, Cavalry or Artillery, as the case might be,) "for the term "of * * * * *, provided the said Company should "so long require your services, and also for "such further term, not exceeding two years, as "shall be directed by the Commanding Officer on "any Foreign Station."

He then made the following declaration before the Justice on attestation :

"I ——— do declare, that the above questions "have been separately put to me ; that the answers thereto have been read over to me ; and "that they are the same that I gave, and "are true."

He then took the following oath :

"I ——— do make oath, that I will be faithful "and bear true allegiance to Her Majesty, Her "Heirs and Successors, and that I will, as in duty "bound, honestly and faithfully defend Her "Majesty, Her Heirs and Successors, in Person, "Crown, and Dignity, against all Enemies, and "will observe and obey all orders of Her Majesty, "Her Heirs and Successors, and of the Generals "and Officers set over me."

"And that I also will be true to the said "Company, and will duly observe and obey all "their orders, and the orders of their Generals "and Officers who shall be lawfully set over me."

The First part of the oath is not a mere oath of allegiance, but an oath both of allegiance and of Military Service. It is not an oath taken by Civilians ; for when a Civilian takes an oath of allegiance, he swears that he will be faithful and bear true allegiance to the Queen, and nothing more. But it is precisely the same oath as that under which every Soldier of Her Majesty's Service, enlisted in England and elsewhere, engages to serve in the Royal Army, and it is the only Oath administered to a Recruit on attestation for Her Majesty's Service.

The Second part of the oath binds the Soldier to serve the East India Company faithfully, and to obey orders, precisely in the same terms as those in which in the first part of the oath he has sworn to serve the Queen.

Every man who took this oath bound himself to serve the Crown as well as the Company, but with a clear understanding that he was to serve in India only, and exclusively in the British Forces of the Company, as distinct from the ordinary Service of the Crown.

It having been deemed expedient by the Legislature of the United Kingdom that the East India Company should cease to administer the Government of India in trust for the Crown, an Act of Parliament was passed on the 2nd of August 1858, "For the better Government of India"—The Act of the 21st and 22nd Victoria, Chapter 106.

Of this Statute, the Fifty-sixth Section enacted as follows :—

"The Military and Naval Forces of the East "India Company shall be deemed to be the In-"dian Military and Naval Forces of Her Majesty, "and shall be under the same obligations to serve "Her Majesty as they would have been under "to serve the said Company, and shall be liable "to serve within the same territorial limits only, "for the same terms only, and be entitled to the "like Pay, Pensions, Allowances and privileges, "and the like advantages as regards Promotion "and otherwise, as if they had continued in the "Service of the said Company : such Forces, and "all persons hereafter enlisting in or entering "the same, shall continue and be subject to all "Acts of Parliament, Laws of the Governor "General of India in Council, and Articles of "War, and all other Laws, Regulations and Pro-"visions, relating to the East India Company's "Military and Naval Forces respectively, as if "Her Majesty's Indian Military and Naval "Forces respectively had throughout such Acts, "Laws, Articles, Regulations and Provisions "been mentioned or referred to, instead of such "Forces of the said Company ; and the pay and "expenses of and incident to Her Majesty's "Indian Military and Naval Forces shall be "defrayed out of the Revenues of India."

Under this Section of the Act, the Forces of the East India Company are not transferred to the Crown, so as to place them on the same footing as Her Majesty's Troops of the Line, but the most careful provision is made to preserve inviolate the terms of Service under which the men enlisted, so that no man shall be required to serve out of India, nor in any British Regiments other than those which composed the Army of the Company, and that the Pay, Pension, and all other rights and privileges heretofore enjoyed by them in the Service of the Company, shall continue in every respect to be enjoyed by them.

The sole change made by the Act of Parliament is in the designation of the Troops. It is enacted that they shall be deemed to be "the Indian Military Forces of Her Majesty."

The Service is precisely what it was before; its local limits, its peculiar advantages, its entire distinctness from the ordinary Service of the Crown, are exactly what they have heretofore been. But the Forces which bore the name of the Hon'ble East India Company's Forces, so long as that Company administered the Government of India in trust for the Queen, have now the honor of being known as the Indian Forces of the Queen herself.

Some portion however of these Troops, shortly after the Act of Parliament came into force, came forward to claim a bounty or their discharge, on the ground that they had been transferred without their consent from the Service of the Company to the Service of the Crown, as to a different Service from that into which they enlisted.

This claim received all proper consideration where it was becomingly made; it was submitted by the Government of India to Her Majesty's Government; it was the subject of careful deliberation, and it was pronounced inadmissible by the Law Advisers and Ministers of the Crown.

The bulk of the English Soldiers of Her Majesty's Indian Forces is composed of men who well represent those who, during the Administration of the Company have shed their blood side by side with the Royal Troops serving in India, to establish the supremacy of the British power, and to sustain the glory of England; and many amongst them have by their valour and discipline during the last two eventful years rendered invaluable service in the repression and punishment of mutiny and rebellion. The Viceroy and Governor General in Council has placed reliance on the loyalty and good sense of the great body of these men, and he has looked confidently to their setting a good example to their younger comrades. He has not been disappointed.

But a strong feeling prevails among some, chiefly the younger Soldiers, that they have not been dealt with justly, and some have been guilty of acts of disobedience and misconduct.

These were quickly put down. Afterwards, by order of the Right Hon'ble the Commander-in-Chief, Courts of Enquiry were opened, before which the men were called upon to make their representations, and to state unreservedly the grounds of their claims. The proceedings of these Courts are now before the Government.

The Government is satisfied that the objections of the men are founded, in the case of many of them, on an honest conviction that their rights have been overlooked. This conviction has been strengthened by the expression of opinions from high Authority in England, which naturally have had a powerful effect on the minds of the men. It has been put forward by the men for the most part in a soldier-like and respectful manner, after the first excitement had passed away, consequently upon the orders and warnings of the Commander-in-Chief.

Such being the case, and it being the desire of the Government of India that there should not be even an appearance of injustice done to any Soldier, His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General of India in Council has determined, with the full concurrence of the Right Hon'ble the Commander-in-Chief, that every Non-Commissioned Officer and Soldier in the three Presidencies who enlisted for the East India Company's Forces, shall, if he desire it, be allowed to take his discharge, under the provisions of the Act for limiting the time of service in the Army,* which directs that Soldiers taking their discharge shall be conveyed to England and there finally discharged; and that in the mean while they shall continue to be subject to the Mutiny Act and Articles of War.

* 10th and 11th Victoria, chap. 37.

Each man will be duly paid up and settled with to the date of his embarkation; from which date, according to the Regulations of the Local Forces, pay will cease.

The representations of the men, as recorded by the Courts of Enquiry assembled for this purpose at Meerut and other Stations, will be transmitted for the consideration of Her Majesty's Government. But the Viceroy and Governor General in Council distinctly announces, that he is not authorized to hold out any hope that the Government of Her Majesty will recede from the decision to which it has already come, in regard to re-enlistment and bounty.

The offer of discharge now determined upon, will be made under arrangements to be ordered by the Commanders-in-Chief respectively at the three Presidencies; and the decision of every man who elects to remain in the Service, is to be entered in the Regimental Records, and will be considered final.

Men accepting their discharge under this order, will not be permitted to enlist into any Regiment in India, whether of the Line or of Her Majesty's Indian Forces. They will be sent to the Port of embarkation, under the orders of their Excellencies the Commanders-in-Chief in Bengal, Madras and Bombay, and will be provided with passage to England.

No. 884 of 1859.—Circumstances having recently come to the knowledge of His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General in Council, which show that the 5th European Regiment, stationed at Berhampore, has conducted itself in a manner which leads him to doubt whether the privilege conferred by the General Order No. 883, of this day's date, can properly be extended to that Corps, His Excellency in Council has determined that the 5th European Regiment shall be excluded from the operation of the said Order, until enquiry shall have been made into its conduct, and a report received thereon.

THE 18TH JUNE 1859.

ACT No. XVI OF 1859.

An Act to explain Act XXX of 1858 (to provide for the administration of the Estate and for the payment of the debts of the late Nabob of the Carnatic.)

Preamble.

WHEREAS doubts have arisen whether certain debts contracted by Prince Azeem Jah Bahadoor during the infancy of the late Nabob of the Carnatic were debts or claims within the meaning of Section XIV or any subsequent Section of Act XXX of 1858; and whereas it is expedient to remove such doubts as well as other doubts which exist as to the power of the Supreme Court of Judicature at Madras to award costs in investigations under Section XXII of the said Act, and as to whether cases so investigated are appealable to Her Majesty in Council; It is declared and enacted as follows :—

Debts contracted by Prince Azeem Jah Bahadoor during the minority of the Nabob.

I. No debt contracted by the said Prince Azeem Jah Bahadoor during the minority of the said late Nabob shall be deemed a debt or claim within the meaning of the said Section XIV or any subsequent Section of the said Act, unless it shall be proved that it was necessary and proper that such debt should be incurred on behalf or for the use of the said Nabob, and that the same was so contracted; or unless the Governor in Council of Fort Saint George shall dispense with such proof.

Power to award costs.

II. Upon any investigation under Section XXII of the said Act, it shall be lawful for the Court, except as otherwise provided by the said Act, to award costs to either party and to cause the same to be levied in the same manner as costs in an ordinary suit.

Appeal to the Queen in Council.

III. It is hereby declared that it was not the intention of the said Act to exclude from appeal to Her Majesty in Council any awards orders or decisions of the said Supreme Court made upon any investigation under Section XXII as aforesaid.

W. MORGAN,
Clerk of the Council.

THE 18TH JUNE 1859.

THE following Bill was read a second time in the Legislative Council of India on the 18th June 1859, and was referred to a Select Committee who are to report thereon after the 22nd of August next :—

A Bill to empower Sessions Judges to pass sentence in certain cases without reference to the Sudder Court.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to empower Sessions Judges in the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal to pass sentence in certain trials without reference to the Nizamut Adawlut; and whereas it is likewise expedient to remove the restriction now imposed by law upon Sessions Judges in regard to the minimum of punishment which they are competent to inflict in cases of perjury and certain cases of forgery described in Clause 2 Section IX Regulation XVII. 1817: It is enacted as follows :—

Laws repealed and modified.

I. Clause 3 Section VI. and Clause 3 Section IX Regulation XVII. 1817 of the Bengal Code are hereby repealed; and Section IX of the same Regulation, and Section IV Regulation VI. 1832 of the same Code are hereby modified.

II. When a person is convicted of the crime of rape, if the circumstances of the case shall not appear to call for a more severe punishment than imprisonment for seven years with labor in irons, the Sessions Judge before whom the trial is held shall himself pass sentence.

Sentence by Sessions Judge in case of conviction of rape.

III. When a person is convicted in a trial held under the provisions of Regulation VI. 1832, of a crime declared by a precedent of the Nizamut Adawlut to be a penal offence, if the circumstances of the case shall not appear to call for a more severe punishment than seven years' imprisonment with labor in irons, the Sessions Judge before whom the trial is held shall himself pass sentence. If, however, the crime of which the person has been convicted has not been declared to be a penal offence by a precedent of the Nizamut Adawlut, the Sessions Judge shall not proceed to pass sentence, but shall refer the case for the consideration of the Nizamut Adawlut, stating at length in the proceedings the opinion of the punchayet, assessors, or jury, and his own opinion, as to the crime proved, and the nature and extent of the punishment which should be awarded.

Sentence by Sessions Judge in case of conviction of a crime declared by the Sudder Court to be a penal offence.

IV. When a person is convicted of the crime of perjury or subornation of perjury or of forgery or of procuring forgery, as defined and made punishable by Regulations II. 1807 and XVII. 1817 of the Bengal Code, the Sessions Judge shall pass such sentence on the offender as he may consider adequate to the offence in reference to the particular circumstances of the case; provided that he shall in no case exceed the limit of the powers vested in him by Clause 2 Section IX of the Regulation last mentioned.

Sentence by Sessions Judge in case of conviction of perjury or forgery.

V. If in any case coming under the provisions of this Act, the Sessions Judge shall consider the sentence which he is empowered to pass inadequate to the guilt of the prisoner, he shall refer the case, with his sentiments, for the sentence of the Nizamut Adawlut in conformity to Section VI Act XXXI of 1841, which is hereby declared applicable to such cases.

Sessions Judge may refer a case to the Sudder Court.

W. MORGAN,

Legislative Council of India.

THE 18TH JUNE 1859.

THE following Bill was read a second time in the Legislative Council of India on the 18th June 1859, and was referred to a Select Committee who are to report thereon after the 22nd of August next:—

A Bill to empower Sessions Judges to pass sentence in certain cases without reference to the Sudder Court.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to empower Sessions Judges in the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal to pass sentence in certain trials without reference to the Nizamut Adawlut; and whereas it is likewise expedient to remove the restriction now imposed by law upon Sessions Judges in regard to the minimum of punishment which they are competent to inflict in cases of perjury and certain cases of forgery described in Clause 2 Section IX Regulation XVII. 1817: It is enacted as follows:—

Laws repealed and modified.

I. Clause 3 Section VI. and Clause 3 Section IX Regulation XVII. 1817 of the Bengal Code are hereby repealed; and Section IX of the same Regulation, and Section IV Regulation VI. 1832 of the same Code are hereby modified.

Sentence by Sessions Judge in case of conviction of rape.

II. When a person is convicted of the crime of rape, if the circumstances of the case shall not appear to call for a more severe punishment than imprisonment for seven years with labor in irons, the Sessions Judge before whom the trial is held shall himself pass sentence.

Sentence by Sessions Judge in case of conviction of a crime declared by the Sudder Court to be a penal offence.

III. When a person is convicted in a trial held under the provisions of Regulation VI. 1832, of a crime declared by a precedent of the Nizamut Adawlut to be a penal offence, if the circumstances of the case shall not appear to call for a more severe punishment than seven years' imprisonment with labor in irons, the Sessions Judge before whom the trial is held shall himself pass sentence. If, however, the crime of which the person has been convicted has not been declared to be a penal offence by a precedent of the Nizamut Adawlut, the Sessions Judge shall not proceed to pass sentence, but shall refer the case for the consideration of the Nizamut Adawlut, stating at length in the proceedings the opinion of the punchayet, assessors, or jury, and his own opinion, as to the crime proved, and the nature and extent of the punishment which should be awarded.

Sentence by Sessions Judge in case of conviction of perjury or forgery.

IV. When a person is convicted of the crime of perjury or subornation of perjury or of forgery or of procuring forgery, as defined and made punishable by Regulations II. 1807 and XVII. 1817 of the Bengal Code, the Sessions Judge shall pass such sentence on the offender as he may consider adequate to the offence in reference to the particular circumstances of the case; provided that he shall in no case exceed the limit of the powers vested in him by Clause 2 Section IX of the Regulation last mentioned.

Sessions Judge may refer a case to the Sudder Court.

V. If in any case coming under the provisions of this Act, the Sessions Judge shall consider the sentence which he is empowered to pass inadequate to the guilt of the prisoner, he shall refer the case, with his sentiments, for the sentence of the Nizamut Adawlut in conformity to Section VI Act XXXI of 1841, which is hereby declared applicable to such cases.
